ECONOMIES ORDERED

Hoover Launches Saving Drive

Cabinet Told to Get Along on $4,203,254,457 and Leave Surplus

Retrenchment Not to Cut Program for Aid of Unemployment

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 18. (Exclusive)—Vigorous retrenchment on the part of all departments and bureaus was ordered today by President Hoover with the view of saving some of the money appropriated to run the government this year as a "nest egg" against reduced Treasury receipts and the possible deficit threatened by existing economic depression.

The President announced that Cabinet officers and the heads of the independent agencies of the government had launched a "searching inquiry" reaching into every nook and cranny of the administrative branch, to ferret out new economies which might be practiced so that the government may go through the year with the expenditure of less money than the $4,203,254,457 estimated in the budget and provided by Congress.

CABINET TOPIC

"I am confident," he said, "that we will find measures for very considerable reductions of actual outlays below the amounts appropriated."

He added that any new economies placed in effect will not interfere with the program of expanding public construction to aid unemployment.

President Hoover said that plans for holding actual expenditures down below the budget figures was the main topic of discussion at today's Cabinet meeting and the indications aside from his formal statement were that at the meeting he made it very clear that finding ways and means of lowering outlays to meet a possible emergency is what he expects his official family to devote themselves to primarily in the immediate future.

HOOVER STATEMENT

His statement follows:

"The Cabinet meeting today was largely devoted to a consideration of the fiscal situation of the government as the result of the appropriations made by the last Congress. The budget for the present fiscal year beginning the 1st of July has been increased by about [illegible] above the actual expenditures for the past fiscal year. The largest increases are for speeding up of buildings, inland waterways and public works generally, in order to assist in unemployment, together with the increased relief of veterans.

"There has been some confusion as to the amount of increased expenditures imposed by the last Congress by the mistaken inclusion of authorized programs which extend over many years, such as public buildings, roads and rivers and harbors, and only in a small part fall on each annual budget. Also many comparisons of Federal ex-

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 18. [To the Editor of The Times:] I got a great scheme for universal peace for this United States of Europe that Briand is forming in Europe with twenty nations in it, to be run like our forty-eight States are. Well, here is the scheme; have them adopt prohibition and that will start 'em all arguing over it so much that it will get their minds off war. You can't fight and argue prohibition. You are useless for anything else on earth.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P.S.—And if this friendship of nations works over there, let's put Arizona and California in it; we can't get 'em to work with our bunch.

WIND FIEND RUNS WILD

Hundreds Perish in Typhoon

Southern Part of Japan and Korea Swept by Fierce Death-Dealing Gust

Immense Damage Done But Crippled Wires Prevent Details of Horrors

TOKIO, July 18. (AP)—Swirling out of the Pacific typhoon nest a wind and rainstorm of cyclonic proportions slashed its way today across the Loochoo Islands and Kiushiu, in Southern Japan, and then swept unabated northwestward across Korea, leaving widespread death and damage in its wake.

Ships were smashed and sunk, houses collapsed and landslides were caused by the gale and downpour that ripped across the Korea Strait at 100 miles an hour. One report says a village of 300 on Kiushiu Island has been buried in a landslide loosened by the rain. The Governor of Nagasaki Prefecture said many ships in Nagasaki Harbor had capsized with an undetermined number of casualties. Several bodies were recovered after the storm passed.

PANIC CAUSED

A Rengo dispatch from Fusan, important Korean seaport, said the storm struck there at noon, crushing buildings and causing a panic, continuing inland undiminished.

Even tonight, hours after the peak of the typhoon passed, only fragmentary reports are available from the stricken regions, due to dis-

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—Golden B. Lay, 23 years of age, workman on a building under construction here, was killed today when he lost his footing on the sixth floor and plunged to the Van Ness avenue sidewalk. His brother, Earl Lay, foreman of construction, witnessed the accident.

HEAT BEGINS NEW SIEGE

Records Fall in Middle West

Chicago Seared as Mercury Reaches 100 Deg. and Breeze Fails

Higher Temperatures Grip Other Areas, With Corn Crop Periled

CHICAGO, July 18. (Exclusive)—Heat resumed the offensive throughout the Middle West today, and before nightfall record-breaking high temperatures were reported from numerous points.

Chicago itself, despite proximity to Lake Michigan, recorded 100 deg., a rare figure for this city. Absence of a lake breeze brought about stifling conditions. Several prostrations were reported, but no fatalities up to late tonight.

Striking an average between the 98.8 deg. of heat registered at the University of Chicago observatory and 104.6 deg. recorded by the official thermometer at municipal airport, the forecaster, C. A. Donnel, computed the temperature of the city at large as about 100 deg. In the sixty-two years the Weather Bureau has kept books this mark has been exceeded only six times.

OTHER SECTIONS SUFFER

Temperatures in Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska were, as usual in heat waves, considerably higher than Chicago's. The government thermometer at Omaha broke all July records with 106 deg. Beatrice, Neb., sweltered under a heat blanket which shot the mercury to 110. At Lincoln, the Nebraska capital, the maximum was 108 at 3 p.m.

With the reading at 102 in the vicinity of Canton, Ill., farmers faced severe damage to the corn crop, now parching under the longest drought in twenty-five years.

KANSAS MARKS HIGH

Kansas temperatures included Hutchinson, 108; Newton and Salina, 105; Dodge City, 104; Topeka, 103; Phillipsburg, 113; Emporia, 109.

In Missouri, Kansas City reported 102 deg.; Jefferson City, 103; Marshall, 104, and St. Louis, 100.

Oklahoma City reported a mark of 99 deg., within 1 deg. of the season's high record. An unofficial mark of 95 deg. was set in Dallas, Tex.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT FOR PARCHED FARM AREAS

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—Streams fell lower and crops grew drier today while the lands of a score of States parched harder in the grip of a month's long drought, the end of which could not be foreseen tonight by the United States Weather Bureau.

Spreading east from the Rocky Mountains, the drought was described by weather experts as gripping its hardest in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland and Virginia. Statistics just compiled show it the worst ever recorded in these States, having extended in most cases over the past eight months.

Although complete forty-year records were not available for other States, the dry spell was said to be almost as severe throughout Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas, while parts of Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Texas and Oklahoma grew drier hourly with no relief in sight.

J. B. Kincer, chief of the Weather Bureau's division of agricultural meteorology, said today that only 64 per cent of normal rainfall had been experienced throughout Ohio, while other drought-clutched States have been in an even worse plight.

In Kentucky from March 1 to June 1, he said, there has been only 50 per cent of normal rainfall, while over a seven months' period starting with December, Virginia has had only 65 per cent and West Virginia only 66 per cent.

Census Shows Maryland and Virginia Gains

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—Populations of two more States were announced today as follows:

Virginia, 2,418,075; increase 108,888, or 4.7 per cent.

MERE MAN HIDES IN CLOUDS

New Exclusive Luncheon Club Perches in Top of Chrysler Building to Escape Modern Woman

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—The mere male at last has found a retreat where the merry modern woman cannot plant her heels—but he's had to go up sixty-six stories to do it. The Cloud Club, one of the most expensive and exclusive luncheon clubs in the world, has opened its doors on the three top floors of the sixty-eight-story Chrysler Building—and no wife, mother or sweetheart is going to put her foot in there.

Only one woman is allowed within its portals. She is Miss Josephine Riley, the petite brunette telephone operator whose first and foremost business is enforcement of the primary rule of the club.

Membership of the organization includes the names of Vanderbilt, Firestone, Whitney and Chrysler; its view embraces two rivers, a harbor, and distant mountain peaks; and its food, furnishings and knickknacks are the most unobtrusively expensive that can be found. Even a cigar costs $2.

There's a barber chair on the sixty-seventh floor that commands a striking view, a Roman bath lined with mosaic tiles, a library and a taproom designed in the likeness of an old English tavern—with a soft-drink bar.

Nine private dining-rooms are equipped for private parties. The club doors are open only during the luncheon hours.

The cost of membership? That's a secret.

TIDELANDS OIL DRILLING BAN UPHELD

State Surveyor Justified by Supreme Court Ruling in Refusing Permits

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—Refusal of the State Surveyor to issue a permit to J. R. Kelley, Santa Barbara, to prospect for oil on tidelands along the Santa Barbara coast was upheld today by the State Supreme Court, which held the lands in question, although submerged, are within the boundaries of the Elwood oil field.

State Surveyor Kingsbury denied the permit under terms of the Mineral Leasing Act, which gives him the power to fix boundaries of various geologic formations and oil fields. Kelley contended the tidelands were not within the Elwood field. He had asked the court for a writ of mandate to compel issuance of the permit. This was refused, as was the petition of T. G. Kennedy, who had sought to prospect for oil in the same area.

MEXICO CITY, July 18. (AP)—L. M. Lawson, American member of the International Boundary Commission, said today he will accept an appointment as special commissioner on the International Waters Commission offered him by the State Department.

As soon as he has completed his present work with the boundary commission, he will begin studying the data assembled by the waters commission.

R. C. Cowdy, Denver, chief engineer of the railroad, said a rail length had been removed from the track.

PYTHON HAS LAKE TOWN TERRORIZED

Armed Residents Aided by Officers Hunt Snake That Escaped from Exhibit

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) July 18. (AP) Two hundred residents of the Lakeside community of Sea Breeze, reinforced by police and deputy sheriffs, today were searching for a twenty-foot, 200-pound Indian python which escaped last night from the reptile exhibit of Edward Hayes.

Warned by Hayes that the snake, said to be one of the largest in captivity, though not poisonous, is capable of strangling a strong man in its constricting coils, none but those armed with firearms was permitted to join the searching party. Women and children were warned to stay indoors.

Peter (Rattlesnake Pete) Gruber, nationally known reptile expert, is at the head of the searchers.

The estate of Feist was estimated at about $1,000,000.

(AP)—The captain of the North German Lloyd steamer Targis, whose passengers and crew were rescued in mid-Atlantic when she was on fire, returned to his vessel today to inspect the damage, said a radio message received from the Rangitata, the British motor vessel which effected the rescue.

The Rangitata stood by as the captain of the Targis made the inspection.

REDS TELL OF GIGANTIC ARMS PLAN

Seventeen Million to be Engaged in Military and Air Activities in Russia

MOSCOW, July 18. (AP)—Soviet Russia expects to have 17,000,000 of its citizens engaged in some form of military and aviation activity by October 1, 1933, under a new five-year plan for aerial and chemical defense announced today by the Volunteer Defense Society.

About 4,500,000 persons, the announcement continues, will receive military preparation and 2,000,000 will be given rifle drill. In all 6,000,000 persons will be instructed in aerial and chemical defense.

There will be 25,000 scientists engaged in research work in every branch of aerial and chemical warfare. Women are not to be forgotten, and 5,500,000 laboring women will be given courses in elementary military science, gas warfare and Red Cross nursing.

It is estimated that 130,000,000 rubles will be spent on these plans by the Volunteer Defense Society, which says that by 1933 it will have forty-three aerial clubs, scores of schools of aviation, hundreds of airplanes, thousands of gliders and a great number of airdromes.

DECISION ON NORRIS REVERSED

Nebraska Chief Justice Bars Name of Senator's Rival from Ballot

LINCOLN (Neb.) July 18. (AP)—Chief Justice Goss of the Nebraska Supreme Court tonight ruled the name of George W. Norris, Broken Bow grocer, should not appear on the Republican primary ballot as a candidate for the United States Senatorial nomination in opposition to Senator George W. Norris of McCook.

The Chief Justice reversed the decision of Secretary of State Marsh, who had accepted the name of the Broken Bow man on the August 12 primary ballot.

Under the ruling of Marsh, announced yesterday, the name George W. Norris would have appeared twice on the ballot for the Republican Senatorial nomination. The Secretary of State ruled the filing received by mail at his office the 5th inst. bearing postmarks of the 3rd inst. was legal, notwithstanding the time limit expired at midnight the 3rd inst.

SENATE NAVAL PACT GRIND SWINGS INTO NIGHT HOURS

Debate Goes on in Evening Session as Treaty Advocates Determine to Exhaust Debate by Foes

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—The Senate went into its first night session tonight with treaty advocates determined to exhaust debate by opponents of the London naval treaty, who refused finally today to enter any agreement for a limitation of discussion.

There were fewer than a dozen Senators counted in the opposition fold who still have speeches to deliver, but estimates as to when a vote will be reached range from tomorrow night to next Tuesday.

The contest seemed to have narrowed down to an endurance test with the foes hoping to out-talk the patience of the overwhelming majority favoring the pact.

Two quorum calls tonight showed a margin above the necessary members and there seemed to be no doubt the patient majority intends to sit it out for a show-down.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, leader of the opposition, gave notice as he began his second speech of the day, just when the lights were going on for the night session, that "you have the power but, by the heavens, you have got to use it to the full before this document can be ratified."

CLOTURE WITHHELD

Friends of the treaty have threatened to use the cloture rule, which shuts off debate, but they have decided to withhold this move to permit an exhaustion of legitimate debate. Several already have charged a filibuster against the treaty, but the opposition has denied this.

Senator Hale of Maine, however, consumed time tonight by reading the 1928 Armistice Day speech of President Coolidge. Senator Johnson made two speeches, one this afternoon and one tonight. Senator Oddie spoke for two hours, and Senator Copeland held the floor for two hours at dinner time, reading a speech barely audible to anyone in the chamber.

Meeting at 11 a.m. today, the Senate left the continuation of the debate entirely up to the treaty opponents. They were forced to carry on until recess was taken at 11 p.m. until 11 a.m. tomorrow, when another twelve-hour session is planned.

Senators Moses, Republican, New Hampshire and Johnson, led the attack against the treaty today with more than sixty on hand to wait it out with the voluble foes.

Moses attacked President Hoover and Secretary Stimson, head of the American delegation to London, complaining against their refusal to give the Senate all correspondence relating to the London parley.

AFFRONT CHARGED

"I cannot but feel," he said, "that he (the President) and his Secretary of State have seriously affronted the representatives of the American people as found in the Senate of the United States, where is lodged an equal and coeval power when arranging relations of this country with the nations of the world."

Before the session started the band of opponents conferred over the situation created yesterday, when Senate leaders threatened to adopt the cloture rule shutting off debate unless an agreement was entered.

Word came out of the meeting that "no surrender" will be made but some treaty foes predicted the end of the contest was not far ahead. These insisted no filibuster will be made.

DECISION ACCEPTED

Senate leaders accepted the decision and replied they would keep the Senate in session tonight. Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, said "we will give every opportunity for discussion and we don't want to use the cloture, for that is just what they want." He added "they want to cry 'gag.'"

However, Watson insisted there are enough votes in the Senate to adopt cloture if necessary.

Johnson heatedly denied in debate with Senator Smooth, Republican, Utah, that any filibuster exists against the treaty and he asserted every syllable he has uttered in the discussion has been pertinent to the subject.

When Johnson challenged him to get into the debate the Utahan declined on the ground he did not want to join "this filibuster."

Johnson concluded with the assertion, "Any man who stands here gagged and bound and doesn't dare to discuss this treaty isn't fit to sit in the Senate."

Johnson introduced another reservation—one to permit the United

Undercover Men to Testify Before House Group at Secret Session

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—The special House Communist investigating committee today received from former Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen photostatic copies of documents asserted to show soviet Russia, through the Amtorg Trading Company, a commercial agency handling Russian business in the United States, is attempting to foment industrial revolution in this country.

He said he can demonstrate the authenticity of the documents, which Amtorg representatives have branded forgeries. The Amtorg side of the case is to be heard next week.

SECRECY PLEDGED

At Whalen's request the committee agreed to hear at a secret session testimony of undercover men on the authenticity of the literature, which, he said, had been in the files of the Amtorg company. In order to protect the undercover men and their families from harm by the Communists, Whalen said, the hearing must be secret.

Whalen asserted many Communist leaders had criminal records. Their avowed purpose, he said, is to overthrow the government by violence.

DEPORTATION URGED

He recommended rigid deportation laws, registration and fingerprinting of all aliens, a Federal agency to handle all propaganda and compulsory teaching of American history in all schools.

If legislation could be enacted to deport about 500 of the Communist leaders, he said, he believed it would be the end of the movement here.

Discussing the copies of Communist documents he said were taken from the Amtorg files, he said the originals had been sent back to Moscow.

S. Stanwood Menken, president and chairman of the board of the National Security League, urged deportation laws be enacted to oust Communists, and appealed for an educational campaign among school children to counteract the Moscow influence.

ANCIENT VISITS NEW WORLD

Kurd, 156 Years of Age, Reaches New York City; May Buy Set of False Teeth

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Zaro Agha, whose passport indicates he is 156 years of age, settled himself luxuriously in a Park-avenue hotel tonight and prepared to enjoy the advantages, esthetic, scientific and economic, of this young western world.

Agha landed today at Providence, R. I., from Turkey and announced he is here to see and be seen—by any American scientists who may care to pay for the privilege of observing a man who asserts he never tasted alcohol in his life, outlived eleven wives, became a father for the thirty-sixth time at the age of 96, and grew a third set of teeth when he was 105. (That's his story and he's sticking to it.)

There was some slight difficulty about his being admitted to this youthful republic whose birth, he says, took place after his. Agha, it developed, could not pass the literacy test. Although he speaks three languages, he can neither read nor write in any of them.

But Agha explained to immigration inspectors at Providence that he is really a Kurd. And the Kurds, he said, have no written language. So, after he had repeated in Kurdish some Mohammedan prayers, had conversed in Turkish with a government interpreter, and had indicated he also understands French, they let him in.

One of Agha's chief claims to distinction, apart from his years and his marital career, is that set of teeth which he says he produced at the age of 105. But they're all gone now, having lasted only fifteen years, he says, and so while he is here and not occupied with letting the doctors pay him instead of his paying the doctors, he thinks he may buy himself a set of false teeth.

Agha came accompanied by his great-great-grandson, a handsome young man named Ahmet Musa,

GRAPE BOARD READY TO ACT

Organization Completed at Bay City Meeting

Result of Final Efforts to Sign Growers Awaited

Auditors Report Sufficient Acreage Still Lacking

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—The California Grape Control Board, created to administer the disposal of the grape and rasin surplus under the Federal Farm Board's relief plan for the grape industry, met here today to complete its organization to be ready to function should the sign-up of grape acreage be found to have succeeded.

Whether the board will function depends upon results of final tabulations now being made in Fresno to determine whether 85 per cent of the State's total grape acreage has been signed, the minimum to make the plan operative.

The board, meeting at the request of C. C. Teague, California member of the Farm Board, approved an application of the San Joaquin Grower-Shipper Association and took action to amend the articles of incorporation and by-laws to provide for two directors to the association and two directors to the California raisin pool. Thus amended, the articles will provide for twenty-one directors, twenty supplied by the corporations and one representing the Federal Farm Board.

A policy of keeping the administrative personnel at a minimum and curtailing all overhead expenses was announced. It was indicated the board will avail itself of the existing agencies in the field for the performance of most of its purchase and surplus control operations.

Resignations of H. W. Wrightson, representing the California Vineyardists' Association, and James A. Bariotti, representing Fruit Industries, Inc., were accepted and Joseph I. Di Giorgio and Lee Jones elected to the directorate to fill the vacancies.

LEADERS STILL HOPEFUL OF DRIVE'S SUCCESS

FRESNO, July 18. (Exclusive)—Still hopeful that the tide will turn and 85 per cent of the grape and raisin tonnage of the State can be signed under Federal relief, leaders of the industry kept up their post-campaign efforts today spurred on by announcement from the auditors that results so far showed the acreage below the necessary percentage.

Final figures in the audit are not expected to be reached by the Farm Board committee before Monday.

Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, one of the participating agencies, wired from Washington that he was convinced that the Farm Board would not accept any percentage of the crop under the announced 85 per cent total, while Wylie M. Giffen, chairman of the campaign committee, said that this had always been the understanding as the campaign was predicated on signing 85 per cent of the vineyardists in order to insure crop control and allow disposal of surplus.

Giffen spent the day in the field directing the work of the "save-the-day clubs" which are seeking the acreage declared necessary to insure success.

De Forest Will Move Interests to Hollywood

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Dr. Lee De Forest plans to move his General Talking Pictures Corporation to Hollywood by January 1 and devote his time to laboratory work on devices used in the motion-picture industry, television and ultra short-wave radio.

Dr. De Forest, president of the Institute of Radio Engineers, is the inventor of the first three-element vacuum tube.

He believes the ultra short-wave field will produce some of the greatest scientific advances.

States to build up to its tonnage limit in cruisers with either eight-inch guns or six-inch guns without regard to the categories established by the treaty.

FURTHER RESERVATIONS

Senator Johnson also introduced the following reservation tonight:

"Nothing contained in this treaty shall be so construed as to require the United States of America to depart from its traditional policy of not intruding upon, interfering with, or entangling itself in the political questions of policy or internal administration of any foreign state; nor shall anything contained in the said treaty be construed to imply the relinquishment by the United States of America of its traditional attitude toward purely American questions."

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, who has been counted among the supporters of the treaty, spoke for more than an hour during the night. He complained the treaty calls for $1,000,000,000 more in ship construction.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, one of the delegates to London, was drawn into the debate by this remark. He said the treaty does require that construction to reach parity with Great Britain, but said the cost of parity will be much greater if the treaty is not ratified.

ADMIRAL TAKARABE TO RESIGN OVER TREATY

NEW YORK, July 19. (Saturday) (AP)—A Tokio dispatch to the New York Times today said the correspondent of that paper had learned that Admiral Takarabe, Minister of the Navy, intends to resign his post when the London naval treaty has been acted on finally.

The Times correspondent thought it possible he might be forced out of office before then. The Minister is represented as feeling his post has become untenable as a consequence of the controversy which has been waged in naval circles over the London treaty.

Borah Reveals He's Under Care of Physician

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—Senator Borah returned to the Senate chamber today after undergoing a physical examination yesterday at Johns Hopkins University Hospital in Baltimore.

He disclosed he had been under the care of a physician for some time, although attending regularly to his work and taking charge of the London naval treaty in the Senate as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The Idahoan will return to the hospital tomorrow for completion of the examination and to obtain a report from the physicians.

penditures include the postoffice outlays. It has always been the practice to include only the postoffice deficit. Otherwise, real comparisons would be destroyed by the variations in postoffice operations.

INCREASE 5 PER CENT

"Including the estimated postal deficit, the total budget estimates of expenditures for the present fiscal year are $4,203,254,457, as compared with actual expenditures for the last fiscal year of $3,994,152,487, or an increase of $209,010,970, being an increase of 5 per cent.

"The discussion today was directed to measures for reduction of expenditures below these estimates with a view to meeting possible reduction of revenue arising from slack times. The Cabinet members and heads of independent agencies have undertaken a searching inquiry into every branch of the government as to methods by which economies may be brought about for the present fiscal year without interfering in the program of unemployment.

"I am confident that we will find measures for very considerable reductions of outlay below the amounts appropriated. What the amount may be cannot be determined until we have completed our investigation."

IN WARFIELD'S ILLNESS BELASCO FORGETS ROW

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—The serious illness of David Warfield, from which the 63-year-old character actor is recovering, has been the means of healing a breach of long standing between Warfield and David Belasco.

Some years ago, the actor, whose portrayal of "The Music Master," took Broadway by storm, and the white-haired producer, who staged many of his plays, came to a parting of the ways. Broadway understood the two, who had worked so many years together, no longer spoke to each other.

Then Warfield underwent an operation in April and his condition was reported as critical. David Belasco hurried to a florist and on to the telegraph office. Flowers and messages, expressing hope for his recovery, reached Warfield's bedside. Back came a friendly message from the actor in return.

Warfield is "getting along famously," it was said today. He now is allowed to see his friends and expects to return to his home next week from the hospital where he has been a patient for three months.

INDIAN COTTON MILLS CLOSING

Forty Thousand Workers to be Unemployed

Unprecedented Carryover of Jute Expected

Eight Rioters Killed and Seventy Arrested

BOMBAY (India) July 18. (AP)—Disastrous effect of the political crisis on India's economic condition today was shown by announcement that fourteen more cotton mills here will close down August 1, throwing 40,000 workers out of employment.

D. P. Kaithan of the Indian Chamber of Commerce announced by the end of next June there will be a carryover of an unprecedented number of bales of jute in Calcutta alone.

Curtailment of mill production and the critical condition of the jute industry abroad were the determining factors in the slump. He said the only real remedy is early settlement of the political question.

The only disorder of any magnitude reported today was in Calcutta, where seventeen girl picketers, mostly students, were arrested as they were patrolling the gates of Bethune College for Girls.

A government announcement said eight rioters had been killed in the recent disturbances in Mymensingh and seventy arrests made.

TYPHOON TAKES IMMENSE TOLL

rupted communications and confusion. But the authorities have pieced these reports together and estimate the dead will run into the hundreds in Southern Japan and Korea. No definite estimate of damage is possible, but it is considered the worst typhoon in forty years.

Electric light plants on Kiushiu Island were put out of commission and the people are without lights and newspapers tonight.

Aside from Korean towns, whence reports are lacking, it is believed the cities of Nagasaki, Kagoshima, Fukuoka, Kokura, Kumamoto, Omuta and Moji bore the brunt of the storm.

TRAINS CAN'T RUN

Radio messages from Fukuoka said eight injured persons have been placed in a hospital there. Many others are believed to have been injured in the school house, temple, museum and fishmarket. Many dwellings were blown down.

A train collision on the island was blamed on the typhoon. Twenty were injured in the wreck, ten seriously. Most of the trains are not running because landslides have covered the tracks.

Even Nagasaki's famous and beautiful hill-locked harbor was unable to protect smaller vessels. Three small steamers and fifty smaller craft, including motor boats and sampans sank inside the harbor. It is believed, however, a majority of their crews are safe ashore.

At this time of the year typhoons are not extraordinary in the Central Western Pacific. They usually originate slightly east of the Philippines and move north and west. They are rotary in motion over an area of sometimes 100 miles or more and move, thus rotating, at high rates of speed for hundreds of miles until dissipated by changes in temperature or other meteorological conditions.

and his patron, Assim Redvan, who imports American automobiles to Istanbul and is "angel" for the trip.

They were met by Calvin Harris, Agha's American manager, who said, "Since Agha really is an unofficial representative of the Turkish government on this trip, he must not be permitted to cheapen himself in any way."

Mr. Harris explained he has, therefore, turned down an offer of fifty-two weeks at $2500 a week from a syndicate which operates a flea circus in Times Square and a Boardwalk side show at Atlantic City, and so far has signed Agha for only two appearances before scientific organizations whose names he declines to reveal. He also is uncommunicative about the fees.

MARRIED TWELVE TIMES

Zaro Agha has been married twelve times and had thirty-six children, all of whom are dead except one daughter, who was born when he was 96. He has lost all track of the number of his grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great grandchildren.

"My first wife I married when I was 20," he said. "I always got along with all my wives very nicely.

"Of the descendants through my later wives, that I married since I moved to Constantinople 120 years ago, I have some record. I know that before the World War I had twenty-two great grandchildren living in Constantinople.

"But I was married first in the land of my birth in Asia Minor, and of my descendants there I know nothing."

For 112 years, until he was 135, Agha says he worked as a porter. His last job was in a piano factory, moving pianos, and in between times he was always going to war.

There was first a war against Napoleon, in Syria and Egypt, he said, and he fought in the Turkish army. Then there was the war with the Greeks—"Oh, more than 100 years ago, I can't remember dates"—and four wars with Russia, in the last of which he said he served as a volunteer at the age of 103.

"I was in the artillery," he explained, "and carried cannons on my shoulders."

Agha indignantly denied a report he had divorced his eleventh wife to marry the present Mme. Agha—"She's young, only 66"—who waits for him in Istanbul.

"Me? I never divorced any of my wives," he grunted. "I got along with them all, very nice, and they all died.

"Now, women—I always am interested in them. I like them brunette best, and plump."

He sighed and went on:

"In my youth I had a very good time. Yes, a very good time. How long did my youth last, you want to know; oh, until I was 103. I've been getting old since then, see?"

GUNMEN IN CAR SHOOT OFFICER

San Bernardino Policeman May Die of Wound

"Liquor Gang" Letter Lures Him to Battle Scene

Speeding Auto Chased Until Bullet Halts Pursuer

SAN BERNARDINO, July 18. (Exclusive)—Gangland machine-gun bullets early today felled and perhaps fatally wounded Charles W. Hunt, 32-year-old San Bernardino motorcycle officer, as he sped in hot pursuit of an automobile-load of men believed to be either rum-runners or hi-jackers. The burst of fire came in answer to a warning shot Hunt had sounded in an effort to stop the fleeing gang and sent him to the hospital with a leaden slug in the abdomen, which surgeons fear may cause his death.

An anonymous letter lured Hunt to the danger zone; but police have not yet decided whether it was a deliberate "plant" intended to accomplish what it did, or whether it was the means employed by one gang to set a revenge trap for another.

CHASE STARTS

Hunt found the letter under his door last night as he left to report for duty. It purported to be a confidential tip that rum-runners were about to set out on an expedition that would take them past a designated spot near Rialto, a suburb of this city. Prepared for any emergency that might arise, Hunt went to the isolated patch of country named in the note, and waited.

Shortly before daybreak, a large touring car came thundering down the road. Hunt stepped out and switched on his flashlight in command to the driver to stop. Ignoring the signal the car flashed by the officer and disappeared. Hunt leaped on his motorcycle and gave chase. A mile away he drew up within striking distance of the speeding car. The driver opened his throttle wider in a desperate effort to shake off his pursuer.

SHOTS FIRED

Then Hunt fired several shots in the air in swift succession, and the gangsters returned the fire. Some bullets of the spray spattered against the metal parts of Hunt's motorcycle, one shattered his headlight, and another struck the officer, toppling him from his mount to the roadside. A few minutes later passing motorists found the wounded man and rushed him to the hospital.

One theory held by the police is that rum-runners purposely baited Hunt to be at the spot and become their target on account of his recent activities against their operations; the other that rival gangs are locked in a deadly feud and that one devised the letter to bring about arrest of the other.

New Tariff Act Makes Necessary Protest Board

LAST-MAN CLUB REACHES GOAL

Civil War Group Victims of Sharpshooter Time

Remaining Member to Drink Toast to Fallen Ones

Forty-fifth Anniversary to End Organization

STILLWATER (Minn.) July 18. (NANA)—An organization started casually years ago by some young fellows who didn't realize what a tragic turn time may give to human events is about to have its affairs wound up with the utmost solemnity.

Charles M. Lockwood, now the sole survivor, will disband the Last Man Club. This will take place Monday on the forty-fifth anniversary of its founding. The ceremony will have its setting in Lowell Inn, which stands on the site of the historic Sawyer House in this city, where those young men first pledged their devotion in warlike vows.

LAST OF REGIMENT

Mr. Lockwood will read over the roll of those who have died during the last year—his cronies, John S. Goff of St. Paul and Peter Hall of Atwater. He may run over the list from its beginning. Then, from a bottle that once held sparkling Burgundy, he will drink a toast to those who have gone. The club will be no more. Its annals, running from Civil War days, will have their final chapter written.

It was on the night of April 16, 1861, that some forty young men who had been members of the Stillwater Guards had a dance in the old Sawyer House. Talk of war was in the air. They danced all night and then in the morning walked to Fort Snelling and enlisted. They were made members of Company B of the First Minnesota Regiment, which won fame in the Battle of Gettysburg.

They fought through the war and then after the conflict was over they were mustered out in this section.

CLUB'S FORMATION

For twenty years, from 1865 to 1885, they met annually at a wine supper. On July 21, 1885, they formed the Last Man Club. There were thirty-three on the roster then and later they added one more member, Lockwood, who now has outlived the rest of them.

"I think the boys got the idea of the Last Man Club from reading some story of French soldiers," he explained. "They used to have those wine suppers every year.

"Then, at one of these gatherings somebody suggested that they form the club. They put aside a bottle of wine to be drunk by the last surviving member in a toast to those who were dead.

CLUB DWINDLES

"Year by year the club has met. There were thirty-three at the start and then I joined as the thirty-fourth member. All of them but myself have passed away."

The passing of the old-timers has been a matter of considerable interest in recent years, their numbers narrowed down to a mere corporal's guard.

Last year the gathering of the Last Man Club was held in the Minnesota Club of St. Paul. Three of the veterans were present, John S. Goff of St. Paul, Peter Hall of Atwater, and Mr. Lockwood. Goff died the following month. Hall succumbed April 18 of this year and now only Lockwood remains—to carry out those melancholy rites.

GENE TUNNEY AND WIFE OUT OF SOCIAL REGISTER

NEW YORK, July 18. (Exclusive)—Not only is Gene Tunney out of the Social Register, but the name of Polly Lauder, his wife, has been dropped since she married the former heavyweight boxing champion, it was disclosed today.

Tunney's name never was included in the register itself, it was explained, in correction of a popular belief. His name was merely included in a supplement listing the names of Social Registerites who married and, of course, the persons they married. Now, it appears, even his wife has been dropped.

The Tunneys have illustrious company, however. It was recalled that the secret committee charged with the selection of names for the book dropped the name of Dorothy Benjamin after she married Enrico Caruso.

Others, the magazine pointed out, who have not achieved the distinction of the book are Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Henry Ford and Edsel Ford.

On the other hand, two previously unlisted young men not only found their wives' names retained in the register, but their own added after marriage. They are Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Antonio Moreno.

AMERICANS ABROAD AIR PEACE VIEWS

Three Congressmen Take Leading Part in Kellogg Pact Discussions

LONDON, July 18. (AP)—Three American Congressmen today took a prominent part in discussions of the Kellogg pact at the fifth session of the Interparliamentary Union conference. Representatives Hull of Chicago, La Guardia of New York, and French of Idaho put their views before the delegates, expressing the opinions of widely separated American constituencies.

The Chicagoan opened the discussion with the statement re-examination of the treaty is needed with a view to obtaining international co-operation to prevent war. He said war anywhere is the concern of all and that in such a community of interest there should be a logical community of effort to prevent war.

Representative La Guardia told the parliamentarians peace work cannot be left to professional diplomats, but must be undertaken by each citizen of every country.

The western Representative concluded the debate with a plea for action in guaranteeing world peace.

There were seventeen other speakers of all nationalities who put forth similar views.

GERMANS FACE NEW ELECTION

Reichstag Dissolved After Financial Show-down

Bruening's Cabinet to Rule During Campaign

Actions of Ministers Will be Subject to Revocation

BERLIN, July 18. (AP) — Political Germany was rolling up its sleeves tonight in preparation for another national election campaign after the Reichstag has been dissolved this morning when it attempted to thwart the program of financial reform submitted by the Bruening Cabinet.

Until the new elections, which will be held not later than September 14, Chancellor Bruening and his colleagues will govern the country under the emergency dictatorial powers conferred by Article XLVIII of the German constitution.

Bruening and his Finance Minister, Dr. Hermann Dietrich, will be free meanwhile to push through the measures they consider necessary for putting Germany's finances in order.

REVOCATIONS FACED

Their freedom of action will be limited, however, by the knowledge the new Reichstag will be able to revoke any interim decree it deems contrary to public interest.

The Reichstag, which was sent home this morning because it attempted to revoke the tax decrees promulgated the night before, comprised thirteen political parties.

Just how many parties will make up the new Parliament is anybody's guess. The birth of one new one, the German Conservative party, already has been announced. It will be formed under the leadership of Count Kuno Von Westarp, for many years German national floor leader, who bolted with his followers from Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, the intransigent Nationalist leader, today.

ELECTED IN 1928

The Reichstag, which was forcibly adjourned, was elected in May, 1928. Its dissolution adds one more to the unbroken line of post-war German parliaments which came to a premature end in a similar manner.

The constitution calls for new elections only once in four years. No Reichstag, however, since the founding of the republic, has been able to avoid dissolution before its normal termination.

Government by decree in times of profound peace is a new thing for republican Germany. While President Von Hindenburg has in a number of cases invoked the extraordinary powers of Article XLVIII, his actions were limited to the revocation of emergency measures from an earlier administration whose obsoleteness was obvious.

Tale of Finding Poison Widow Proves False

JACKSON (Miss.) July 18. (AP)—County officials were convinced tonight the story told by a stranger to a county Sheriff that a prominent Harrison county widow is Belle Gunness, who years ago poisoned fifteen or more husbands on her farm near Laporte, Ind., is erroneous and the entire affair is a case of mistaken identity.

The Sheriff and his deputies learned she was visiting friends in Emporia, Ill. They learned also the widow is prominent in club and social affairs of Gulfport, where she has been known for thirteen years.

When her friends heard the story they became indignant and gave her history for the last forty-two years, dispelling all suspicion of any connection between the woman and Belle Gunness.

INQUIRY IN DRIFT BLAST UNDER WAY

Three Investigations Set Afoot After Recovery of Bodies of Victims

CAMP MITCHELL, July 18. (AP) The last charred and battered body of the twelve victims of yesterday's explosion in the Mitchell Ravine tunnel of the San Francisco municipal water project here, thirty miles southeast of Oakland, was removed late today and work of clearing up debris started.

The several investigations by Federal, State and municipal officials continued, all seeking to learn what caused the explosion, the second on the water project.

Meanwhile in San Francisco four men connected with the mining industry met and decided to ask Gov. Young to appoint a board of inquiry to investigate the disaster.

The conferees were Director Will J. French, State Department of Industrial Relations; Fred G. Stevenot, director, State Department of Natural Resources; Charles W. Merrill, chairman of State Mining Board; Walter W. Bradley, State Mineralogist, and Dean Frank H. Probert of the college of mining at the University of California.

WIND FOILS MAMER IN FAST HOP

Flyer Makes Round Trip Seattle to St. Paul, But Fails in Time Schedule

ST. PAUL, July 18. (AP)—Nick Mamer, Spokane pilot, tonight completed a round-trip flight from St. Paul to Seattle, Wash., and return, but failed to make it in the twenty-four-hour period he had set for the journey. He landed at 7:05 p.m., or twenty-four hours and twenty-five minutes after he left here.

Mamer left the St. Paul Municipal Airport at 6:40 p.m. central time yesterday and reached Seattle at 5:44 a.m. Pacific time after a stop at Miles City, Mont.

Without refueling, Mamer departed from Seattle on the return trip ten minutes later and reached Spokane at 7:42 a.m. After loading up with gasoline he left at 8:10 for Miles City, where he stopped at noon, mountain time.

Head winds held him back on the return flight. He had hoped for favorable tail winds on the eastward leg.

Saunders May Begin New Chain

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) July 18. (AP)—Clarence Saunders, chain-store magnate, said here today he "may" launch a project of a new type of chain, or "department store groceries," on the Pacific Coast.

Saunders, one of whose chains went into receivership Tuesday, said the new stores, if started, will carry notions, drug accessories, and "a bigger variety of everything."

Grange Appeal Told to Hoover

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, informed President Hoover today the Grange is urging farmers to give the Farm Board a chance to work out the agricultural problem.

"As soon as we can get business America and financial America to realize that commodity prices are at the bottom there will be an upturn," he said.

BILLINGS ASKS FOR REHEARING

High Court to Meet Monday to Consider Petition

Commission to Find New Evidence Requested

Plea Places Stress Upon MacDonald Phase

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—Warren K. Billings today asked justices of the California Supreme Court, acting as an advisory pardon board for Gov. Young, to reconsider their decision of the 4th inst. which led the Governor to deny him a pardon of conviction in the Preparedness parade bombing here in 1916.

The justices will meet here Monday and decide whether they will consider the petition.

Meanwhile John MacDonald, the witness whose identification of Billings and Thomas J. Mooney is largely responsible for the life prison sentences they are serving, is on his way from Baltimore to repudiate, before California officials, the testimony he gave here regarding the 1913 crime.

The Supreme Court justices in denying Billings's first pardon petition, held the petition itself prevented their going outside of the trial record.

That point was met in the new petition today, it being suggested the entire case be reopened, "without any suggestion of limitation on the powers of this court or the scope of the inquiry." A court commission to seek new evidence was suggested, and as early a hearing as possible was asked.

The petition took as its basis the assumption that Billings is "an innocent man wrongfully convicted through false and perjured evidence of certain witnesses," and asserted the law "gives no relief from perjury except through an application for a pardon." It also declared whatever guilt attached to Billings also attached to Mooney, that one could not be innocent and the other guilty.

Particular stress was laid in the petition upon photographs taken during the Preparedness parade and introduced at the Mooney-Billings trial as evidence, and upon the showing that MacDonald was encouraged to testify in the hope of receiving a large monetary reward, totaling $17,000.

Lengthy extracts from testimony of witnesses at the trial were included in the document, emphasizing divergencies between their testimony and that of MacDonald, to whom reference was made as "one lone, disreputable character," and the question asked:

"Is not there some way to convince the human mind that twenty witnesses and the photographs ought to be believed as against that one person?"

JERUSALEM PARLEY ON WALL FAILS

Moslems Agree to Let Jews Visit Shrine, But Deny Right of Prayer

JERUSALEM, July 18. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports a five-hour secret meeting between members of the Wailing Wall Commission and Jewish and Moslem representatives broke down today through refusal of Moslems to concede the Jews more than the mere right to visit the wall.

On the eve of adjournment of the commission's hearings, Chairman Eliol Loefgren of Sweden summoned both Jews and Moslems in an eleventh-hour attempt to settle the controverted questions about religious worship at the wall.

The Moslems refused to compromise, especially as regards the rights of the Jews to pray at the wall.

A similar failure resulted yesterday from a conference between Mr. Loefgren and friends of the Grand Mufti, who declined to promise in advance he and his associates would abide by the commission's recommendations.

Veterans Given Medical Leave

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—Disabled World War veterans employed under the civil service were permitted today in an executive order issued by President Hoover to take unlimited leave without pay to obtain medical treatment.

Under present regulations government employees are allowed one month sick leave and are subject to discharge for further absence. The order today also permits them to take treatment for their war injuries without penalty in efficiency rating.

POLICE LAUNCH SEARCH FOR INNOCENT FUGITIVE

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Police of New York and Chicago are engaged in a manhunt that is different.

If they find Joe Ferra, of Rosebank, Staten Island, they will assure him he has committed no crime and will urge him to go back to his family.

Ferra, a night watchman at a building in course of construction, was busy filling the little red danger lamps out in front one night when he heard a scream within. On the floor he found the crushed body of a young boy, who, sneaking into the building with his playmates, had fallen through the steel frame of the second floor.

Nobody accused Ferra, but that night he quit his job. For twelve days he stayed home debating with himself his responsibility and waiting for the police to come after him. Finally, on June 30, he kissed his family good-by and went to Chicago to escape the "disgrace."

His wife, fearful he might take his own life, asked police to send him home.

ANTHRACITE WAGE PEACE TO CONTINUE

Miners and Operators Reach New Agreement to Run for Five Years

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—A new wage and working agreement between the United Mine Workers of America and the anthracite operators was reached today. Peace, which has prevailed in the district among the two groups for more than four years, will continue for five more.

The new agreement, which must be ratified by the operators, the largest of which were represented at the conference, and the miners themselves, provides for no decrease in wages, a modified form of the check-off or collection of union dues by the operators, payments of miners by check and the establishment of a permanent committee of twelve men to "consider and discuss all questions arising under this contract relating to co-operation and efficiency and performance of the contract by the parties and the relations of the parties which either party may present for consideration and discussion."

Army and Navy Prepare Report on Meat Deals

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—A joint Army-Navy-Agriculture Department board met today to prepare reports explaining to President Hoover why the Army and Navy buy meat for soldiers and sailors in Hawaii, the Philippines and the Panama Canal Zone from packers outside the United States.

Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, called the attention of the President to the purchase of meat supplies from New Zealand, Australia and the Argentine, instead of from United States packers, to supply the Philippines, Hawaii and the Canal Zone.

The Navy's report, it was said today, will explain that under the present laws the Navy must buy its beef from the lowest bidder. United States packers who do not have sufficient refrigerating equipment to let them transport fresh meat to the Philippines and Hawaii often do not submit bids, and rarely the lowest.

VOLSTEAD INDICATES DRIVE ON MALT SALES

ST. PAUL, July 18. (AP)—A concerted drive on shops and stores that sell the specific kind of malt used for the manufacture of "home brew" will be made by prohibition forces in the northwest district, it was indicated today by Andrew J. Volstead, legal adviser of the district, and father of the prohibition enforcement act. The corner grocery store which sells this malt is likewise to come under the scrutiny of dry forces.

BRITISH ADVICE IRKS EGYPTIANS

Prime Minister Terms Note of Warning "Intervention"

Jeopardy of English Held "Internal" Matter

Sending of Warships Also Declared "Unnecessary"

ALEXANDRIA (Egypt) July 18. (AP)—Prime Minister Ismail Sidky Pasha of Egypt in an official note tonight accused the British government of having intervened in Egypt's sovereign affairs in connection with Tuesday's serious rioting here.

He objected to the tenor of a communication announced in the House of Commons Wednesday by Prime Minister MacDonald from Sir Percy Loraine, British High Commissioner in Egypt, in which Sidky Pasha was informed Great Britain "must hold him responsible for the protection of foreign lives and property in Egypt."

Commenting on the arrival today of two British warships, he said the re-establishment of order and tranquillity made their presence unnecessary.

Sidky Pasha said the British communication scarcely accorded with the neutrality Great Britain professed in Egyptian affairs.

Sir Percy had also been ordered to approach former Premier Nahas Pasha, Wafdist leader, whose followers have been held chiefly responsible for the riots.

Sidky Pasha responded to the assertion by Mr. MacDonald that "His Majesty's government did not intend to be used as an instrument for an attack on the Egyptian constitution," by declaring:

"This declaration would have been justified had the Egyptian government solicited the aid of the British government in that direction.

"But in the absence of such a request—which moreover will not be made because of Egypt's position as an independent state—the declaration cannot be interpreted as other than intervention, in a determined way, in affairs of an internal character which Great Britain in previous declarations has recognized as Egypt's sovereign prerogative."

GIANT STORAGE DAM PROPOSED

French Flats in Piru Canyon Selected for Site

Santa Clara Conservation District Plans It

Board Asks if New Ridge Route Would Interfere

VENTURA, July 18.—Proposed construction of a storage dam in French Flats in the Piru Canyon district came to light today as it became known that the Santa Clara River conservation district has asked engineers in charge of the reallocation of the Ridge Route if the new road would interfere with the proposed dam site.

The dam will be 150 feet high and nearly 800 feet across the Piru Creek gorge, County Engineer Charles W. Petit estimated. It will control the waters of Piru Creek and form a large lake in French Flats, Petit said. The site soon will be examined by a party of engineers for the Santa Clara River Conservation District, according to Verne Freeman, chief engineer of the district.

The proposed dam will not interfere with the road up Piru Canyon which has been proposed, Petit stated today. The Piru Road could pass over the dam at an elevation slightly higher than had been tentatively planned. Construction of the huge dam would only serve to make the road more necessary, Petit explained.

The country in which it is planned to build the dam is a rich watershed, and it is expected that with the completion of the project that section will become one of the scenic points in Ventura county.

While actual work on the project will not start immediately, plans for its construction have been looming for some time. Petit and Freeman both declined to estimate how much water would be stored in the reservoir, or how many acres the big lake would cover, but it is understood it will be one of the largest dams in this part of Southern California.

Historic Gage Ranch Menaced by Brush Fire

BELL, July 18.—The buildings and trees on the old historic Gage Ranch on Gage Road, a short distance east of this city, were threatened with destruction by flames yesterday afternoon. Fire Chief John Carroll of the local department was called but as this is outside of the city territory, the apparatus could not be sent out. The county department at Downey was notified, and with Chief Carroll, the county apparatus and a large group of Mexicans, they were soon on the scene fighting the flames which were confined to one-half of the five-acre tract. A small nursery of palm trees was damaged, the loss to this property being estimated at about $1000. It is believed that some careless smoker threw a butt of a cigarette or cigar into the dry vegetation causing the fire. The Gage Ranch was once the home of Henry T. Gage, who was a Governor of California at one time. The property now belongs to the Warman family.

Firemen Race Miles Chasing Grass Alarms

BURBANK, July 18.—Years ago the average fire department usually ran itself out of breath responding to chimney-flue fires. This is not the case now in Southern California, for the reason there are few flues. The Burbank department has just made its monthly report, showing it ran 893 miles within the period, chasing thirty-two grass fires that had been started by careless housewives burning back-yard rubbish and by cigarette smokers, along sidewalk and highway, who tossed their butts into the tall grass. In the aggregate, the report shows the firemen worked fifteen hours and forty-nine minutes in putting out these blazes. All the useless labor cost the local taxpayers $4187.78.

Princess Orsini's Sons Arrive at Pasadena Home

PASADENA, July 18.—Robert A. Rowan, Jr., 21 years of age, and his brother, Lewis, 13, sons of Princess Orsini of Italy, arrived here today from England, where they are Oxford students, for a brief sojourn at their mother's winter residence, at 1170 Hillside Road.

Princess Orsini, according to her sons, does not intend to come to this city for her annual visit this fall. She and Prince Orsini, a member of the Italian royal house, will remain in Rome, where the Prince is connected closely with the affairs of the Vatican.

The Princess is the widow of the late Robert A. Rowan, wealthy Los Angeles real-estate owner and developer.

TUJUNGA, July 18.—The first $1000 toward the establishment of the Flora Morgan Home for Old Ladies has been raised, and is now in the treasury, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Shaney announces. This sum, the amount necessary before incorporation, was raised in less than a year from the time the project was launched. An additional $1500 has been pledged for the endowment of three rooms.

PARROT BETTER MAN THAN THEY

American Legion Clubhouse Caretaker's Bird Proves He Can Outcuss and Outwit Fire and Police Forces in Attempts to Capture Him

ONTARIO, July 18.—A green parrot with a yellow head that screeched defiance and uncouth words at the entire fire and police departments was sought today by Hans Serritzlew, caretaker at the American Legion clubhouse. Serritzlew is owner of the parrot, or was owner, until it flew away from him after having received a cooling bath. All the city firemen and all the city policemen were called out but they couldn't get the bird back to Hans again.

Hans gave Polly a bath on the Legion clubhouse lawn, and the bird thereupon flew to the highest branches of a high tree. Hans served overseas, and consequently the bird knows overseas language, and the Legion men at the clubhouse helped out in the bird's education. Consequently, what the bird replied when Hans tried to coax it down from the tree wasn't so good. The neighborhood at least didn't think it was nice.

In despair, Hans called the fire department, and the firemen responded with a long line of hose. They turned the stream on the parrot, and promptly Polly flew to another tree and the firemen gave it up.

Later in the day, Hans spied his parrot in a tall eucalyptus tree far down south on Maitland street. The bird's language wasn't very choice in that neighborhood, either, and the police were called upon to help catch Polly. Members of the force were outwitted and outcussed and gave up the job.

About two hours later the same parrot landed on the roof of the combination fire hall and police station, and spoke its mind concerning the fire fighters and peace maintainers. Then it continued its flight. The latter are still looking for the bird.

FAIR PREMIUM BOOKS OUT

Los Angeles County Institution Mailing 30,000 of Booklets Cataloguing Its Prize Lists

POMONA, July 18.—In anticipation of the greatest entry list in the history of Los Angeles County Fair, a corps of workers is this week starting to mail out approximately 30,000 premium books to the prospective exhibitors. The lists are published in five separate books, describing live stock, agriculture, horticulture, poultry and pet stock, women's department and household arts, and Junior Fair. The household arts section also contains the fine arts.

Each of the fifteen or twenty departments into which the fair is divided has developed its own mailing list during the eight past seasons and adding new names each year the lists have now grown to include every State west of the Mississippi and occasional points on the east coast and in Canada, as well as in many foreign countries.

Besides naming the various classes in which entries may be made for displays, the books give a list of the awards, the judges who will make them and the rules and regulations governing the various departments.

At first these premium lists were published in one book, but the fair grew to such large proportions it was found necessary to print a book for each of the main sections of the fair.

INDIAN WINS AGAINST RED MAN IN SUIT

Cherokee Actress' Mate Gets $25,000 Damages for Wife's Hurts from Osage

LONG BEACH, July 18.—Robert Redwing, Cherokee Indian, was granted $25,000 damages for injuries to his wife, Rose Marie Redwing, pretty motion-picture actress of Hollywood, against Charles Moncravie, 60-year-old Osage Indian, in Superior Judge Arthur Keetch's court here this afternoon. The plaintiff had sued for $160,000.

The trial, which started Tuesday, is the outgrowth of a trip to Tia Juana made last February by Moncravie and the plaintiff's wife. Returning, they ran into the rear of a truck near San Clemente, Mrs. Redwing suffering injuries to her face, and these, with her physical condition, were adjudged sufficient to prevent her future acting before the camera.

Another suit, charging alienation of affections, in which Redwing is asking $150,000 from Moncravie, is pending.

Moncravie is reported to be wealthy as the result of income derived from oil holdings of the Osage tribe in Oklahoma.

Man Found in Box Car Dead Held Murdered

MEXICALI, July 18.—With a bullet wound in his side and his face crushed, the body of an American believed to be Albert Montague was found in an empty box car here early today. Mexican police who are investigating the tragedy believe that the man was murdered and the body thrown into the car later.

Letters in the man's clothing indicated that he had a brother, Robert Montague, residing at 549 Wall street, Los Angeles, and that he has a Mexican wife in Nogales. A hypodermic needle and eyedropper in the man's pocket led police to believe he was a narcotic user. Chief of Police Guy Echols of Calexico reported that he had seen the man along the border a number of times and that he had once been in Calexico's City Jail for a minor offense.

AIR MAIL SALVAGED

REDONDO BEACH, July 18.—A partially burned letter, one of the few pieces of mail matter salvaged from the New York - Chicago night air-mail plane which crashed and burned near Middleton, Ind., on the 2nd inst., was received by George Cochran of this place yesterday. Cochran, who is assistant to Secretary Tim Larson at the Elks' Club, has placed the missive with the club for exhibition.

Death Removes Valley of Roses Plan Originator

MONTROSE, July 18.—William I. Castanien, 75 years of age, one of the leading business men of La Crescenta Valley, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 3535 Verdugo Road, Sparr Heights, death being due to apoplexy. Castanien was found lying on the bathroom floor by his wife, when she sought him yesterday morning.

He had been a resident of the valley for five years and was regarded as the father of "The Valley of Roses" plan, spending much of his time in advocating the planting of roses in valley gardens. He was also active in fostering good roads projects designed to develop the valley and to provide better communication with adjoining communities.

Since coming to California twenty years ago from Ohio, Castanien had acquired extensive property holdings in Los Angeles and Santa Monica, and had also served as a director of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce. Funeral arrangements are yet to be announced.

PASTOR APPOINTED TO CHAIR IN COLLEGE

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 18.—Rev. Kelly O'Neall, pastor of the First Christian Church, has been appointed head of the chair of religion and biblical literature of the California Christian College of Los Angeles. Rev. O'Neall has been professor of philosophy in the college since 1928.

He will be associated in his work at the college with Cecil F. Cheverton, professor of the Old Testament; W. P. Bentley, professor of theology; W. S. Hertzog, professor of sociology, and Charles C. Chapman, teacher of the course, "The Church from the Layman's Viewpoint." Rev. O'Neall takes the place made vacant by the resignation of Shirley R. Shaw. He will continue as pastor of the local church.

HUGE MOTHS FOOL CATS

Super-sized Insects Invading Santa Barbara So Large as to Be Taken for Humming Birds by Felines; Appearance and Habits Both Similar

SANTA BARBARA, July 18.—Humming bird moths, white-lined Sphinx moths, or celerio lineata, as they are called, have invaded this city in unprecedented numbers. This big moth, as large as a small humming bird, and in appearance like a humming bird, previously had been so rare here that many residents of the city for twenty years saw this moth for the first time within the past few days. Entomologists and butterfly and moth collectors are at a loss to explain the great numbers of these moths here now.

These moths are upsetting precedent by flying and feeding like a humming bird through the day as well as at night. The big moth has a long bill or proboscis like a humming bird and hovers over flowers while it feeds with all the movements and grace that are characteristic of its double in the bird kingdom. Most persons observing the moth for the first time are sure that it is a new variety of humming bird come to this district. One motor-conscious inquirer called it a "sport model humming bird."

Even the cats are fooled; they are busy catching the big moths and have the habits of bringing their trophies home for the inspection of the family. They seem to be particularly proud of the catch, evidently believing they have caught a humming bird, no mean feat even for a smart cat. Since the moths are easier to catch early in the morning after a hard night of honey gathering, the cat usually shows up with its prize about daylight and if it is successful in waking anyone to view its conquest, usually is disappointed at its reception.

INDUSTRY TAKES UNUSUAL TOLL

Man Killed, One Fatally Burned, Six More Hurt

Casualties Occur at Long Beach Within Hour

Oil Plant Blast and Three Other Accidents Cause

LONG BEACH, July 18.—One man was killed, one is expected to die from burns, and six others are suffering from burns and injuries, as the result of four industrial accidents here, all within an hour's time, about noon today.

Howard B. Garrison, 26-year-old section foreman for the Pacific Electric, died in Seaside Hospital a half-hour after the hand-car, on which he and six Mexicans were riding crashed head-on with a San Pedro-bound Pacific Electric train near the west city limits. Garrison's skull was crushed. The Mexicans leaped to safety.

Horace Encinas, 26, is in a critical condition at Seaside Hospital with burns from head to foot, caused when gasoline fumes, presumably ignited by a friction spark, flared up in the canning plant of the Pan-Pacific Oil Company, Commercial street and Canal avenue. Jess Mungary, Ed Martinez and Stanley Middleton, fellow-employees, are in the same hospital less severely burned about the face and arms. W. R. Jones, driver for the Meldrum Transfer Company of this city, suffered minor burns to his arms, when he grabbed a fire extinguisher and attempted to control the fire. Spread of the blaze to other parts of the large plant, where hundreds of cans of gasoline and oil were stored for shipping, was prevented by the thick brick walls.

Edward Chambers, lineman for the Southern California Edison Company, fell from a pole at Seventh street and Orange avenue and Joe Morris, living at a harbor auto camp, fell from a pier under construction in the outer harbor, where he was employed by the Kubach Construction Company. Neither man was seriously injured.

MYSTERY IN BEACH DROWNING

Man Seen to Go Down in Newport Rip Tide Thought to be John W. Ford

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—R. R. Hodgkinson, Chief of Police, has opened an investigation into a tragedy which happened here yesterday with the apparent drowning of an unidentified person.

The clew upon which the police are working is that three persons reported to the life-saving department that they saw the arms of a bather go down into the surf at the foot of Fifteenth street.

Life guards under the direction of F. W. Crocker, searched and dragged the water in the vicinity for one and one-half hours in an effort to find the body, and searched the bathhouse, but no trace could be found of any unclaimed clothing left in the lockers.

It is believed by the local police that the man who was drowned is John W. Ford, orderly at the Orange County Hospital at Orange, who is reported missing there.

Lucille McHenry, Dora Magee and Richard Hulbert, all of Fullerton, reported seeing the arms disappear in the strong rip tide which was pulling on the beach at the time.

Late yesterday W. C. MacDonald, resident near Fifteenth street, noticed the small pile of clothing which had been lying on the beach all day. He found the clothes marked with the name of Ford, and turned them over to police.

In the abandoned automobile, registered to Ford, police found a box of woman's clothing addressed to Jennie Stagg at the Evangelical College, Loma Linda. The girl is said to be working now in San Diego.

Henry R. Harrower of Pasadena, friend of Ford, is expected to arrive here to assist police. The missing man was supposed to have reported for duty Wednesday evening at the Orange County Hospital but has not been seen since early Wednesday afternoon, it was said.

Manslaughter Case Hearing of Girl August 8

SAN DIEGO, July 18.—Preliminary hearing for Barbara Gray, 18-year-old daughter of Gordon Gray, prominent local attorney, was fixed for August 8, following her arraignment today before Township Justice Arthur L. Mundo, on two charges of manslaughter. In the meantime she is released on her own recognizance, in custody of her father.

An auto driven by Miss Gray struck and killed M. C. York, 49 years of age, and his wife, Leora, 50, while the couple were trying to cross the street near the San Diego Army and Navy Academy at Pacific Beach.

The street superintendency had been held by E. M. Marvel until recently. Lloyd Bartlett has become the head of the garage department of the city at a salary of $175 a month. The fire commission has been abandoned by the city, this commission having consisted of Walter Kuns, John Platte and F. O. Hendricks.

DRY AGENT SURRENDERS

Charles G. Smith, Federal Agent, Who Shot Alex Zauri After San Diego Gin Raid, Posts Bond

SAN DIEGO, July 18.—Charles G. Smith, special Federal dry investigator who last night surrendered and posted $2500 bail through a bondsman on a charge that Tuesday he shot Alex Zauri, politician, "with intent to commit murder," will be given preliminary hearing, August 14. This date will stand unless intervention is taken by Federal Court authorities. The date was set when Smith was arraigned today before Township Justice Arthur L. Mundo.

Zauri, candidate for Public Administrator, is recovering at the Navy Hospital from superficial flesh wounds in chest and arm and a shattered arm bone. The wounds were inflicted when Smith fired a bullet at the politician during an altercation near Washington School, Columbia street, according to all reports given by police and Sheriff's office. Zauri, it was said, had tried to obtain release of two friends who had been arrested by Smith and other Federal dry agents.

"I am as sorry as can be that the shooting took place," Smith said, as he surrendered. "The man ran at me pistol in hand and I expected to be shot any minute. I shouted at him four or five times to stop but it made no difference so I fired.

"I have been told hundreds of times not to fire until I thought I was about to be a dead man. I thought so that day. I am an expert pistol shot, so I fired at his arm and that is where I struck him. I still don't see that I could have done anything else."

The warrant against Smith was issued yesterday morning by the District Attorney's office on complaint of Mrs. E. Carmeglia Zauri, wife of the injured politician. Two deputy sheriffs set out for Los Angeles to serve the warrant but Smith had heard of the accusation and surrendered while they were en route. Jurisdiction over the case may be assumed by the Federal District Court at Los Angeles.

Thomas W. Noe, investigator who represented Paul Holland, field agent for prohibition activities in the Los Angeles district, said Smith's record has been exceptionally good and that the Department of Justice would defend him. Smith bears an honorable discharge from the Royal British Fusiliers and decorations, including Distinguished Conduct Medal, British War Medal, St. George's Medal and several engagement citations. Zauri is also a World War veteran.

Zauri's attorney, C. C. Quitman, also a candidate for office at the primary election, announced any attempt to transfer the case to Federal District Court would be opposed. Quitman, also a member of veterans' organizations, has enlisted aid of many of the posts in Zauri's behalf and has inquired into the record established by Smith while the dry agent was Marshal at Calipatria.

Police Force of Inglewood in New Garb

INGLEWOOD, July 18.—Local policemen are going around town dressed to kill, these days. New uniforms for the entire force have been provided and, while the most radical departure in the new suits is the modern military collar, nevertheless the Sam Browne belt, providing for wearing the gun in full view, is the most distinctive attribute, in the eyes of local fashion critics.

The police have so far been noncommittal in the matter of preference between the present and the former uniforms, but it is understood they have adopted a departmental slogan of "Every man his own arsenal" and are planning to enter a float featuring this slogan in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, with the handsomest men on the force gracing the entry.

Watermelons as Bedmates Cool Sleeping

ROSCOE, July 18.—Johnnie Stiano, a fruit vender on San Fernando Road, says the use of watermelons is best as a bed for sleepers who cannot find rest during the present hot nights of the summer.

"Watermelons in a truck at night are about the coolest thing one can find in summer outside of a chunk of ice," Stiano said today.

"These recent hot nights I have had no difficulty in sleeping, for I simply spread out the watermelons that are usually in my truck and then I crawl in on them, and am soon snoring. Watermelons as a mattress bed are not the softest things in the world but as things to make cool sleeping they can't be beat."

Stiano says when he crawls in over his melons he goes in as easily as a setting hen covering a setting of eggs.

"That way you don't bust any of them," he said.

CITY PROVIDES JOBS BY CLEANING LOTS

SOUTH GATE, July 18.—Work of cleaning weeds from the vacant lots in the city has been completed, the report of Fire Chief D. F. Glines, who had supervision of this work, showing that there were 5005 lots cleaned during the season extending from May 1 to the 12th inst. The number of men given employment during the height of the season was forty-five, while in the last few days only ten men were employed. There were also five horse-drawn mowing machines and one tractor at work cutting weeds. The gang foremen were paid $5 a day, and the laborers $4 daily, each working eight hours a day, six days a week. It is estimated that the cost of the weed-cutting campaign by the city was between $7000 and $7500. It will be necessary to reclean a number of lots as the weeds were not ready for burning at the time they were cut. This will mean an additional sum to be expended.

ALLISON WINS UPHILL BATTLE

Texan Comes from Behind to Trim De Stefani

Lott Leads De Morpurgo as Darkness Halts Play

Doubles Teams Play Today in Third Encounter

BY SMITH F. REAVIS

Associated Press Sports Writer

WILMER ALLISON.

AUTEUIL (France) July 18. (AP)—America won the opening match from Italy in the interzone Davis Cup tennis final today and took two out of three sets of the second before it was called on account of darkness.

It was close work, however, that gave Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., a five-set victory over Georgio De Stefani, and enabled the United States to take a one-up lead in this battle for the right to meet France in the challenge round.

The scores were 4-6 7-9, 6-4, 8-6, 10-8, and the Texas giant-killer, conqueror of Henri Cochet at Wimbledon, was at least twice on the verge of defeat by Italy's No. 2 singles player. To take the final set and win Allison had to come up from 1-5 in an amazing rally.

George Lott of Chicago lost his first set to Baron Humbert De Morpurgo, veteran of many Davis Cup contests, 3-6, and had to play his best tennis to take the next two, [illegible]-7 and 10-8.

PLAY HALTED

At the end of the third set it was 8:30 p.m. and darkness was falling. Players and spectators had had enough and the officials called it a day. The entire program had been held up more than an hour by rain and wet courts and the Allison-De Stefani match had lasted three

De Morpurgo and Lott will resume their match at 2 p.m. tomorrow and the doubles teams will clash in the third contest.

Italy, electing to play Placido Gaslini and Alberto Del Bono, has practically conceded that match to Allison and John Van Ryn, and tomorrow's main interest lies in what the doughty Italian veteran can do to overcome the lead against him.

If Lott can follow up his advantage and win and if the strong American doubles team comes through according to schedule, the United States will be able to clinch the series with the three victories.

Although the Lott-De Morpurgo battle probably served up better tennis, it was the fight between the man who beat Cochet and the colorful De Stefani that took hold of the imagination of the crowd of 3000 and kept it alternating between bursts of applause and occasional rumbles of disapprobation.

The first set started tamely enough, both players cautiously feeling their ground and neither taking any great chances. De Stefani's soft stroking seemed to puzzle Allison. The American took the lead at 4-3, but the Italian broke through Allison's service in the next game and added two more for the set. It was pretty much the same story in the second set except that Allison, breaking

The name of the winner of today's eighteen-mile race will be inscribed alongside of the many famous boats that have won this event in the past.

TWELVE ENTERED

Ervin Jones of the Southern California Yachting Association regatta committee has received twelve entries for the race, and he expects one or two more added starters at post time. The boats entered are as follows:

Caprice, Tommy Lee.
Synnove, Al Rogers.
Ednada V, George Thomas III.
Debra, Syl Spaulding.
Pirate, O. K. Hunsaker.
Heather, Newmark Brothers.
Marin, Vic Dalton.
Duce, Roger Marchetti.
Lanai, Al Christie.
Babe, Owen Churchill.
Friendship, Owen Churchill.
Clio, Simons & Trackleton.

Besides the above racing craft Will Watson's Wilitie and Smith & Angelman's Ocean Waif, two of the fastest in the forty-five-foot sailing class, are expected to be out when the warning gun sounds bringing the fleet around for the start.

There is much speculation among local yachtsmen as to who will skipper the two sloops entered by Owen Churchill. Commodore Churchill entered both the Babe, his eight-meter boat, and the R sloop before he left for the East,

UPSETS FEATURE CITY TOURNEY

Carter, Mescall, Ruch Fall by the Wayside as Dark Horses Reign Supreme Over Griffith Park Links; Jelliffe Favored to Annex Championship

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Consternation reigned supreme in the ranks of the favorites in the Los Angeles City golf championship at Griffith Park yesterday when those surprising upsets were registered in the quarter-final round.

HARRY WESBROOK

Playing the best competitive golf of his career, Harry B. Wesbrook of Annandale eliminated Phil Carter of Rancho, 3 and 2, and today faces Webb Hanson of Wilshire, whose victory over William Ruch of Griffith Park, 1 up, was equally unexpected.

A. W. (Laddie) Biggs of Girard furnished the climax by defeating Johnny Joseph Mescall, Fox Hills Country Club champion, 1 up, on the twenty-first hole.

In the fourth match of the day W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of Girard won handily from Ernie Combs, Jr., of Virginia, 5 and 4. Jelliffe meets Biggs today in the semifinal round. Bill has been playing close to par figures throughout the tournament, and looks to be the best bet in the tournament.

FINALS TOMORROW

Finals in the championship flight will be over thirty-six holes tomorrow. First flight finals over eighteen holes will also be played tomorrow morning, while all other flights reach the final round today.

The severe physical strain of playing in the oppressive heat, which has prevailed for the past few days, was apparent in yesterday's scores. Jelliffe alone equaled par, although Wesbrook was brilliant on the incoming nine, being two under par for seven holes.

Carter has failed to master the tricky Wilson course throughout the week, and was out in 40, four over par. He was only 1 down, however, as Wesbrook was shaky, going out in 39. Wesbrook won eleven with a birdie and twelve with a par

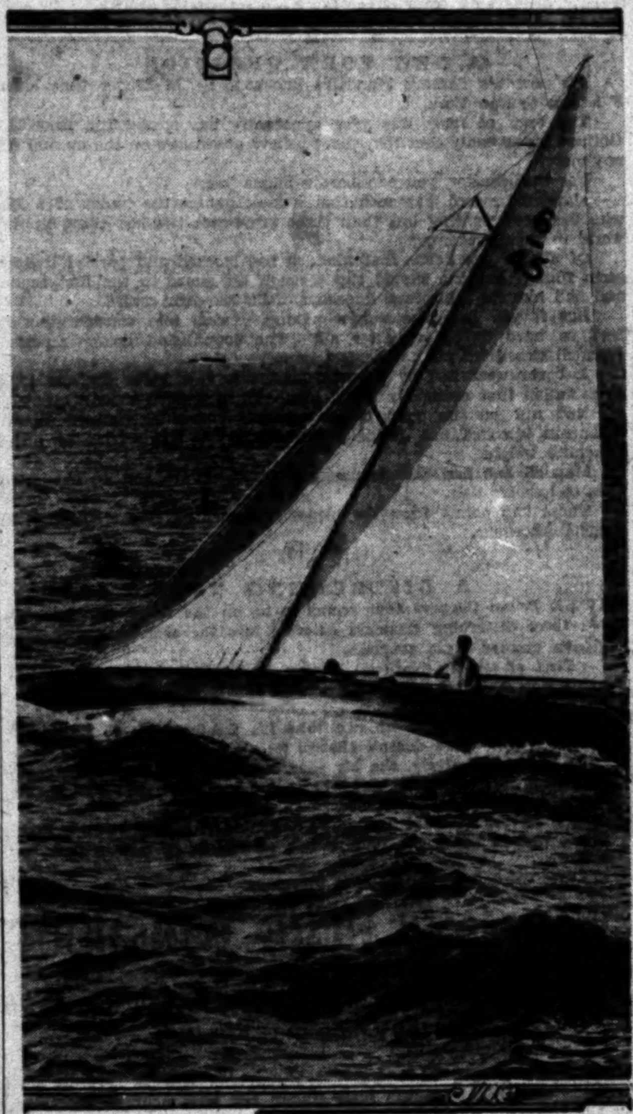
SEEKS "TIMES" PRIZE AGAIN

It's the Ednada V, now the property of George Thomas III, the sloop that won the historic Los Angeles Times Trophy race last summer under the name of the Harpoon. She was sailed by Tommy Lee then but since has changed ownership and name. The Ednada V will be one of the favorites among the crack field that faces the starting gun off the No. 2-A buoy today at 1 o'clock in the annual Times yachting classic.



MANDELL LEAVES FOR HOME

Sammy Bewildered Over Defeat; May Join Welter Ranks After Taking Rest Cure

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Sammy Mandell hit the trail for the West tonight, a tired, saddened youngster bereft of his lightweight championship and rather glad of it.

He is going back to Rockford, Ill., to rest and forget the nightmare in the Yankee Stadium last night, where a hobgoblin named Al Singer jumped upon him in less than a round and battered him to the floor. Mandell today still was trying to puzzle out the happenings in the ring.

Sammy Mandell

"I'm sure making the weight didn't hurt me," he said, as he sat in Madison Square Garden and groped for reasons for the surprising defeat. "But I felt dead. I had no pep or life and I couldn't seem to arouse myself. I was strong physically, though.

"I don't know what happened in the first round. I never saw the first left hook that knocked me down and never felt any of the punches. I don't remember being on the floor at all.

"I'm going to rest and fight some at 138 pounds and decide whether I'll try the welterweight division. Anyway, I'm glad I'm rid of the title. I'll get along better fighting good tough fellows wherever and whenever I want to without worrying about championships and weight."

Sammy, a handsome youngster of 26 years of age, bore two distinct mementos of the Singer punches that knocked him down four times and out. His lower lip was gashed and two upper teeth were loosed by the first knockdown punch. He had no other cuts or bruises about the face.

Although the gate receipts were only $162,388.33, including taxes, a surprisingly low figure, and $129,663.36 minus government claims, the figures held little interest for the former champion.

Mandell received a flat guarantee of $65,000 for his services, although his share in the gate was officially announced as 35 per cent, or $45,382.12. Singer received 15 per cent. Paid attendance was 27,742.

While the new champion spent the day at his home with his parents, the fight faithful were puzzled and suspicious over the situation that made Singer a 3-to-1 favorite going into the ring, although most actual wagers reported were at

PEDLEY, BOESEKE GET TRYOUT FOR INTERNATIONAL POLO FOUR

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—The first official tryouts for America's international polo team will be held Sunday on Fleischman Field at the Sands Point Club, Port Washington, N. Y. Despite rumors of serious injury, Tommy Hitchcock will ride at No. 2 on Sunday for a team that will include G. H. (Pete) Bostwick at No. 1, Eric Pedley of California, and the younger Earle Hopping at back. Opposing this quartet will be a team composed of Stephen (Laddie) Sanford at No. 1, Elmer Boeseke, Jr., of California at No. 2; E. W. Hopping at No. 3, and Winston Guest at back.

DUDLEY LEADING FIELD

Big Ed Showing the Way in Metropolitan Open Golf Tourney With 139

ELMSFORD (N. Y.) July 18. (AP)—Ed Dudley, Wilmington (Del.) pro, was leading the field in the metropolitan open golf championship with 139 at the end of the first thirty-six holes of play today.

Dudley covered the Fairview Country Club's course in 71 today and his total of 139 gave him the lead by one stroke over Jack Forrester of Oradell, N. J. Forrester, who took 71 yesterday, shot a fine 69 today to finish the first half of the championship with a total of 140 strokes.

ED DUDLEY

Tied at 141 were Tony Manero of Elmsford, pace-setter in the first round; Craig Wood of Bloomfield, who turned in a spectacular 68 today, and Horton Smith of Cragston, N. Y., who added a 72 to his 69 of yesterday.

Another stroke behind were Gene Sarazen, Mike Bradley and Bill Mehlhorn, the latter shooting a 68 to get within striking distance of the leaders after his mediocre 74 of yesterday.

Leo Diegel, who needed 75 over the short course yesterday, clipped two strokes off that total today, but still was far down on the list with 148.

ZIVIC DISQUALIFIED

TORONTO, July 18. (AP)—The ten-round bout between Al Foreman of Montreal, and Pete Zivic, Pittsburgh veteran lightweight, was halted in the third round tonight by Referee Lou Marsh who disqualified Zivic for not trying and awarded the decision to Foreman.

Zivic previously had been warned for his holding tactics and for his apparent disinclination to fight.

COAST REJECTS MAJOR DRAFT

Universal Plan Meets With Strong Opposition

All Eight Clubs Vote No on Proposition

Bill Lane's Salary Cut Idea is Tabled

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—The Pacific Coast League today voted to reject the universal draft, new baseball agreement demanded by the National and American leagues of the five big minor circuits.

Bill Lane

With an overwhelming vote, directors or their representatives of the big Class AA leagues decided to oppose the majors who recently delivered an ultimatum that they will have no more dealings with the five minor leagues in question until they accept a universal draft.

The major league's new demand was to have gone into effect next December 1.

At the present time, the Coast League, American Association, International League, Three Eye and Western League have a modified draft agreement with the majors whereby only players who have had previous big league experience may be drafted.

The universal draft would permit major league clubs to claim any player from the minors.

Charles Graham, vice-president of the San Francisco Seals, was appointed a delegate to the meeting next August 5 in Chicago when the three Class AA leagues will discuss the draft situation.

The International League voted to oppose the universal draft yesterday.

Rejection of the new draft proposal was assured from the start with five clubs opposed. They were the San Francisco Seals, Oakland, San Francisco Missions, Sacramento and Seattle. With the balance of power against them, Hollywood, Los Angeles and Portland swung into line.

In an official statement, the directors said they were satisfied with the present major-minor agreement, Article 6 of which provides it shall "remain in force as long as the Hon. Kenesaw M. Landis continues to hold the office of commissioner."

Aside from the draft business, the directors tabled a plan, reported sponsored by William Lane, owner of the Hollywood club, to limit salaries of Coast League players to a maximum of $700 per month.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas the National and American leagues did by resolutions on January 9, 1930, adopt 'that after December 1, 1930, there shall be no assignments of players either to or from major league clubs and nondraft minor league clubs, except in the case of those players who have been released by major to minor league clubs and who are subject to selection under the present rules; and that on and after December 1, 1930, no player assigned to a selective minor league club by a nonselective minor league club, may be reassigned to a major league club until after such player has played a full championship season with some selective minor league club;' and

"Whereas, it is the consensus of opinion of the directors of the Pacific Coast League that said resolutions are in violation of the spirit of the present major-minor league

SHEIKS HOP ON WALTERS FOR TWO BIG INNINGS

Great Mails Starts but is Chased by Chadbourne; Gordon Rhodes Hurls Hollywood Victory

BY BOB RAY

In another of those ragged games of baseball that have been the rule since the Portland Ducks arrived here last Tuesday, Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars hammered out a 10-to-5 victory yesterday at Wrigley Field to tie the series at two-all.

The Sheiks won by bunching eight of their eleven hits in the rounds during which the Ducks made their four errors, thus enabling the octet of safeties to account for no less than nine runs. The wildness of the Portland pitchers also helped the Hollywood cause no little. Walter Mails, Leo Chesterfield and Junk Walters issued exactly ten bases on balls and the wonder of it was that the Sheiks didn't score more than ten runs.

GORDON RHODES

Gordon Rhodes pitched effectively in all but one inning, the fifth, in which the Ducks got three of their runs. Rhodes's defense faltered on him in that round, however, and the side should have been retired without a run scoring. The good-looking Sheik right-hander allowed seven hits and kept them well scattered.

The Portland players might have enjoyed a bit more success had they spent as much time battling the Stars as they did with Umpire Chet Chadbourne, the Coast League's umpiring David who, using a mask instead of a sling shot, gained an emphatic decision over Buzz Arlett, who substituted for Goliath. Chadbourne demonstrated his authority by chasing Mack Hillis and then the Great Mails to the showers, all of the excitement happening in the second inning.

It looked as though Hillis got himself kicked out for crabbing on a perfect third strike, but it appeared that Mails had a protest coming. The Great One, however, did the unpardonable sin of showing up the arbiter by tossing his glove in the air and under the circumstances Chad had to send Mails to the showers.

WALTERS GETS DEFEAT

Chesterfield followed Mails to the mound and was getting along in fine fashion until the sixth, when he was lifted for some unknown reason after Jess Hill had led off with a double. Mr. Walters, who evidently is laboring under the secret delusion that he is a man of destiny as far as beating the Stars is concerned, then strode out to the

ANGELS BOW TO ACORNS AGAIN, 5-4

Pitching of Hurst and Hitting of Lombardi Wins for Oaks

TIMES BUREAU (San Francisco) July 18. (Exclusive)—Wasting only one of seven hits made from the offerings of Beryl Horne, the Oaks won their third game out of four with the Angels and scored a 5-to-4 victory at Oakland this afternoon. Little Bobby Hurst decorated the mound for the Oaks to get credit for his twelfth victory of the season.

ERNIE LOMBARDI

Ernie Lombardi handled the shoots of Hurst and likewise won the ball game for him by driving in four of the five runs. The Oaks got two in the first inning because Horne showed a little too much respect for Buzz Arlett's hitting ability and decided to pitch to Lombardi after filling the bases. Horne put himself into hot water when he walked Uhalt, the first batter, and allowed Martin to score. Mellana advanced the two runners with a sacrifice and Arlett was purposely walked.

Up stepped Big Bombo Lombardi to hit the first pitched ball to center field for a long single, scoring Uhalt and Martin. Fast fielding by Arnold Statz kept Lombardi from getting any more bases and Arlett was trapped as he tried to make third base on the hit. Then Fenton flew out to right field. The first Angel run off Hurst in the fourth inning was a gift. Moore doubled to right field and he scored when Mellana, whose error lost Thursday's sixteen-inning ball game, made a wild throw to first after fielding Dittmar's grounder. A snappy double-play, executed by Dean, De

ST. LOUIS, July 18. (AP)—After seven straight defeats, the Browns came very much to life today and assaulted four New York pitchers to score a 14-to-6 triumph. Sam Gray went the full game for St. Louis, while Manager Shawkey called on Sherid, Johnson, Gomez and Holloway in a vain effort to check the Browns' eighteen-hit attack.

The Yankees had the benefit of Babe Ruth's thirty-third home run and Lou Gehrig's twenty-fifth, along with eleven other blows, but they never were in the running, as St. Louis started with four runs in the opening inning and did not stop scoring until the eighth.

Melillo and Goslin clouted home runs for St. Louis. Ruth, returning after a rest of several days, hit a homer, a triple and a double in five times up.

The victory put the Browns back into seventh place, a few points ahead of the Boston Red Sox, who lost to Detroit. Score:

PORTER GOAT

CLEVELAND, July 18. (AP)—The Senators evened the series with the Indians today, making it two-all, with a score of 8 to 6.

Mel Harder for Cleveland and Liska for Washington started, but neither could remain. Liska's mates gathered him to a five-run lead in the first three innings, but the Indians drove him off the hill and finally tied the score against Lloyd Brown in the sixth.

The Senators unknotted the count on doubles by Rice and West and added two more in the eighth when Porter paved the way by making a two-base muff of a fly. Score:

WOOD AND SUTTER IN NET FINAL

Two Prominent Members of Younger Set Battle for Longwood Title

BROOKLINE (Mass.) July 18. (AP) Clifford Sutter of New Orleans and Sidney B. Wood, Jr., of New York, two of the most promising members of American tennis "younger set," today gained the championship round of the historic Longwood Bowl singles tourney by sweeping two rugged Harvard youths off the courts in the semifinal round.

Sutter, the intercollegiate champion, and Wood are making their first try for the famous Longwood trophy. Sutter became a finalist by playing to the weak overhead game of Barry Wood, Harvard all-round athlete, to win by 6-1, 6-1, 5-7, 6-1.

Sidney Wood had a much easier session with the other Harvard semifinalist, Richard Murphy of Utica, N. Y. The scores were 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Both finalists also played on doubles teams that survived the semifinals round. Sutter teamed with Maurice Bayon, his home townsman, to defeat the top seeded team, H. L. Johnson and M. T. Hill of Boston, in a five-set struggle, 6-3, 2-6, 5-7, 6-1, 6-1. Sid Wood and Harold Blauer, also of New York, eliminated E. W. Feibleman, New York, and J. B. Fenno, Boston, 6-2, 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.

The women's invitation singles wound up in an all-California final when Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco defeated Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-0, and Dorothy Weisel, Sacramento, came from behind to win from Marjorie Morrill, Dedham, 5-7, 6-0, 6-3.

The doubles final, however, will be an East-West affair for Dorothy Andrus, Stamford, Ct., and Miss Hilleary overcame Mrs. Harper and Miss Weisel, 6-4, 6-0, while Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, Cal., and Marjorie Gladman, Santa Monica, Cal., were sweeping the Boston team of Mrs. J. D. Corbiere and Mrs. William Endicott out of the tourney by 6-2, 6-4 scores.

Missions Win Over Seattle

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—The San Francisco Missions bunched hits today to defeat the Seattle Indians, 8-4. In the fourth, the locals plastered Hubbell and House for six hits and five runs. Jack Knott relieved Merton Nelson in the second inning for the Missions and pitched fine relief ball, holding the Indians to one run. It was a homer by Muller in the eighth. Score:

The Biggs-Mescall match was by far the most sensational of the day. Biggs proved himself a battler in the second round, when he defeated Jack Gaines's conqueror, Gene Ruggiero, on the twentieth hole. Yesterday he staged another remarkable rally to trim Mescall. Johnny was 3 up at the turn, only to lose 4 out of the first five holes on the incoming nine. Mescall squared the match with a par on fifteen and went into the lead with a birdie on seventeen. Biggs holed a thirty-five-foot putt on 18 to carry the match extra holes.

CLOSE MATCH

Mescall halved the first two extra holes in par, Biggs sinking a six-footer for a half on the twentieth hole. Johnny's tee shot on the 182-yard twenty-first hole was badly hooked and he was short with his pitch. Biggs was on the green, forty feet from the pin, winning the hole with a 3, when Mescall took a 4.

The cards:

Biggs (out)	454	553	454—40
Mescall	453	444	444—36
Biggs (in)	345	444	543—36—76

Hanson shot a 76 to defeat Ruch, who had a medal of 78. Web was 2 up at the turn, and maintained his edge until the sixteenth hole. Paul won sixteen and seventeen to square the match, but Hanson came through with a six-foot putt for a birdie 3 on eighteen.

Combs, former Southern California junior champ, got off to a bad start, and never got going against Jelliffe. He was 5 down at the turn, going out in 41 against par 36 for Bill.

JACK COPS PRIZE

Billy Jack of Girard won the consolation prize in Class A for players with handicaps from scratch to 12 with a medal of 74. Elmer Williams and Lee Collins tied for low net with scores of 80-10—70. The low gross winning in Class B for players with handicaps from 13 to 24 was Griff Bonner of Griffith Park. Bonner scored an 87. Roger Young captured the low net prize, 91-20—71.

RABBIT PUNCHES

THE ALLISON COMEBACK

WILMER ALLISON must have given Brother Dixon, non-playing captain of the American Davis Cup team, heart failure at Paris yesterday.

There was Mr. Dixon in the stands to see Allison, the Texan who had crowned Cochet, the world's champion, in straight sets at Wimbledon, do the same to De Stefani, Italy's No. 2 man.

It was the final round of the Davis Cup interzone play, the winner to play France for the famous trophy.

The United States needed and expected a victory by Allison over De Stefani. Mr. Dixon counted on it complacently.

And down there on the courts was Mr. Allison doing quite the opposite, dropping two straight sets before he got started.

And then, after winning the third and fourth sets Mr. Allison promptly dug himself another hole, letting the ambidextrous Italian lead 5-1 in games on the fifth and deciding set.

One can almost see Capt. Dixon sinking through the stands.

And then Mr. Allison displayed the true Texas battle spirit. He pulled the match out of the fire with those odds against him, and eventually won at 10-8.

Capt. Dixon probably slept long and deeply last night after those weakening moments of the afternoon, and Allison, the Texan, deserves a long cheer for his come-back ability.

A NEW YORK QUESTION

AND now it's Sammy Mandell's knockout by Al Singer that looks sour to New York.

The orgy of fouls this year apparently has seared the dear old Gothamites so badly that they don't believe anything's on the up and up any more.

For that matter, you can hardly blame 'em.

Mandell's record was such that a knockout at the hands of a kid who has been fighting less than three years was the last thing in the world in their reckoning.

Of all the left hooks that Mandell has blocked and parried it does seem funny that one should slip through his guard in the first round and nail him for the second knockout of his ten-year record.

But if you take the weight-making process into consideration it isn't so hard to believe after all. The commission doctor reported Mandell was dried out to the last ounce.

A boxer weakened by poundage reducing is a mark for any kind of a wallop that ordinarily would be shed like a duck sheds water.

You will get the point if you recall the ease with which Jimmy McLarnin knocked out Jackie Fields when the latter tried to make sickening weight.

Mandell has had the cleanest kind of a record, and no champion likes to lose his title.

Those two points form the biggest argument against "business" in Singer's knockout.

A DISTRESSING NOTE

THE Primo Carnera tour seems to be on the wane with two or three disturbing elements entering into the even course of the giant's onward fistic progress.

First of all, the National Boxing Association says it will lift is suspension of Primo in States where its law is word if he gets rid of his main manager, Leon See.

Secondly, See says he will take his fighter back to dear old France if New York doesn't change its attitude toward him.

Thirdly, Bill Duffy, the big squeeze of the American managers, says See will do no such thing; that he (Duffy) has signed for Primo to fight Young Stribling down South.

Primo and Stribling met twice abroad, and each won on a foul. Primo won in London in four rounds, and Stribling won in Paris in seven.

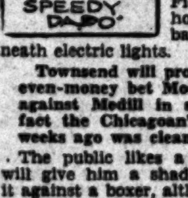
The third fight should be a big guess.

WOLGAST HERE FOR BOUT

Flyweight Champion to Start Training for Go With Speedy Dado the 29th Inst.

Midget Wolgast, new flyweight champion, will be here to start training tomorrow. He is a little Italian boy who mounted to the top of the 112-pound division within the last six months.

The title-holder is here to box Speedy Dado at the Olympic the 29th inst. The club is expected to go back to its regular fight date after next week when Billy Townsend and Joey Medill box Monday night.



SPEEDY DADO

Promoter Jack Doyle made the switch for this fight to accommodate regular Tuesday night patrons who may want to go out to Wrigley Field and see how they play baseball underneath electric lights.

Townsend will probably be an even-money bet Monday night against Medill in spite of the fact the Chicagoan's win two weeks ago was clean cut.

The public likes a puncher and will give him a shade the best of it against a boxer, although a really great boxer can usually take a puncher to camp.

Townsend seemed to have solved Medill's windmill style in the late rounds and was winning. In a fifteen-round bout Townsend would be the favorite.

The fine record against top-notch company which Medill has made in the last year was overlooked in the first fight and he was a 2-to-1 short-ender.

Medill defeated Henry Perlick, Spug Meyers, Stanislaus Loyaza last year. He lost a close decision to Kid Kaplan and was stopped by Billy Wallace.

The Chicago boy had previously taken a ten-round decision from Wallace, who is a puncher on the Townsend type. The Canadian has always reversed his losses in rematches and he may connect Monday night.

Les Rammage, San Diego light-heavyweight who boxes Jimmy Hanna in the semi-wind-up, will be here today to finish training. This 19-year-old Rammage claims a record of twenty knockouts in thirty fights.

DEAUVILLE STARS IN MEET AT ARROWHEAD

Two star natators from the Deauville beach club, Les Knesel, breast-stroke, and Jack White, backstroke, were yesterday entered as last-minute entries in the annual Lake Arrowhead mile-high swimming meet, according to an announcement from Coach Tom Pierce.

Another Deauville performer, Annabelle Allen, pretty 16-year-old natator who hails from L. A. High, was also entered in the Breakers Club swim for women the 27th inst. She is considered one of the best prospects in the Wilshire school.

ANGELS UPSET BY OAKS, 5-4

Viveiros and Fenton checked the Angels.

De Viveiros doubled after Fenton singled giving the Oaks another in the fourth and the Angels came back with one in the fifth, when Statz doubled and Warren singled.

It just seemed to be that the Angels were not to win the ball game. The Oaks came back in their half of the fifth inning with another run when Mellana singled, stole second, took third on Warren's wild throw and came home when Lombardi hoisted a long fly which Statz caught at the clubhouse. A walk to Arlett and Lombardi's double to the top of the center-field fence gave the Oaks a run in the seventh and eventually proved the winning marker.

Bobby Hurst weakened a bit in the eighth inning and after one was out, Sigafoos singled, Moore doubled and Dittmar singled for two runs, leaving the Angels only one behind. Then Louie Martin raced to deep center field to take Schulmerich's long drive and Jacob's field out.

BIG HALIBUT HOOKED OFF SANTA MONICA

A number of halibut, the largest weighing twenty-seven pounds, was caught from the end of the Santa Monica municipal pier yesterday, it was learned from Cliff and Jack, operators of the live-bait boats Thrush and Palisades. This is something out of the ordinary, for in recent years to catch halibut from the pier has been rare.

The big schools of barracuda and halibut laying off the end of the pier, about three-quarters of a mile is still in evidence, the two skippers also stated. The big run has attracted attention all over Southern California.

box and because of his confidence in his ability to stop the Sheiks was charged with the defeat. Hill was promptly caught off second by Palm but Lee got on by an error. Otie Brannan followed with a home run over the right-field wall to break a 3-to-3 tie and give the Sheiks the runs that caused Junk to be charged with the defeat. Five more runs were scored off Walters in the seventh to settle the issue beyond all doubt. Yesterday's game was the third in which Walters has appeared against the Stars this week.

Brannan's homer wasn't the only one of the day, Jesse Hill poking one over the left-center-field barrier in the fourth inning. The circuit clout was Jesse's second in two days and he also rapped out a double yesterday for good measure. Hill did some good work in the outfield, too, holding to singles a couple of balls labeled for doubles by speedy fielding.

The Stars started scoring early, picking up two runs off Mails in the first inning. Hill led off by getting a life on Hillis's error and went to third on Lee's single. Brannan got the first of his three hits to score Hill. Barbee's infield out moved the runners along and then Rumler was purposely walked, filling the bases. Heath hit one to center that got through French, who tried to make a diving catch, and Lee scored. Brannan should have counted but for some reason stopped at third, thus causing Rumler and Heath to pile up at second. Heath was out before he could get back to first, French to Rhiel to Orwoll. Severeid was walked to again load the hassocks but Gazella lined to French for the third out.

Hill got his homer in the fourth to put the Stars three runs in front.

DUCKS TIE SCORE

The Ducks tied it up with three unearned tallies in the fifth. Orwoll singled and was forced by Mellano, who went in at short after Hillis was chased, Robertson moving over to third. Palm walked. Chesterfield hit to Brannan, who attempted to tag Palm but missed him and then tossed to first. Heath dropped the ball and all hands were safe when a double play should have resulted. French's sacrifice fly to Hill scored Mellano and the runners moved to second and third when Severeid let the ball get by him. Summa hit a Texas leaguer double between Brannan, Hill and Barbee to score Palm and Chesterfield with the other two runs of the round.

Mellano's error on Lee and Brannan's homer put the Stars back in front in the sixth.

Five more Sheiks crossed the plate in the seventh, after which the thoroughly convinced Mr. Walters retired. Two walks, a hit batsman, errors by Mellano and Summa and singles by Barbee, Heath and Severeid accounted for the splurge of Star scores.

Singles by Summa and Robertson and Williams's sacrifice fly put over a Portland run in the eighth while the final Duck tally arrived in the ninth on two walks and Robertson's single. Score:

PEREGRINA FAVORED TO BEAT VENABLE

Joe Peregrina, Mexican middleweight and one of the most popular boxers that ever appeared at Carlo Curtis's club, returns to the Main-street club tonight when he boxes Jack Venable in a six-round bout. "Red" Stephens and Johnny Chrismas, 130-pounders, tangle in a second six-rounder. Peregrina and Stephens will be favored to win. The Mexican is a great puncher and is particularly good in short bouts.

Four four-round bouts complete the card. They are: Pete Magalaces vs. Luis Rames, 126 pounds; Augie Curtis vs. Ray Garcia, 112 pounds; Savarino Valdon vs. Al Cruz, 160 pounds; Vernon Cantor vs. Tony Carfon, 130 pounds.

ALVIS WANTS KENNEDY FOR CHUCK WIGGINS

Ray Alvis, manager of Chuck Wiggins who boxes Mack House in the ten-round main event at Pasadena Thursday night, hopes to match Wiggins with Les Kennedy, Long Beach heavyweight who defeated Max Baer at the Olympic Tuesday night. Alvis signed for the Wiggins-House battle after he found the white heavyweights were dodging the colored puncher, figuring that a win for the Hoosier would compel the Coast's best heavyweights to give Wiggins a tumble.

Night Racing Program Opens at Ascot Bowl

The Legion Ascot Speedway, the only auto racing plant in the world where night events are held, will be the scene of the first after-dark program of the 1930 season tonight. With huge arc lights atop a seventy-three-foot tower in the infield sending a spray of illumination around the oval course, more than thirty of the leading dirt track pilots of the West will tool their mounts over the oiled lanes in a series of six races.

Demonstrating that they do not fear the additional dangers of night competition, every leading dirt track ace of the West has signed to go to the post. This list includes Francis Quinn, the local veteran, who is leading in the battle for the 1930 championship of the Southwest, and Jimmy Sharp, the San Pedro "sheik" who has been Quinn's foremost rival in all recent skirmishes on dirt courses of this section.

Quinn has remodeled his Miller since last week's races at San Jose when the car contracted engine trouble, and expects to be in the thick of the fighting on the curves, while Sharp, at the helm of the Garnant special, promises to be just as reckless as ever.

The "dark horse" is Walt May, the husky Alhambra youngster who three weeks ago electrified the fans by turning the track in 28.3s. for a new record. May drives the Deulin special, a Portland car.

The races are scheduled to start at 8:30, while the gates of the track will be thrown open at 7. Lap-by-lap descriptions will be broadcast over KHJ.

The program will start with the running of the popular Italian Helmet dash of two laps, while thereafter Starter Fred Wagner will wave the throttle knights on their way in three ten-lap heats, a thirty-lap feature and a ten-lap consolation event.

Russ Saunders, the Trojan football star, will serve as referee and master of ceremonies, while Harry Hartz, whose car won the Indianapolis and Altoona stakes this year, will be guest of honor.

SAILING RACE IN SPOTLIGHT

but he did not name the pilots. It is possible that Ted Conant, the man who sailed the Babe to victory in 1929 in the King of Spain series, may again return to the stick on that racing boat. No one as yet seems to know who will handle the Friendship, but she is sure to be there, Ervin Jones states.

Tommy Lee, owner and skipper of the six-meter sloop Caprice, is very anxious to win the race this year, as he did last summer with his six Harpoon. He has been out several days tuning his latest sea pet up for the sailing battle. The Harpoon, now the Ednada V, will be sailed by George Thomas III today.

The Pirate, one of the most famous R sloops in the nation, will attempt to have her name engraved on the cup for the second time by winning today's race. O. K. Hunsaker entered her early last week. The Pirate won The Times race in 1928. Mat Walsh is very likely to handle the Pirate today.

Al Rogers of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club is considered the real dark horse of the race. Al has his trim six-meter sloop Synnove in grand shape for today's contest and is ready to leave the field in his wake if things go right and the winds are good to him.

Another boat that will be one of the favorites with yachting experts to sail off with the honors is the Marin, winner of the King of Spain Trophy last March. She defeated the cup defender, Angelita, and the Babe in the midwinter series in winning the replica of the Santa Maria. The Marin will be skippered today by Owen Dresden, an up-and-coming sailorman. Dresden made a reputation last year with his little six-meter sloop Clio, which he has since sold. Vic Dalton now owns the Marin, having purchased it from Lewis Luckenbach a short time ago.

CHRISTIE'S LANAI READY

Commodore Al Christie's Lanai cannot be overlooked, either, in the advance dope, as she is a famous boat in her class. The Lanai has captured innumerable yachting trophies in Atlantic Coast racing events. Christie recently brought her to this Coast.

Roger Marchetti will sail his eight-meter sloop Duce, which was formerly named the Monidah. The Duce has had some changes made in her rig since Marchetti bought her and is said to be a much faster boat now than ever before.

The warning gun will be fired at 12:50. Ervin Jones will start the race.

HOLLYWOOD RIDERS OUT FOR VICTORY

Buddy DuBrock and his mates from the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club will attempt to hang up another victory tomorrow afternoon when they tangle with the Glendale polo four at 2:30 on the Ventura Boulevard field.

Although Glendale has met defeat three times from the Movie City Club, it will have its strongest combination of the year tomorrow with the addition of Floyd Jennings at back. Jennings is a former star from the Santa Barbara polo outfit and should bolster the Glendale defense considerably.

LONGEST GAME

The sixteen-inning tilt which Los Angeles won from Oakland on Thursday was the longest played in the Coast League this season. Seattle defeated Portland in fifteen innings some weeks ago.

Lutze Tackles Fast Opponent in Lee Wycoff

Nick Lutze has met and beaten many tough and fast top-notchers in the local ring during the last five years, but Lee Wycoff, the lanky Missouri toe-hold exponent, who he is scheduled to face in a finish bout at the Olympic Wednesday night, is expected to prove the most elusive of them all.

Lutze started training for a match with Wycoff here about three weeks ago, when he was originally signed to meet the Missouri mat flash in a time-limit bout. He was unable to go through with the match, however, because an operation he had had performed for water on the knee had not healed sufficiently to permit him to travel at top speed. For the past two weeks, Lutze has been devoting most of his training periods to the development of his speed, and working out ways and means of stopping Wycoff's toe-hold attacks.

Lutze is reported in top condition again, and anxious to avenge his defeats at the hands of Everett Marshall and Don George here. Wycoff, the grappler who made both of these two clever grapplers appear slow and almost amateurs with his clever and scientific mat work, is the one wrestler who stands in Lutze's path to a comeback here. This bout is expected by many to steal the spotlight Wednesday night.

George will clash with Joe Malcewicz, the lithe Utican mat panther, in the finish feature event of the evening. Steve Strelich, the "Terrible Swede," will meet Joe Stamaty, a Greek light-heavyweight, in the opener.

AMERICAN CUP TEAM LEADING

through early, rolled up an even bigger lead of 5-1. De Stefani, with another burst of the puzzling form he showed earlier, took the next four games to make it 5-all. Allison won the eleventh and thirteenth, but De Stefani held the upper hand and won at 9-7.

FAST RETURNS

The Texan's service was rarely very effective, and even his fast first ones met with well-directed returns from the Italian's racket. It was in the third set Allison first struck his winning stride. He took the lead in the fourth game and kept it. From then on his service improved, he found holes for placements and he won spectacular points repeatedly with his overhead smashing.

In the fourth and fifth sets the two battlers threw caution aside and slapped the ball back and forth in a series of the prettiest rallies of the day. Again De Stefani seemed the sure-thing man, but although he led 5-2 in the fourth and 5-1 in the fifth he never reached the match point and Allison, with a series of desperate smashes and line drives edged off defeat and won, after all. When it was all over Allison appeared tired out while De Stefani, who had used a soft game all the way, was almost as fresh as when he started.

Lott and De Morpurgo, on the other hand, fought it out with brute strength and the difference in their stroking compared with the earlier match was apparent in the sharper thud of the ball against the racket.

Lott took the first two games of the first set fairly easily, the second at love. Then De Morpurgo broke through for the next four, his long drives from the base line puzzling Lott, who underslashed his returns, but couldn't catch the Italian napping. De Morpurgo after losing one more game ran out easily.

The second set was one of those long-drawn-out battles with Lott's superior strategy finally gaining it for him. By this time he was beginning to worry the Baron with nasty cross-drop shots near the net which De Morpurgo tried vainly to run in for.

He tried the same tactics in the final set of the day which the Italian valiantly brought to deuce again and again after they were all even at 5-all. It was in the seventeenth game with honors even at 8-all and 40 love against him that Lott pulled the set from the fire, winning four straight points from his rival's service. The next went to deuce and De Morpurgo gave away final advantage on an easy net and Lott clinched the set with a service ace.

HESS AWARDED LEGION FIGHT

King Gives Goldie Battle in Main Event

In a very fast and furious battle Goldie Hess won by a shade over Ritchie King last night in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium.

While the fans rather thought King should have had the nod, the decision was a just one, Hess winning because of his edge in the tenth round.

King took the first four rounds by a very slight margin, but was almost stopped in the fifth, when Hess connected with a terrific blow to the midsection. Goldie annexed the next three rounds, with the ninth session going to King. The tenth was Goldie's as was the decision.

The count of rounds was even, but Hess's margin of victory in his rounds was much greater than was King's.

A left-hand smash to the breadbasket, followed by a right to the same place spelled kayoe for Tommy McGough in the first round of his scheduled six-rounder with Claude Varner. Tommy claimed the blows were foul but ringsiders, Referee Frank Holborow and the examining physician thought otherwise. Both blows were above the belt.

Track Record May Fall in Border Race

Featuring a full program of eight races at Agua Caliente tomorrow afternoon, a special attempt will be made to break the track record now held by My Dandy, according to an announcement made last night by Harry M. Pollok of the Agua Caliente Corporation. My Dandy's mark of 58 4-5s. was made on March 27, last.

Three horses will take part in tomorrow's feature event. Baron Long's Ervast will probably enter the race favored to win, having covered the five-eighths of a mile test in exactly 58 4-5s. yesterday, according to Pollok. Ervast, carrying 110 pounds, will be ridden by Jockey Wolff.

C. B. Erwin's Nusakan, 110, with Moran up, and Jim Crofton's Beth Hogan, 100, with Ringe in the saddle, are the other entries.

Willie Johns Makes Record

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) July 18.—Apprentice Willie Johns set up a record for this meeting when he rode the first three successive winners of the afternoon. Johns brought Mortana home for C. B. Irwin in the opening event, winning handily by two lengths. Freedom II, in the second race, was the next horse Johns drove home and he rounded out his trio with victory on Morpheus in the third event.

Later in the afternoon, just to show it was no mistake, Johns rode Rallim to victory in the sixth race, making it four victories out of the seven races of the day. The young apprentice rider had but one other mount in the afternoon, Woodface, in the fifth race. He finished fourth here.

Betfandot won the Jacomba, featured number of the afternoon, a six-furlong sprint. Betfandot, running for the Homestretch stable dashed the six panels in 1:12 4-5 to win by a head over Queen Ann. Will Bank got the show. Results:

SENATORS WIN TILT IN TENTH INNING

SACRAMENTO, July 18. (AP)—Scoring two runs in the last half of the tenth after the Seals had apparently sewed the extra-inning game up by counting once in their half of the added frame, the Sacramento Solons won their first game of the second half here tonight, 4 to 3. It was a pitchers' battle between Hal Turpin, Seal moundsman, and Tom Flynn, young Solon southpaw, with Flynn finally winning out and allowing only six hits.

The count was knotted at two-all at the end of regular innings. In the first of the tenth the Seals pushed over a run when Jerry Donovan tripled and later scored on Red Wingo's sacrifice.

NEW FISHERMEN TO ENTER FLEET

Seven Notable Additions Due in Service Soon

All Craft Diesel Driven and of Latest Design

Belle Isle, Costing $75,000, Holds Interest

BY WALDO DRAKE

Seven notable additions to the port fishing fleet will enter service or go into final stages of completion during the week-end, the group representing a construction cost of nearly $500,000. Yacht-like lines and luxury in crew comfort are included in each unit, marking another step in development of the Pacific fisherman. All are Diesel-driven.

Interest in the new boats centers largely on the Belle Isle, beautiful ninety-five-foot four-purpose craft to be commissioned next Monday for John Gabelich by Parke & Kibele, Inc. Costing $75,000 and powered with a 350-horsepower Western Enterprise engine, she was designed by Nels Nelson for use either as a tuna bait boat, a purse seiner, a sardine fisherman, or as a tug. She thus has a detachable turntable and bait tanks and is equipped with a towing windlass. Bell Isle's construction is of the highest order, sufficient to give her the Clas A-1-E rating of the American Bureau of Shipping. The Kibele yards have just completed a similar craft in the bait boat Chicken of the Sea and now have on the ways a 105-footer for Kohara & Yamashita, to be launched August 5.

Four of the new boats are products of Al Larson's yards on Terminal Island, which plant has just launched the $100,000 118-footer San Lucas, built jointly for Mr. Larson and T. Trani. She is the last of seven fishermen built by Larson since January 1, last, at a cost of $400,000. Others in the group include Tom Mosich's eighty-nine-foot purse seiner Bremen, just commissioned; S. Ishikawa's eighty-three-foot bait and seine boat White Rose, sailing today on her maiden voyage, and Batiste Falconi's fifty-eight-foot fresh-market boat Amelia, to be launched Monday.

Two remaining boats of the new squadron are products of the Harbor Boatbuilding Company, John Rados and David Johns's 116-foot aircraft carrier-fisherman Rajo, sailing Monday on her maiden trip, and Pete Dragich's 85-footer, first offshore fisherman with fully flared raised bow, to be completed August 15.

TUG HAS FUELLESS FREIGHTER IN TOW

Quaker Line's intercoastal freighter San Lucas was forced to put into Ensenada yesterday morning when she ran short of fuel and was last night being towed into San Diego by the Star and Crescent tug Palomar, which happenetd to be in the Baja California port at the time. The San Lucas, with 1500 tons of cargo from Philadelphia for local consignees, will arrive here Monday.

George A. Armes, president of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation, and Thomas Crowley, a director of the same concern and also a leader in San Francisco shipping circles, will return to San Francisco tonight after a conference with local shipyard executives. Mr. Crowley failed again yesterday to defeat W. H. Wickersham on the Royal Palms golf course.

French Line's steamer Wisconsin arrived from Le Havre yesterday morning with passengers and freight. Among the arrivals was D. S. Kruidenier of San Diego, who, with Mrs. Kruidenier and their three children, has just completed a year's European tour. After discharging 750 tons of cargo, the Wisconsin will sail tomorrow for North Pacific ports.

First step toward development of the harbor-rail classification yards at the Dominguez viaduct was taken yesterday when Port Manager Burt Edwards approved the application of the Southern Pacific Company for construction of an interlocking switch system at Thenard, upper limit of the yards.

The $70,000 interlocking system will be used by all four railroads entering the port and its construction cost will be borne jointly.

Java-Pacific Line's Dutch steamer Batoe was in yesterday morning from the north to load out 1400 tons of Los Angeles products, including 25,000 cases of kerosene, 200 tons of oil well machinery and 2000 cases of sardines, all for the Dutch East Indies. The Batoe will sail today. The line's freighter Binfang is due on the 25th inst. from the East Indies with 1500 tons for local discharge.

Lassco's steamer Diamond Head will sail for Honolulu at noon today with eleven passengers and 3000 tons of freight, including shipments of citrus fruits, machinery, cement and potash. Among her passengers will be Waters Davis, El Paso attorney; Emily Townsend, local business woman; and Lewis Randall, Pasadena attorney.

E. Sanford, secretary and manager.

The governors have also approved the application of Union Oil Company to list 39,260 additional shares of $25 par value common stock and of Consolidated Aircraft Corporation to list 29,000 additional shares of no par value common stock, effective for trading immediately.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has an authorized capitalization of 16,000,000 shares of $400,000,000 divided into 8,000,000 shares of common and 8,000,000 shares of preferred stock, all of $25 par value. The preferred stock is divided into 5,600,000 shares of 6 per cent preferred, 1,600,000 shares of 5½ per cent preferred and 800,000 shares of 5 per cent preferred.

The Square D Company, which operates under a charter granted in 1903 by the State of Michigan, has factories for manufacturing electrical equipment at Detroit, Mich.; Peru, Ind., and Milwaukee, Wis., and recently acquired control of the Diamond Electrical Manufacturing Company, Ltd., of Los Angeles, which has plants at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Houston, Tex. Cheerful Note Hit in Weekly Trade Review

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"A slight gain in retail distribution, the result in vacation weather of the efforts of retailers by 'sales' to clean up unsold stocks of summer goods, an almost-as-slight shading off of crop prospects due to the high temperatures and light rainfall of the first half of July, continued dullness in leading industries in which curtailments or summer vacation shutdowns are apparently at their limit and some few further slight reductions in price levels—these, balanced by advances on other staples, about make up the list of tangible developments of the week.

"Back of all these, however, there was a slightly more cheerful feeling, visible in many lines, which, while not translated as yet into much apparent activity, gives promise, other things considered, of greater future price stability. Helpful in creating or adding to this cheerful feeling are, of course, the evidences of more sustained strength in the stock market and the relative steadiness of prices of leading cereals which seem to have suffered some impairments of yield owing to recent hot, dry weather.

"Weekly bank clearings, $10,763,921,000, a decrease of 20.3 per cent from a year ago."

OUTLOOK FOR OIL BRIGHTER

Technical Position of Industry Attracts Traders to Bull Market Possibilities

BY DOUGLAS A. McKAY

Further curtailment of crude oil output and a reduction in the runs of crude to refineries, not to mention the cessation of the gasoline price war, are some of the recent constructive developments within the petroleum industry that has attracted security traders to the possibilities now looming for a strong and active oil stock market. The ability of oil shares to display gradual and consistent strength throughout the past week demonstrates the faith that student of the market have in the inherent soundness of the present situation.

The cut in crude production last week was one of the sharpest since last March. Reduction in the amount of oil running into refineries has brought production of gasoline today below current consumption. This in turn is reducing gasoline stocks and has turned the supply and demand equation in the direction of a balanced equilibrium. Close of the gasoline price war has assured a fair margin of profit.

GOAL IN SIGHT

A recent canvass of a number of practical oil men in the various producing fields conducted by E. A. Pierce & Co., indicated a belief that curtailment of production so as to preserve the stable balance between output and consumption will be an accomplished fact before the end of the year. They further stated that the completely integrated companies are making money.

The forced construction by major companies last year to provide greater storage facilities etc., now places them in a position to readily cope with any unforeseen condition relating to production that might develop.

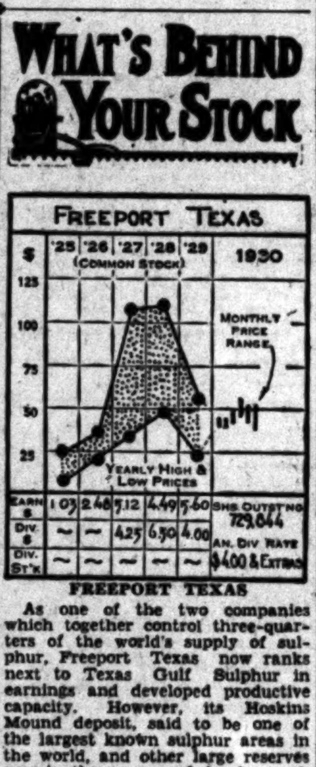
Regarding last week's sharp cut of crude output, Leib, Keyston & Co., in an analytical study points out that the chief significance of the cut is the indication that the curtailment movement is reaching its final stage. It further asserts that it was first necessary to reduce crude production in line with refinery demand. Then it became necessary to reduce runs to stills in line with consumption. The third step which is in progress now, is the lowering of crude production to again keep pace with the reduction in runs to stills.

PROFITS FORECAST

"Under the stimulus of improving conditions within the industry," the analysis states, "oil stock prices have figured prominently in the recent recovery of the stock market and the prospect now appears that oil will be one of the favored groups during periods of market strength."

Estimated 1930 earnings, outlined in this report, are particularly surprising in that they closely approximate the 1929 results. Estimated per share earnings of some of the leaders compare as follows: Standard of California, $3.50 in 1930, against $3.70 in 1929; Standard of New Jersey $4.50 against $4.74; Union of California $3.50 against $3.50; Tidewater Associated, $2 against $1.73; Standard of New York, $2.25, against $2.23.

Stocks of twenty-three leading oil companies are selling at current market prices to yield 5.9 per cent. On the basis of 1930 earnings estimates, the group has a times-earning ratio of 10.9.



FREEPORT TEXAS

As one of the two companies which together control three-quarters of the world's supply of sulphur, Freeport Texas now ranks next to Texas Gulf Sulphur in earnings and developed productive capacity. However, its Hoskins Mound deposit, said to be one of the largest known sulphur areas in the world, and other large reserves now in the process of development, should substantially increase profits and production. A new management has recently been installed by the Moody-Seagraves group of stockholders with the idea of cutting present operating costs considerably. It is expected that almost $1 a ton saving in loading costs will be effected after completion of dredging operations by United States government in Freeport Harbor.

For the year ended November 30, 1929, gross sales had increased 12 per cent and net income nearly 25 per cent from 1928 figures. During the six months ending May 31, 1930, per share earnings declined slightly to $2.51 from the $2.59 earned in the like 1928-29 period. A conservative accounting practice carries sulphur above ground with a market value of $12,000,000 at only $4,000,000 on the balance sheet.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, none.
Capital stock (no par,) 729,844 shares.

Current data: President of company stated that shipments for the first half year were actually larger than in the similar period a year ago, the slight falling off in earnings being due to a decline in export sales upon which a larger profit margin obtains.

FRENCH GOLD POLICY STIRS

Steady Accumulation Bringing Supply Second in Size to That of America, Puzzling Financiers

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 18.—Money rates, throughout the world, continue to sag. The National Bank of Switzerland has reduced its discount rate from 3 per cent to 2½ per cent. The Imperial Bank of India, last week, reduced its rate from 6 per cent to 5 per cent.

Austria, Hungary, Italy and Spain today are the highest rate countries—5½ per cent. Norway's rate is 4½ per cent, Germany, Denmark and Ireland are on the 4 per cent basis; Sweden is 3½ per cent; England, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland are on a 3 per cent basis, and France and United States (New York) are at 2½ per cent.

But what is worrying international bankers is the way France is attracting new gold, which is coming into the market. Wednesday she took 655,000 pounds of the 755,000 pounds of the South American gold, which was offered in the London market, paying the record price of 85 shillings and one and one-half pence (approximately $20.45) per fine ounce. The Bank of England also released to the Bank of France 423,000 pounds. The gold flow to France—already heavy with the yellow metal—continues. This week the United States sent $4,000,000 to France on the Bremen.

France says nothing. In her dark vaults, she has accumulated 44,000,000,000 francs worth of gold—next to the United States the largest holder in the world.

The United States and France together possess more gold than has been mined since the beginning of the World War. France has hoarded up more than has been produced in the last five years.

Down deep, it's causing plenty of discussion in the important counting rooms of the world.

The announcement that the 1929-30 Canadian wheat pool would advance but 70 cents a bushel for wheat to its members for deliveries, based on Fort William and No. 1 northern grade, against $1 a bushel last year, has caused a wave of pessimism to sweep over the great western provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This new price really means that advance payments for wheat at the little towns in Manitoba will be around 62 cents a bushel for top grade, and 57 cents for top grades further west—in Saskatchewan and Alberta—the lowest in sixteen years.

The wheat pool, which controls about half of Canada's output, continued to advance $1 a bushel for last year's wheat up to June 25. Then it cut to 85 cents, where it remained until the 15th inst., when 70 cents was announced as the price for the 1930 crop.

The 70-cent figure has the support of all the big Canadian banks, which had been loaning a dollar before—secured, in addition to the wheat, by the guaranty of the three western provinces.

The Canadian wheat pool today has approximately 100,000,000 bushels of their last year's crop on hand, with the new crop estimated at 400,000,000 bushels—almost ready to cut.

So the American Farm Board is not likely to add to its troubles by adding any new wheat to its 60,000,000 bushels already on hand, which is costing the board $1,000,000 a month to carry.

Alexander Legge of the United States Farm Board, wants it distinctly understood that neither he nor Secretary of Agriculture Hyde have ever advised farmers "to quit raising wheat."

"What we do advise farmers to do is to raise a little less of it and 'give the consumers a chance to catch up with the producers.'"

It is the Farm Board's contention that it would be better for the farmer to put 100 acres into wheat and receive $1 a bushel, than to plant 160 acres of wheat and receive 60 cents. Small acreage oftentimes means more money—to the farmer.

The Farm Board's advice to the western wheat farmer apparently is this:

Stay on your farm, cultivate less wheat, and make more money.

Nickel Leader Tells Program

SUDBURY (Ont.) July 18. (Exclusive)—J. L. Agnew, vice-president and managing director of International Nickel Company of Canada, stated at the annual meeting of the Ontario Mining Association here today that there would be no deviation from the company's expansion program and he predicted that still further additions to the plant other than those now planned will have to be made.

Within a few weeks the company will be producing at the rate of 15,000,000 pounds of nickel and 20,000,000 pounds of copper a month with by-products production at the annual rate of about 3,000,000 ounces of silver, $1,000,000 gold and 100,000 ounces of metal of the platinum series.

OUTLOOK ON WOOL MART IMPROVING

Sales Reported in Fair Volume and Trade Tone More Encouraging

BOSTON, July 18. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say of the wool market tomorrow:

While the volume of business in wool done here during the past week has not been large it has been encouraging and has increased somewhat toward the end of the week, although not all houses have shared in the business.

There is keen interest being shown in the opening of the lightweight goods by the American Woolen Company Monday. It is not expected that prices will show much if any decline; certainly not more than 5 per cent on comparable lines.

The co-operative position has been defined by the National Wool Marketing Corporation as a firm one on the basis of current values, with the expectation of higher prices.

Foreign markets are steady. London has hardly shown any change for the week and Brisbane closed firm.

Mohair is dull and unchanged.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston, according to the same authority, from January 1, 1930, to July 17, 1930, inclusive, were 71,592,500 pounds against 98,247,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to July 17, 1930, inclusive, were 188,918,912 pounds against 179,242,685 pounds for the same period last year.

HOLLAND FURNACE EARNINGS HIGHER

DETROIT, July 18.—Officials of Holland Furnace Company expect that the final figures on the company's operations for the six months ended June 30, last, will show slightly higher earnings than for the corresponding period of 1929. Although June sales were 10 per cent greater than for the same month last year the total for the first six months of this year will probably be slightly less than the 1929 period.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Market Maintains Firm Levels as Trading Operations Drop to Slow Pace

Fluctuations were held down to narrow limits on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as a hesitancy developed in the minds of traders with the approach of the week-end. There has been a tendency in recent months for the market to lose ground as activities slackened towards the end of a week and this coupled with the extent of the late recovery has introduced a cautious attitude.

However, no disposition to liquidate was indicated and, while there were a few fractional recessions scattered throughout the list, the market as a whole presented a firm appearance.

Transamerica was the only issue on the board in which the trading exceeded 1000 shares. More than 7000 shares of the Gianinni stock were transferred and, while the issue held strong throughout the greater part of the session, there was a slight reaction toward the close which brought quotations back 1-2 to 25 3-4. On the preceding day Transamerica had a turnover of more than 23,000 shares.

The oil group showed no material change. Dealings in Standard of California dropped from 2500 shares Thursday to 200 shares yesterday, which went over at 63, representing a decline of 5-8. On a somewhat similar activity Union and Rio Grande dipped less amounts, while Richfield regained 1-4 to 18.

Pacific Finance and Douglas Aircraft recorded a small improvement, while Claude Neon and Pacific Public Service eased fractional amounts. There were no other changes.

Sales totaled 11,199 shares, valued at $334,262; previous day, 29,344 shares, valued at $919,668.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Aggressive bullish operations in selected issues gave the entire curb market a firm tone today, and moderately stimulated trading, the turnover aggregating 638,200, a gain of more than 120,000 over yesterday.

Speculation for the rise converged upon a handful of shares in various classifications, and was most conspicuously successful in Cities Service and stocks of subsidiary companies. Cities Service rose 2½ points, which carried it to 31.

The stock recently sold within a fraction of the year's low close to 24. Activity in this issue accounted for about 10 per cent of the day's total turnover on the market.

The Indian Territory Oil issues, which are members of the Cities Service group, gained 4 points, and the Arkansas Natural Gas issues advanced more than a point to 11⅛.

The oils as a group were inclined to be sluggish. Humble and Vacuum lost a point, and Gulf sagged fractionally. Among the utilities, Electric Bond and Shares closed up 1⅝. Philadelphia Traction sagged 4 to the year's low at 40.

A strong feature in the holding and investment company group was Transamerica, which rallied about 2 points incident to an announcement of its application for listing on the stock exchange. United Founders sold off about a point getting close to the record low at 17⅛. Corporation Securities Corporation of Chicago, made a gain of 1⅝.

In the industrials and specialties, strength reappeared in Deere, which mounted 4 points. Glen Alden Coal mounted nearly 7, and Aluminum Company, more than 9 points. Driver Harris, spectacular riser, reacted 8.

Tone on Wheat Mart Strong at Higher Levels

CHICAGO, July 18. (AP)—Broadening of export demand, together with indications huge quantities of wheat are being fed to live stock, did much to lift wheat values today. Statements were current that if the rate of wheat feeding to live stock keeps up, the season's total will reach 200,000,000 bushels. Export purchasing of North American wheat today was estimated at more than 1,000,000 bushels, making about 2,000,000 bushels so far this week.

Closing quotations on wheat were strong, 1⅛@1⅜c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1¼@1½c up, oats ½@1c advance and provisions varying from 30c decline to a rise of 15c.

Friends of higher prices for wheat laid particular stress on the fact the market level was about 30c a bushel lower than at this time last year. It was pointed out that as a result many millions of bushels of wheat had been used instead of corn to provide feed for live stock, especially in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri. Tending also to hoist wheat values were persistent reports of havoc by hot dry weather in spring wheat territory sections of Canada in particular.

The most striking adverse crop news regarding spring wheat came from a Chicago field expert, who telegraphed the Canadian wheat region from Medicine Hat to Calgary was in bad shape, most fields burning brown and ripening prematurely.

There also were reports the wheat crop in France was very disappointing.

Absence of rain in the corn belt, with temperatures at some places the highest in four years, sent corn and oats prices upward with wheat.

Provisions were responsive to upturns both in cereals and in hog values as well.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fresh receipts consisted of a few head of trucked-in cattle, with 360 head held over from earlier in the week available. Trade was on peddling basis with everyone endeavoring to clean up the odds and ends of low-grade stock. The supply was cut down materially, but a scattering of low-grade steers and she stock were still in first hands.

A load of 967-pound grass steers went on an order at 6.75, with a few others at 6.25 and a load of 1052-pound Imperial Mexicans at 7.50. Very common natives sold down to 5.00.

A few light heifers sold up to 7.75 and a few head of cows averaging up to 1320 pounds made 7.25. Bulk of common to low medium cows brought 5.50@6.75, with low cutters and cutters at 3.00@4.00. A few medium bulls scored 5.00@5.50.

CALVES—Bulk of the light supply of calves and vealers were of common to medium quality, selling at 8.00@10.50, with odd head up to 12.00 and light culls down to 7.00.

HOGS—One load of eastern butchers arrived about noon but most buyers had left and they were to be held over till today's market. A few sales of local fed butchers looked about steady, but the market carries a weak undertone and it seems doubtful if good easterns would sell much over 11.00. A few 165 to 197-pound locals brought 10.50@10.75, with some around 136 to 149 pounds at 10.00. A few 265-pound weights brought 9.60, with 312-pound packing sows at 8.25.

SHEEP—Nothing was offered and medium to choice desirable weight lambs are quoted at 7.25@8.25, with medium to choice ewes quoted 3.00@4.25.

AGE BRINGS SUCCESS

The man who thinks that all is lost if he has not achieved success by the time his youth is gone, is sadly mistaken. Youth has no monopoly of success, no exclusive franchise for the great achievements of life. When Abraham Lincoln was 40 years of age he had little to his credit. He had served a term in Congress and made little name for himself. He was a pretty good country politician and that is about all. Even in 1860 when he was 59 years of age, his achievements were not great and his ambitions not taken very seriously by many people. In five years from that time he was dead. And yet in five years, without youth, he put himself among the greatest of all Americans.—[Capper's Weekly.

Women in Sports Battle

"Championitis" has caused a split in the ranks of the Feminine Sporting Association of Paris, and Mme. Le Grand has resigned as president, along with several members of the council. "Championitis" is the name given by Mme. Le Grand to the tendency to sacrifice everything to competitions. She is a doctor, and looks upon athletics as a healthy recreation, therefore objects to them being turned into a kind of "circus entertainment."

Firemen Save Policemen

Two military policemen of Edinburgh, Scotland, had the ignominity, to them, of being saved by firemen recently. The two were searching Edinburgh Castle for a deserter, and by aid of a rope climbed down the castle rocks. The rope broke, making it impossible for them to go farther down or to return to the castle. A fire alarm brought the Edinburgh fire fighters, who smilingly lowered a ladder.

RACING EVENTS ON RADIO BILLS

Turf and Motor Contests to Be Broadcast Today

Arlington and Ascot Thrills Promised for Listeners

Wide Variety in Programs of Los Angeles Stations

> The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1 p.m. (today only) Peggy Hamilton, fashion authority. World wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m. Judge Dudley S. Valentine on "Traffic" at 12:30.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Horses and automobiles may represent two eras of transportation in the commercial world—but on radio it is a dead heat.

When the Arlington Cup races come to your receiver from both KHJ and KFI at 1:30 p.m. the best of America's horseflesh will be in competition.

Then it will be possible to step from stirrup to starter at 9 p.m., when the Legion auto races at Ascot get under way.

An interest via radio may serve to produce more competition in this kind of sport than ever before. The rhythmic beating of horses' hoofs, the cheers of the crowd and the vivid description by competent announcers of the finish will equal if not outdo the thundering of the racing cars speeding through the night.

There is plenty of sport on radio today.

WHAT ONE MAY DIAL TODAY

KHJ at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon will bring the Arlington races from the Arlington Jockey Club, Chicago. Although Gallant Fox is not expected to compete, Blue Larkspur and other champions will make it a dialing well worth while. At 3:15 Columbia will send the Melo Maniacs with Reis and Dunn, the "Wandering Ministrels." Freddie Rich and his orchestra will complete the program. The villain is to weave his web aboard the C.B.S. Showboat at 5 tonight as the levee folk witness "A Wife's Secret." The time to the play is Christmas Eve and there's to be a baby in it. At 7:30 tonight KHJ is to revive its revue—a skimming from the week's highlights, comedy, a few tragedies and light, heavy and middleweight vocal and instrumental numbers. At 8:30 p.m. Raymond Paige and His Music are to concoct another Musical Cocktail, with Dr. Carl Omeron as guest soloist. And then at 9 tonight over the entire Don Lee chain, the first night automobile races of the 1930 season at the Ascot Speedway will be broadcast. Rider, 85, Issues Challenge

Eighty-five-year-old Col. E. B. Gregge-Hopwood of Middleton, Eng., has challenged any rider of his age to a steeplechase match for $5000 a side. The match would be over fences on a two-mile course. Sir Claude De Crespigney, 81, is eager to accept, but is barred. "I cannot afford to give away four years," says Col. Hopwood, who has been riding to hounds three or four times a week in season for years.

Find Balloon, Get Crocodile

If you desire a nice live wiggly crocodile just find the balloon which has been lost by the Berlin Zoo. To advertise its 100 living crocodiles and alligators, the authorities floated the balloon over the Zoological Gardens, bearing the inscription, "One thousand crocodiles." Its anchor broke and the bag sailed to a height of 9000 feet and disappeared. Then came the crocodile award offer.

Laguna Council Removes City Engineer Stead

LAGUNA BEACH, July 18.—The City Council declared the office of City Engineer vacant at the meeting last night, forcing Arthur J. Stead out of office and at a special meeting today appointed Frank F. Gowen temporary engineer, and W. W. Riddell, artist and manager of Casa Del Camino Hotel, resigned as member of the Council. Floyd Case was appointed building inspector.

The three Councilmen, Mayor J. K. Bishop, R. C. Clapp, M. B. McMillan, who voted for Stead's removal, were elected recently in a heated campaign, the engineering work being the bone of contention. F. C. Howard, counsel for Stead, declared that serious difficulties will be caused by the ejection of his client, since Stead has a contract signed by members of the former City Council. Breaking of the contract by the Council with Stead involves several improvements now under way besides other duties such as that of building inspector, also under his supervision, but terminated by his removal.

Stead, who has been working on a percentage basis, requested the new Council at its first meeting to investigate his department and give it a full hearing before any steps be taken, and although many months have elapsed, this has not been done.

The new Councilmen stated that they had pledged themselves to void this contract and would live up to their promises.

City Council in Fresno Bows to Union Demands

FRESNO, July 18.—Objections raised by union representatives to treatment accorded J. L. Fine, a union painter in the employ of the city Department of Public Works, may result in his being shifted to the police department where he will carry on his work of sign painting.

During city budget hearings today Fred Huss, building trades representative, appeared in behalf of Fine and the result was that he was granted a $15 a month increase in pay and agreement was reached to pay him $190 a month and keep him at painting jobs as much as possible.

"You had a truck running around half-painted while Fine was doing other work," said Huss, speaking to Commissioner C. C. Van Valkenburgh, head of the department.

WOMEN IN CHINA TAKEN BY BANDITS

Communists Hold British Missionaries for Ransom of $50,000 "for Soviet"

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

PEIPING, July 18. (Exclusive)—Early this morning two British women belonging to the Church Missionary Society, Miss Leanore June Harrison and Miss Edith Nettleton, were captured by Communist bandits at Cyungan in Northern Fukien Province. Nothing since has been heard in regard to their fate beyond a letter that Miss Harrison was compelled to write demanding a payment of $50,000 to the "district soviet government," with the threat that otherwise both women would be shot.

The British legation was notified by the British Consul at Foochow that he and the American Consul were starting today by launch for Yenpingfu, about ten miles up the Min River, in an effort to rescue the missing women and also a number of American and British missionaries cut off by the rebel army under Lung Hsingh-pang, who is threatening Foochow. A guarantee of safe conduct through the fighting lines has been given to the consuls by both sides.

BARMAIDS HELD "REAL LADIES"

They Temper Drinking in England, Commission Informed

LONDON, July 18. (AP)—As Councillor Joseph Wilson of Sunderland views the matter there will be no prohibition in England as long as there are barmaids. The barmaid, he told the royal commission on licensing, is a lady and forms a real barrier against prohibition; the Englishman is a decent drinker and traditionally respects woman.

Los Arabes No Abandonan el Domini del Templo

JERUSALEM, Julio 18.—Dice el periódico hebreo "Doar Hayom" que ha sabido que la comisión del muro de los lamentos conferenció largamente con el gran mufti muslime y trató de llegar a un convenio en lo tocante al muro de los lamentos.

Según el periódico, parece que el mufti ha rechazado toda propuesta y dado sin cesar una misma respuesta: "No ha lugar a transacción entre judíos y árabes. El muro pertenece a los musulmanes de todo el mundo, y los árabes de Palestina no quieren judíos en un muro muslímico. Cualquier decisión que contravenga estos principios, tomada por la comisión del muro de los lamentos o por cualquier otra corporación, no será aceptada por los árabes.

El doctor M. Eliash, último orador del lado judío, repitió que los judíos no reclamaban la propiedad del citado muro, y no pedían sino que no fuese alterado su aspecto. Lo que pedían los judíos, dijo, era el libre acceso al muro para orar, y se apoyaban, al pedir ésto, en el artículo número 13 del mandato de Palestina. Repasó las declaraciones de los testigos judíos ante la comisión, que demuestran, entre otras cosas, que los hebreos celebran allí servicios regulares, y que los mahometanos están en un error si creen que los judíos sólo van ante el muro a lamentarse.

Abrahams, de 56 años, viajante de comercio, se dirigió al cuarto de baño del domicilio conyugal, sito en el 701 de la avenida de New Hampshire Sur, y se disparó un tiro en la sien derecha con una pistola automótica. La tragedia ocurrió ayer tarde. Falleció antes de que la policía llegara con él a la Casa de Socorro.

La viuda, loca de dolor, informó a la policía de que su marido llevaba dos años de falta de salud.

"Selevantó intempestivamente del lugar donde estábamos sentados", dijo la señora, "y cuando iba en camino del cuarto de baño, me gritó que en el bolsillo de su americana encontraría yo una carta. Un segundo después, se cerraba la puerta del baño y llegaba una detonación a mis oidos."

Presa de histeria al encontrar el cuerpo inanimado de su marido en el piso del cuarto de baño, la señora Abrahams llamó a los vecinos, quienes, a su vez, llamaron a la policía. En el curso de la averiguación que instruyeron los detectives, se enteraron de que Abrahams había pedido prestada a un amigo la pistola con que se mató, diciéndole que la quería para tirarles a los gatos que se metían a su patio trasero.

Woods Combed for Lost Child

SAN DIEGO, July 18. (AP)—Searching parties, forest rangers, deputy sheriffs and Boy Scouts were combing the vast and thickly wooded area surrounding Cuyamaca Lake, fifty-six miles from San Diego, tonight for Carl Rinehart, 7 years of age, who became lost in the mountain wilderness this morning when he tried to overtake his two older brothers after they had gone on a hike up Cuyamaca Mountain. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rinehart of El Centro.

ALCOHOL BATH PEPS UP FROGS

They Cavort in Tank With Barnacles and Worms

It's All Part of Scientific Test of Stimulant

Result Likened to Effect of Rubdown on Man

COLD SPRING HARBOR (N. Y.) July 18. (AP)—If men respond to alcohol like frogs, barnacles and planaria (worms,) then grain alcohol should be about three times more stimulating as a rub than wood alcohol.

By the same scale of measurement grain alcohol is less stimulating than several of its lesser known brothers, propyl, butyl and amyl, all of them primary alcohols. Propyl is nine times as stimulating as wood, butyl twenty-seven and amyl eighty-one times.

These comparisons come from discovery of a method to measure accurately the chemical stimulation of alcohol and other compounds reported to the biological laboratory here by Dr. W. H. Cole, professor of physiology and biochemistry at Rutgers University. His experiments were upon frogs, barnacles and planaria.

CHEMICAL REACTION

He devised a tank in which they could be kept under a constant flow of pure water along with means of recording normal rates of motion, such as the jumping of the frog.

He tainted the water with various alcohols, obtaining a precise record of the amounts necessary to stimulate the animals into more than normal activity. In addition to showing effects somewhat similar to those of a rubdown, the animals may have been exhibiting also the equivalents of intoxication. Dr. Cole believes his experiments show how chemical stimulation starts in any part of the body touched by alcohol or other compounds.

When contact is made, he believes the alcohol molecules spread about under control of definite forces, instead of scattering haphazardly.

ELECTRICAL FORCE

As the molecules spread, their energies are released. This release may be likened to billions of tiny hammers striking the contact surface. These "blows" set off processes deeper in the tissues, which in turn reach the nerves and so produce the stimulation.

The pattern-forming habit of molecules, called molecular orientation, Dr. Cole says, is governed seemingly by electrical forces. Certain groups of molecules are polar, others nonpolar in an electrical sense, and still others partly polar and partly nonpolar.

Thus some of the stimulating effects of an alcohol rub may be considered as starting from the electrical control of the situation of the molecules. This is one further indication of the electrical foundation of all substance, a fundamental phenomenon that is coming to light in many ways, including some recent Einstein equations.

COLORADO KILLERS PAY LAW'S DEBT

Two Lamar Bank Bandits Hanged for Share in Murder of Four

CANON CITY (Colo.) July 18. (AP)—A double execution tonight threw the debit side of Colorado's ledger of justice back into approximate balance in the Lamar bank hold-up of 1928.

With the hanging of Howard L. Royston and George J. Abshier the State had exacted three lives in payment for the four which were snuffed out by murder in the bank robbery.

The trap was first sprung at 9:40 o'clock. Abshier was the first to go. Royston followed at 10:37 o'clock.

Ralph Fleagle, a third member of the gang, was hanged last week.

They will be awarded the Wilbur C. Whitehead silver cup.

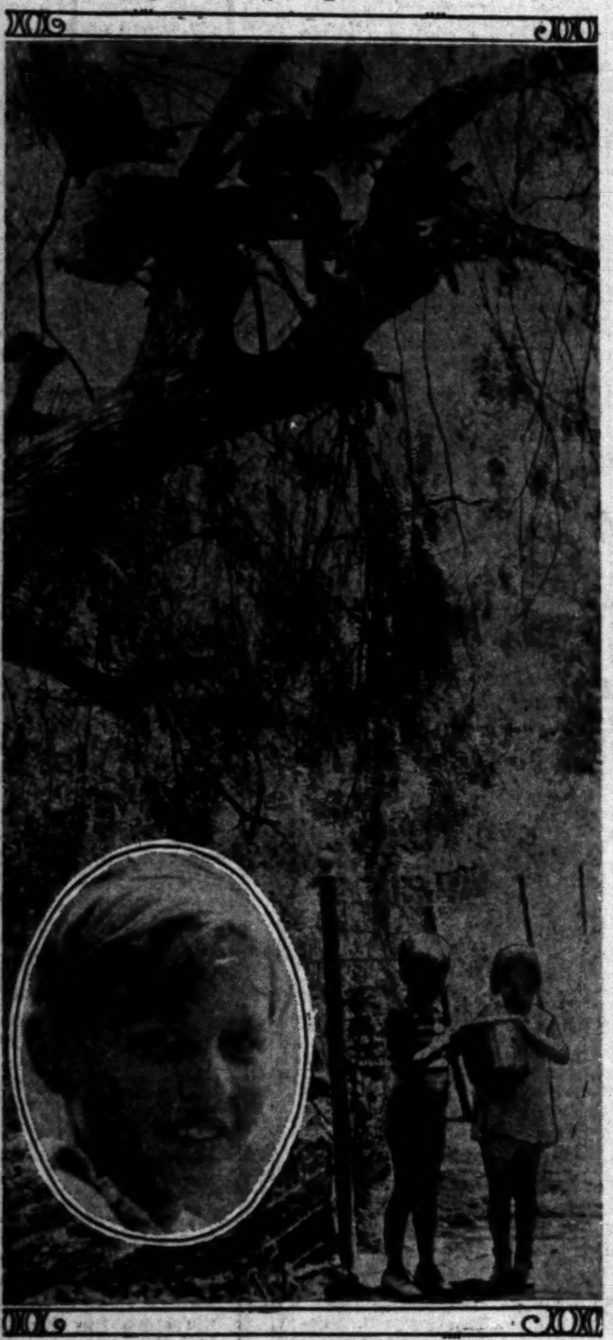
"TREE SITTER" OUT ON A LIMB

He's Going to Stay Up Until He Leaves



Aspirant for Fame and His Aides

Salvador C. Scarpetta and his tree-sitting position with his two "refuelers," Norman S. Speer, Jr., and Evon Scarpetta, at their regular task, and, inset, Salvador himself.

FIRST it was watermelon and pie-eating contests, then airplane flying and flagpole sitting and dancing and talking contests, but now that's all passe. Tree-sitting endurance contests for boys have stepped to the front and made their debut in the Southland.

Salvador C. Scarpetta, Jr., 11 years of age, of 2684 Beechwood Drive, Hollywoodland, is perched in a pepper tree near his home and intends to stay there until all existing endurance records are broken or thereabouts.

A few days ago Salvador read in the papers of "Shipwreck" Kelly's feats in flagpole sitting and of the present endurance sitting in Atlantic City. He at once decided that from then on his racket would be endurance sitting, too. So early Thursday morning he rigged up a perch in the joint of a large pepper tree. He ransacked his home for blankets and pillows and started his great adventure at 9 a.m. sharp, officially timed by his two "refuelers," Evon Scarpetta, 5, his sister, and Norman L. Speer, Jr., 6, a neighbor.

Evon and Norman also act as his contact managers with the press and public. They already have maneuvered the deal of getting one of the neighborhood drug stores to furnish free all the food and drink needed for a successful endurance sit.

Salvador, the son of S. C. Scarpetta, Sr., designer and sculptor, spends his spare hours in the tree drawing pictures and making sketches. He first started to draw when he was 6.

The recent statement of a famous doctor that endurance contests are injurious to boys met with a loud guffaw from Salvador. Yesterday he shouted down to his admirers that he never felt better in his life and that he hopes to stay up for a long, long time.

SEA BREEZE TO VANQUISH HEAT WAVE

High-Pressure Area Over Ocean Brings Relief to Perspiring Southland

Gathering clouds and low fog on the coast last night promised cooler weather.

The local government Weather Bureau last night said a high-pressure area is forming on the ocean with a corresponding low-pressure zone in Arizona, which will result in the resumption of the cooling salt breezes.

Relief from the heat wave was apparent in Los Angeles yesterday with a maximum temperature of 84 deg. at 11:30 a.m. Tempertures in near-by cities yesterday approached normal when cooling winds brought the mercury down. Pomona's maximum yesterday was 91 deg. The highest reading there was on Wednesday, with a mark of 104 deg.

Temperatures in Imperial Valley yesterday, however, remained at the same level as the past few days. The irrigation district thermometer gave a maximum of 106 deg., with other instruments recording as high as 110. The humidity was 19.

The present wave claimed its eighth victim in Imperial Valley Thursday night when Matilda Lagrant, aged 76 years, died at an auto camp in Holtville.

The official forecast in Los Angeles for today is: "Fair today and tomorrow with fog or clouds in the mornings; no change in temperatures."

SEA GUNS WILL PIPE DOWN

Navy Promises to Go Forty Miles Out for Firing So Jarred Home Owners Cry Quits

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, July 18. (Exclusive)—Honorable peace was established today between Uncle Sam's Navy engaged in battle practice and residents complaining their homes have suffered greatly from the unintentional bull's-eyes scored by gunners.

Henceforth when the sea warriors loose their fire they will take a position forty miles offshore.

The residents, not to be outdone in courtesy and conciliation, will make no charge for plastercracked in their homes, crockery that tumbled off the shelves and the nervous strain to which human nerves had been subjected during the practice fray at sea of the bulldogs of the deep.

To Capt. Kalbfus, chief of staff of the battleship divisions of the Battleship Fleet, and Lieutenant-Commander Cary, U.S.N., belong the credit for arranging the peace.

Charles Firthman, 834 Ocean Front, acted for himself and the other residents. Mr. Firthman and other dwellers between Palisades Beach Road and the ocean, had complained that each time the guns of the battle fleet let go vibrations were set up that caused damage to their homes.

The representatives of the Navy visiting Mr. Firthman and others today found they had not exaggerated the effect of the vibrations from the guns on the homes. They added that while Mr. Firthman was wrong in asserting the battle fleet was only twenty miles offshore, and that as a matter of fact the ships were thirty miles at sea, Uncle Sam is willing to do what is right in the matter, and henceforth the bulldogs of the deep will do their barking ten miles farther out.

All concerned thereupon shook hands.

GRAND JURORS DEFEND WOOD

Two Dissent from Report of Hospital Committee

Assign Reasons for High Cost of Maintenance

Shaw Cites Provision for Civil Service Charge

A "supplement" to the report of the hospital committee of the grand jury, signed by the two members of the committee who did not sign the original report presented to the County Board of Supervisors yesterday, was made public shortly after the original report was received by the board and referred to the County Bureau of Efficiency.

It disagrees with the original report, which criticised the management of General Hospital, recommending the dismissal of Supt. Wood. It states, on the contrary, that "there is nothing radically wrong with the management of the Los Angeles County General Hospital" and gives what purports to be reasons why costs per patient are higher than in other cities.

When the first report was delivered to the Board of Supervisors, Supervisor Shaw issued a statement in which he elaborated his expression in The Times yesterday, to the effect that if the grand jury or its committeemen want to get rid of Dr. Wood they should file charges with the County Civil Service Commission and not try to "pass the buck" to the Board of Supervisors.

SHAW STATEMENT

The Supervisor's statement follows:

The grand jury's report which culminates the exhaustive investigation into charges of malpractice and brutality requested by me in February is gratifying inasmuch as it definitely absolves the hospital and its personnel of these allegations.

The helpful suggestions regarding comparative costs of maintaining this hospital and other hospitals in the country is in line with a survey requested by me of the Bureau of Efficiency in October, 1929, which survey is now near completion and has as its objective a plan for more efficient and economical management of the Los Angeles County General Hospital, which appears to be the sole purpose of this grand jury's report.

Although the report is devoid of any information which would reasonably justify at this time the recommendation that "needed reorganization begin with the removal of the superintendent" as set forth by the grand jury, I respectfully call attention to the County Charter which provides in Section 33, Subdivision 13, that charges against a civil service employee such as Dr. Wood, the superintendent, must be brought and proven before the Civil Service Commission. If the exhaustive inquiry made by the grand jury furnished that honorable body with any information justifying such action, it is the duty of that body or such of its members who so desire to file their claims with the Civil Service Commission.

Later in the day, however, Percy V. Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, announced that a detailed survey of conditions at the hospital dealing particularly with charges of mistreatment and neglect of patients will be made in the annual report of the inquisitorial body.

DEFEND SUPERINTENDENT

The supplementary report of the grand jury hospital committee was signed by Lorne D. Middough and H. S. Riser. Mr. Middough was quoted as saying that he was not present in the grand jury room when the original report was returned, or he would have insisted that the supplementary report accompany it.

The report sent the Board of Supervisors yesterday was signed by George Hahn, chairman of the committee, and J. E. Fenton. There are only four members of the committee on public charities and charitable institutions which investigated conditions at the hospital, at the request of Supervisor Shaw.

The Middough and Riser supplementary report dissents from what it terms "drastic recommendation regarding the management," referring to the dismissal of Dr. Wood.

"When the reputation of a man of the ability of Dr. Wood is at stake, we are inclined to give him the benefit of all reasonable doubt," says the communication, addressed to the grand jury. "We are inclined to be constructively sym-

BLUEBLOOD HORSES SHOWN

Thrills and Spills Mark Opening Day of Annual Beverly Hills Tanbark Arena Event

High steppers of the equine smart set donned their best bits and saddles and gathered in the arena at Beverly and Robertson boulevards yesterday afternoon to play the leading roles at the opening performance of the third annual Beverly Hills Horse Show, sponsored by the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce and the Metropolitan Bridle Paths Association.

In a program that included events of interest ranging from the strenuosities of jumping to diminutive Shetland ponies, many names familiar among the show horses of Southern California were included in those that carried off the honors, and the thrills were provided with a few mild spills here and there by way of variety. In the three-gaited Shetland pony class two equestriennes of tender years bit the dust from the backs of animals no more than forty-six inches high, but with true sporting instinct they climbed into their saddles again amid the plaudits of the spectators.

SUPPORT GRATIFYING

Net proceeds of the show will be contributed for the development of bridle paths in and around Los Angeles and officials of the show said that the sale of boxes and the support of the people of the Los Angeles and Beverly communities has been very gratifying this year. There are seating accommodations for approximately 1000 patrons.

Approximately 200 horses from stables throughout Southern California, representing about 400 entries, are quartered on the grounds to take part in the competition for the $5000 in cash prizes for the four performances of the show. The last two are scheduled for 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. today.

LIST OF WINNERS

First, second and third-place winners, respectively, and owners in yesterday afternoon's events are: Novice hunters: Couramba, R. Montalboddi, first; Pal o' Mine, Robert H. Gudgeon Riding School, second; Brandover, Anna McConnell Beckley, third. Three-gaited novice saddle horses: Love Lee Dare, Mrs. Cecilia De Mille Calvin; Royal Actress, Miss Marcoreta Hellman; Top Sargeant, Miss Evelyn Hellman.

Three-gaited Shetland ponies: Blackie Boy, Hugo F. P. De Groot; Cinnamon Bun, Hugo F. P. De Groot; Betty Sue, Elvys Pony Farm. RITES FOR LAMEL BOY TO BE TODAY

Young Climber Who Lost Life on Mt. Whitney Will be Laid to Rest

Final rites for Howard Lamel, adventurous 18-year-old Los Angeles youth who lost his life attempting the ascent of the treacherous slopes of Mt. Whitney, will be conducted today at 3 p.m. at the funeral chapel of Pierce Brothers, 720 West Washington street.

For eleven days searching parties sought trace of the youth on the snow-swept slopes of the mountain until his body was found late Wednesday by Otto Martens, national park trail employee. The boy apparently had fallen 250 feet from a ledge and an examination of the body disclosed that his back and neck had been broken.

Young Lamel was with his father, Edward G. Lamel, and one of his two brothers, when he decided to make the climb of the last 3500 feet of the mountain alone on the east side. Experienced rangers who were called into the search said that the route he attempted has been successfully accomplished only once and that the way is broken with a series of treacherous cliffs and canyons.

In addition to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Lamel, who live at 1125 South Mansfield avenue, he leaves two brothers, Marvin and Arthur.

Burial will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

PAVING CONTRACTS LET

George H. Oswald was awarded two large contracts for improvements yesterday by the Board of Public Works. The jobs, both of which call for permanent paving, gutters, curbs and other improvements, are for Virgil avenue from Sunset Boulevard to Geneva street, $120,347, and for streets in the One Hundred and Seventeenth and Denver-avenue district, $149,368.

COUNCILMAN STILL HOLDS PUSHING-CONTEST CROWN

The nontitle, catch-as-catch-can shoulder-pushing championship of the City Hall was retained in the City Council chamber yesterday by Councilman Lewis, a peppery Welshman, who fended off Sergeant-at-Arms Daniels and continued a vehement address to his colleagues, all at the same time.

The point at issue before the Council, which was somewhat obscured by the encounter, had been advanced by City Health Officer Parrish, who, with Councilman Jacobson presiding in the absence of President Sanborn, was more or less the promoter of the affair.

Dr. Parrish is protesting against technicalities concerned with the June mileage pay roll of $3500, proposed by Councilmen Cooke and Burns of the Finance Committee, which Dr. Parrish terms "a Chinese puzzle." Dr. Parrish says his doctors and nurses will be forced to take to their feet or the street cars during the infantile paralysis flurry, if they can't get the money to operate automobiles.

The Council was about agreed on the matter of releasing the mileage pay roll on motion of Councilman Webster, who continued to talk. Councilman Jacobson called for the vote and sought to shut off Webster. Councilman Williams protested what he termed a gag rule and Lewis swept into the fray. Jacobson ordered Daniels to put Lewis in his seat and the sergeant-at-arms got under steam.

While Jacobson banged his gavel and Councilmen hopped eagerly from their chairs and crowded about, Daniels shoved Lewis and Lewis shoved Daniels, Lewis meanwhile hurling defiance. Among other things, Lewis said: "Sit down and be dignified!"

At length Daniels sat down and Lewis concluded his address. Then the Council voted to release Dr. Parrish's mileage pay roll.

KEATON LEAVES HIS CELL TODAY

Murderer of Flint Will be Taken to Hospital

Alienists to Begin Series of Sanity Tests

Dispute on Shuler Pamphlet Continues Unabated

The question of the sanity of Frank D. Keaton, courtroom slayer of Motley H. Flint, will probably get its first official test today, when Keaton is scheduled to be removed to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital for observation by alienists appointed by Superior Judge McComb.

Public Defender Vercoe and Deputy Public Defender Neeley, who advised Keaton to enter a double plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity when he was arraigned before Judge McComb Thursday morning, yesterday arranged for their client's removal to the General Hospital.

"We believe the man is insane and expect the alienists to so testify when the trial begins August 1," said Neeley yesterday. "For this reason we want the doctors to have as much time to examine him as they wish."

DAILY EXAMINATION

At the hospital, Keaton will probably be examined daily by Dr. Edwin Waite, superintendent of the Norwalk State Hospital for the Insane; Dr. Edson Steele, superintendent of the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital, and Dr. Charles L. Allen, also of the General Hospital, and his reactions to a system of questioning carefully noted.

The Public Defender's office yesterday regarded the revelation that Keaton not only had not lost but had made money in bank stocks as supporting their contention that he is insane.

"The only thing that was ever assigned as a reason for the shooting was Keaton's purported statement that he thought he lost money in bank stock because of Motley Flint," they pointed out. "Now this theory is dissipated and not even a vestige of a motive remains."

MOROSE ATTITUDE

In his cell in the County Jail yesterday, the slayer exhibited a morose and minatory attitude, refusing to answer questions by jailers and newspaper men, and making contradictory statements to prisoners confined in the same cell block. His attitude gave rise to rumors that he was feigning insanity.

While the Public Defender's office was exerting itself in behalf of the prisoners, Chief Trial Deputy District Attorney Beecher announced that he had appointed Dep. Dist.-Attys. W. O. Russell and Willard Burgess to prepare for Keaton's prosecution, and the two deputies immediately began a resume of the evidence. They declared that if they are convinced the slayer is sane they will demand that he pay the death penalty for the shooting of Flint.

SHULER ROW CONTINUES

The controversy that has raged since police announced they found one of Rev. R. P. Shuler's semi-political pamphlets in Keaton's pocket shortly after the murder continued with hardly less heat yesterday.

Statements that the booklet had been "planted" on Keaton by enemies of Shuler, who were since abetted by the police and District Attorney's office, met with prompt denials yesterday.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, who questioned all of the officers who had a hand in searching Keaton, had this to say:

"I took a written statement from every officer involved in the searching of Keaton. These are in my office and are available to any interested person who wants to read them. That is all I have to say."

In the meantime, as it has since the day of the murder, the Shuler pamphlet remained in the official package containing evidence in the Keaton case. With it is the old nickel-plated murder gun, records of stock transactions and other things.

STATEMENT BY STECKEL

Chief of Police Steckel declared yesterday that he did not intend to be involved in any controversy over the inclusion of Shuler's pamphlet, "Julian Thieves," in the list of articles held as evidence against Keaton.

"In the first place," he said,

CITY W.C.T.U. LAUDS FITTS

Five Thousand Members Pledged to Support Him in Republican Gubernatorial Contest

Amid cheers and emphatic expressions of approval of the stand taken by their president, Mrs. Hattie M. Doughty, the accredited representatives of the 5000 members of the Los Angeles City Federation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union yesterday reiterated their recommendation of the candidacy of Buron Fitts for Governor and refused to abide by the action of the organization's State executive board in indorsing the candidacy of Gov. Young.

Mrs. Doughty, who has been active in support of the candidacy of Dist.-Atty. Fitts, received an enthusiastic response when she announced that the city federation, which has approximately one-fourth of the total W.C.T.U. membership of the State, will not recede from its position.

Later, in a statement signed by Mrs. Doughty as president of the federation, and by Mrs. Margaret Phillips, vice-president, and Mrs. Alberta Andrews, treasurer, the assertion was made that local unions of the W.C.T.U. throughout California are working in behalf of the Fitts candidacy and will not be delivered to the Young camp by the State officers, only about half of whom were present when the vote favoring Young was taken.

The statement follows:

"The W.C.T.U. of California is not of one mind on the question of supporting a candidate for Governor in the present election, but in view of the Los Angeles city federation's recommendation of Buron Fitts and the indorsement voted Gov. Young's candidacy by the State executive board, we think all the facts should be known and understood.

"In the first place, the action of the city federation favorable to the candidacy of Mr. Fitts was taken by the unanimous votes of about 200 women representing twenty-eight local unions having a membershop of approximately 5000. The action of the State executive board was not unanimous, was taken by less than fifty women and with not more than half the board members present.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE removal of Public Prosecutor Nix causes the curious to wonder whether Mayor Porter is an official of the city of Los Angeles or of Rev. Bob Shuler's radio station.

WHERE'S THE WIND?

The weather man may be right about it; but he'll have to show me—if he insists that the climate isn't changing—what became of that trade wind that used to come blowing in off the ocean every afternoon at 2 o'clock as regularly as clockwork.

GOSH!

Randall Leonard, the champion speller of California two years ago, is going into training for another bout. He won a gold medal for spelling "prosopopoeia" but the following year failed to spell "vertiginousness."

Just speaking personally, I wouldn't care to know anybody who knew how to spell either word. Even if they do win gold medals and $200 prizes.

JUST GROWLS

Distinguished Senators to the contrary notwithstanding, I would be willing to bet all my chances of being able to spell prosopopoeia that they are wrong about the dangers of war in Europe.

There may be a war coming—in fact, there is quite likely to be one; but it will not be the result of this strutting and hissing on the part of Italy and France.

Wars usually happen over trade routes. If another war comes, it will bust somewhere in the Balkans; or in the Near East. The fury or noise from Italy and France is just steam coming from the safety valve.

A BEAUTIFUL BOOK

One of the most beautiful books that has ever come into my hands has just been issued from the press of the Santa Ana High School under the supervision of its director, Thomas E. Williams.

The name of the book is "Caminos Viejos"—old roads—and it was written by Terry Stephenson, a newspaper man of Santa Ana. It is a charming and sympathetic account of the old roads and old traditions of Orange county.

The edition, I am sorry to say, is limited to 250 copies; but there will have to be another edition. It is a book too beautiful and of matter too interesting and valuable to be in the hands only of collectors.

TOWN TRADITIONS

Many California towns are reducing their picturesque histories to printed pages.

Every old California town has traditions and romances and legends that must not be lost. And the towns are realizing it.

Last year a fascinating history was written about the old mission town of San Juan Bautista—a history colorful with the tales of pioneers in covered wagons, six-horse stages, bandits and the mission padres.

A woman's club of Ventura nailed down the fast-disappearing legends of that place last spring. In that case many of the tales went back to the folklore of the Indians.

BORED

"We quarreled over mining methods," explained old John Apple, 70 years of age, after a duel to death with his aged partner. They were prospecting together—hermits.

They really quarreled—it is a cinch—because they were bored with each other. When Evans and

JURY CONVICTS WIFE-SLAYER

Verdict Recommends Noose for Young Burkhart

Bookkeeper Shot Actress After Drinking Bout

Defendant to Hear Sentence Pronounced Monday

William Henry Burkhart, 22-year-old book-keeper, last night was found guilty of first-degree murder for the shooting of his motion-picture actress wife, Ann McKnight Burkhart. The verdict was returned at 6 p.m. by a jury in Superior Judge McComb's court and recommended that the defendant suffer death.

When the verdict was read Burkhart half rose from his chair, but was shoved back into place by his attorney. In the same instant Helen Deane, Burkhart's niece; seated in the audience, became hysterical and was escorted from the room by bailiffs.

STARES AT JURORS

The defendant appeared stunned by the verdict and stared at the jury continually while Court Clerk Funderburgh polled it.

Judge McComb fixed Monday as the date for pronouncing sentence. Arguments on a motion for a new trial made by defense attorneys also will be heard on that date.

The complaint charged that Burkhart lured his estranged wife to a bungalow at 6742 Franklin avenue on March 24, last, and after both had drunk freely of wine tonic shot her to death when she refused to return to his home.

STATE DEMANDS DEATH

Investigating officers assert that the slaying was discovered when Burkhart called neighbors to aid him in placing her body in his coupe, stating that she had "passed out."

In arguing to the jury, C. J. Orbison and Ralph Paonessa, defense attorneys, contended that Burkhart's mind was so benumbed by liquor and narcotics that he was not capable of premeditating the crime.

Charles V. Kearney, deputy District Attorney who prosecuted the case, argued that Burkhart had threatened his wife's life on several occasions before she was killed. He demanded the death penalty.

ROGERS CASE JURY LOCKED UP FOR NIGHT

The jury that heard the evidence against Glenn A. Rogers(accused of the murder of James Costello, Los Angeles police officer, last night was locked up after four and a half hours of deliberation without a verdict. The case was given to the jury yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, after two full days of argument by defense and prosecution attorneys in Superior Judge Fricke's court.

Rogers is accused of shooting the officer down when Costello and his partner, Elmer Hoffman, stopped him for questioning. The defendant, testifying in his own defense, stated that he fired in self-defense after Hoffman opened fire on him.

ESPEE TRAIN KILLS MAN WALKING TRACKS

The body of a man struck down by a Southern Pacific passenger train under the Dayton-avenue bridge yesterday was last night identified as that of Francisco Jimines, about 48 years of age, of Capistrano Beach. The name and address was found by police on several letters in the man's clothing. Jiminez was walking along the right of way when hit. He apparently was not aware of the approach of the train, police believe. In the cab of the locomotive was Engineer E. H. Seymour, who said he saw the man and blew his whistle.

YOUTH SIGNS UP FOR FAME

Court Passes on New Film Contracts

Lucile Browne, Joan Castle and Frances McCoy

JOAN PEERS

CONTRACTS between young and personable film actresses and huge, impersonal corporations came up for ratification in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday, the actresses being so young that the State of California must approve their legal actions.

There was Miss Joan Peers, 18 years of age, from Chicago, whose father, Frank O. Peers, has for many years managed the Adelphi Theater there. She signed a contract for five years with the Columbia Pictures Corporation.

Rosalind Cassett, 17, and Frances McCoy, 18, of New York, and Lucile Browne, 19, of Memphis, Tenn., signed contracts with the Fox Film Corporation. Miss Cassett changed her name for screen purposes to Joan Castle. The Fox interests were represented by Attorney Vincent G. Hart, staff counselor.

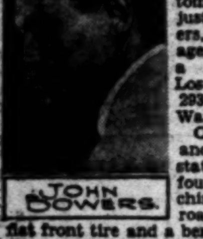
CLIFFORD L. THOMS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Clifford L. Thoms, attorney who served as Deputy District Attorney under Asa Keyes, yesterday was sued by his wife, Mrs. Marion Thoms, for divorce. She asserts that her husband treated her cruelly by telling her his business compelled him to remain away from home but instead he was associating with Miss Lucile Eltinge. The couple were married in 1919 and separated May 13, last.

ACTOR IN TOO MANY ROLES

Bowers—in Wreck at 3 a.m.—Boasts He's Cop, Deputy and Crack-Shot, and Woes Begin

At 3 o'clock in the morning John Bowers, motion-picture actor, was a policeman, a deputy Sheriff, and "one of the best derned shots in the country." Or, so he informed Officers Mead and Hammond, motor patrol officers, when they found him seated in the rear seat of a wrecked automobile at Holly Vista Way and West Knoll Drive with his wife and a guest, according to police report.



JOHN BOWERS

But later yesterday, when he was released on $150 bail and ordered to return at 8 p.m. to Division 13 of the Municipal Court to answer to a charge of being intoxicated in an automobile, he was just John Bowers, 24 years of age, actor, and a resident of Los Angeles at 2936 Montcalm Way.

Officers Mead and Hammond state that they found the machine off the road with one flat front tire and a bent front axle. "Bowers was in the rear seat," they report. "His wife and another woman were in the front seat. When we searched him he had a detective lieutenant's badge, No. 391, and a Los Angeles county deputy Sheriff's badge No. A 18. At that time he would not tell us who he was except that he was a policeman and had been on the force for two years and was one of the best shots in the country."

The officers say they found a revolver on the seat beside the actor. The women were not held.

"KIDDING" BLAMED

Bowers attributes his arrest to the belief that he "kidded" the officers too much.

"I guess when you ask for it you get it," said Bowers yesterday. "I was in a mood to kid the officers, but apparently their mood was not a receptive one. So we all went to the Hollywood police station."

The actor said he does not know for sure the identity of the second woman in the car. His wife, Marguerite De La Motte, screen actress, was driving, he stated. They had attended a party and were driving the second woman home. Her name, he believed, is Le Seuer.

Marguerite De la Motte

"Mrs. Bowers was driving when a left front tire blew out and the car went into a ditch. Unfortunately we were being followed by the motor patrolmen and they didn't want to be kidded."

DETAILS FOR CONVENTION COMPLETED

Thousand Delegates Will Attend Presbyterian Meet Here Next Week

Five hundred official and an equal number of unofficial delegates, representing 449 churches, 858 ministers and 109,000 parishioners, will attend the joint conference of three Presbyterian synods which will start the 24th inst. at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Wilshire Boulevard and Berendo street, and continue its deliberations for a week.

The general committee of 200 in charge of the program completed details last night and heard speeches from civic leaders praising the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for its widespread distribution of literature emphasizing the attractions of this city.

The three synods represented at the conference will be the Presbyterian synod of California, the Presbyterian synod of Arizona and the United Presbyterian synod of California.

Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the famous New York Avenue Presbyterian Church of Washington, D. C., where Lincoln and eight other Presidents worshiped, will replace Rev. Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, the assembly's moderator, who is ill, on the program.

City Goes Day Without Added Paralysis Cases

Evidence that infantile paralysis in Los Angeles is distinctly on the wane was contained in an announcement by Dr. Parrish last night that no additional cases had been reported to the health department in the last twenty-four hours.

The health department considers this a very favorable showing, he added.

To date there have been ninety-two cases of infantile paralysis and seven deaths this month. Eighty-four cases and six deaths were reported last month.

Eight new cases in county health department territory were reported yesterday, making a total of seventy-six since the 1st inst.

"whatever controversy there is as to whether Keaton did or did not have the booklet in his possession when searched at Central Police Station, is being agitated by persons not officially connected with the investigation from the police department. So far in my personal inquiry of the case I have been unable to find any evidence that any of the officers who were present at the search and questioning of Keaton have falsified their statements, as it has been rumored, as to when they first saw the booklet. And from what I have already learned I agree with Chief of Detectives Taylor that it is highly improbable that anyone 'planted' the pamphlet on Keaton, as it has also been rumored.

"I have not concluded my investigation of the affair yet," he added, "but I would say at this time that I see no reason why I should be involved in the controversy. I have issued no official statement as to whether any action will be taken on my part regarding the handling of the booklet by the officers who searched and questioned Keaton other than to say that I intend to conclude the personal inquiry I began Thursday. When I have finished I will then announce whether I have found that any irregularities occurred as was brought to my notice by a member of the District Attorney's staff. I have already stated that my investigation up to this time has failed to reveal any evidence that such was the case."

HUNT LAUNCHED FOR RED LEADER

Frank Waldron Absent as Riot Case Opens

Bail of $500 Forfeited and Arrest Ordered

Imperial County Wants Him for Syndicalism

Frank Waldron, youthful Communist leader, was being sought by police last night following his failure to appear for trial in Municipal Judge Willis's court on charges growing out of the Red demonstration at the Plaza on February 26, last. Waldron's $500 bail was forfeited by the court and the bail on the bench warrant set at $5000 at the request of Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, who told the court the youth has been indicted by an Imperial county grand jury for criminal syndicalism. Leo Gallagher, defense attorney, said that he does not know where Waldron is and offered no objection to the high bail set.

Frank Spector, Carl Sklar and T. Horiuchi, Communists who are serving terms in State prisons for criminal syndicalism, appeared as defendants yesterday along with thirteen others on trial on various offenses ranging from violating the handbill ordinance to inciting a riot. Five other cases were continued until Monday.

The entire day yesterday was taken up with the selection of a jury, which had not been chosen when Judge Willis adjourned court last night. The trial will be resumed Monday.

Bicycle Riders Will Aid Fete at Beach City

Five bicycle riders of the late 90's have been rounded up, it was announced yesterday, to appear in the memorial parade at Santa Monica next Wednesday in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the first pioneers' trek across the plains to California. They are W. S. Furman, Al Muff, Earl LeMoine, Dave Reynolds and A. D. Tompkins. All held titles more than thirty years ago.

Stage coaches, ox teams and ancient automobiles also will be in the line of march to lend a touch of antiquity.

The affair is to be in observance of the departure of pioneers from Fort St. Louis, July 23, 1830, on their historic transcontinental pilgrimage. The ceremonies will conclude with the dedication to pioneer fathers and mothers of a seventy-five-foot marble plaque.

Driver Killed as Own Truck Crushes Head

George Ayer, 41-year-old truck driver, was killed instantly at the harbor yesterday, when his own truck, running away, went over him and crushed his head and chest.

Ayer was outbound from the refinery of the Western Oil and Refining Company, on Wilmington Road, and had momentarily left his machine, with motor running, to report out to the gate watchman, at the top of a sharp incline. While he was so engaged the truck began rolling down hill. Ayer ran to the vehicle and managed to climb aboard but was shaken off and again attempted to get aboard, falling beneath the rear wheels on the second attempt. He was removed to the Wilmington Emergency Hospital, where Dr. L. A. Mangan pronounced him dead.

Ayer leaves a widow, living at 4477 West Sixty-second street, Los Angeles. The body is at the Cleveland and Barker funeral parlors, Wilmington.

Father-in-Law First in Wife's Love, Says Mate

Too much father-in-law figured in the complaint of Wilhelminus Lemmens, who yesterday obtained a divorce from Roelfina Lemmens. Superior Judge Bowron granted the decree. Lemmens complained that when he protested against his wife's father living in their apartment, his wife said her father came first. On another occasion, while they were motoring, Lemmens asserted he suggested that her father go back to his home in Holland, and that Mrs. Lemmens threatened to jump out of the car.

Later, the husband continued, his wife slammed their home door in his face, and told him to stay out as long as he was unwilling to live with her father. The Lemmenses were married in Amsterdam, Holland, on June 4, 1920, and separated in Los Angeles on November 17, 1929. Attorney Mark S. Feller represented Lemmens.

FUNERAL FOR JARVIS WILL BE IN WEE KIRK

Funeral services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. for Van Buren Jarvis at the Wee Kirk of the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Pierce Brothers are in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Jarvis was a broker connected with Lyndol Young & Co. He died Wednesday at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Mr. Jarvis was a graduate of Princeton University, and a past president of the Princeton Club of California, vice-president of the Lyndol Young & Co.; vice-president of Busch Pipe and Supply Company, a member of the California and Los Angeles Country Clubs. He had lived here eleven years. During the World War Mr. Jarvis was an ensign in the Navy. He was 39 years of age and was born in Kansas City, Mo. He leaves his widow, Amy Busch Jarvis, a son Van Buren Jarvis, Jr.; a daughter, Miss Amy Jarvis; a brother, George T. Jarvis, and his mother, Mrs. Walter C. Jarvis.

FLYER WILL TRY TO CUT OWN MARK

Kingsford-Smith Plans New London-to-Australia Flight Record

The next aerial exploit to be attempted by Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith will be an effort to lower his own existing record for a flight between England and Australia, he revealed yesterday as he left on a regular Western Air Express passenger plane for Kansas City. Accompanying him on the trip east were two of his companions in the recent trans-Atlantic flight of the Southern Cross, John Stannage, radio operator, and Capt. J. Patrick Saul, navigator.

The trio expected to stop overnight at Kansas City and to be met there this morning by Lee Schoenhair, pilot of the Goodrich Silvertown plane, and to be flown to New York in that plane. They expect to reach New York tonight. Shortly afterward they will sail for London.

In London Kingsford-Smith will receive a new Avia open biplane, a very fast ship, in which he intends to continue on to Australia alone.

Before leaving here yesterday the famous pilot promised that he will be back in California within a year, "on my honeymoon." The girl is Mary Powell, he stated, and the marriage is slated to take place in September.

Dam Charges Placed Before Grand Jurors

Open charges that certain Los Angeles county officials permitted work to go forward on the proposed San Gabriel Dam knowing that it could never be completed have been placed before the county grand jury, it was disclosed at the District Attorney's office yesterday.

The charges are made by J. H. Levering, a hydraulic engineer, who once sought to sell a patented dam of his own design to the Board of Supervisors.

A special investigation into assertions that the contractors were paid for removing 273,000 yards of earth which never was excavated is being conducted by the grand jury. Within the next fortnight a committee of grand jurors is expected to appoint a group of nationally known engineers to survey the excavation on the abandoned dam site to ascertain just how much earth was removed.

Home for Aged Funds Pledged

Subscriptions totaling $78,000 have been pledged to the emergency building fund of the Hebrew Sheltering Home for Aged, officials announced yesterday. The drive was declared officially closed at a luncheon Tuesday. Marco H. Hellman, chairman, presided, and the speakers were Superior Judge Hollzer and Dr. S. M. Alter. Others present included Aaron Riche, vice-chairman; Mrs. John Kahn, Mrs. J. A. Stodel and I. Irving Lipsitch. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Max Breetwor, assisted by Mrs. Herman I. Pincus.

New Orleans Mayor Visits

Los Angeles Harbor exercises considerable interest to T. Semmes Walmsley, Mayor of New Orleans, who yesterday paid a courtesy call on Mayor Porter. Mayor Walmsley, who has harbor problems of his own, expects to make a thorough investigation of the local port before he returns home.

Mayor Walmsley very courteously expressed admiration of Los Angeles, her climate and achievements but couldn't resist saying that he preferred his own city in the South.

Girl Arrested on Speed Charge

Elizabeth Wright, 15-year-old visitor from St. Louis, disregarded traffic rules on Wilshire Boulevard and drove through the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home grounds at a rate of thirty-one miles an hour instead of the prescribed fifteen, according to a complaint against her in traffic court yesterday.

Judge Valentine transferred the case to Juvenile Court, instructing the girl, who is staying at 2375 Scarff avenue, to report there for trial.

WIFE WINS DIVORCE PLEA

Teaching their 4-year-old son to smoke cigarettes was charged against her husband yesterday by Mrs. Elsie Nichols Curlee in seeking a divorce from William N. Curlee, candy maker. Superior Judge Bishop granted her a decree, together with custody of the boy and $6 a month for his support. Mrs. Curlee admitted her husband's accusation that she threw a cigarette stand and an electric heater at him, explaining she did so when her husband tried to take away her baby.

DIRIGIBLE TEST SITE INSPECTED

Caltech Member Approves Akron Laboratory Base

Transocean Airship Plans to be Perfected There

California Institute Chosen from National Field

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, July 18.—Construction of the lighter-than-air laboratory at Akron, O., which, directed by the California Institute of Technology, will seek to develop dirigibles for transoceanic flights, will be started in the near future, it was stated today by Prof. Franklin Thomas, former City Director and head of the institute's civil engineering department.

Mr. Thomas returned today from an extended eastern trip in the course of which he inspected the laboratory site, attended the annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers at Cleveland and obtained ideas for the design of the $1,200,000 auditorium which Pasadena will erect this winter.

The California Institute's dirigible laboratory, he reported, will be erected on a site overlooking the Akron Municipal Airport and will contain a $7000 wind tunnel similar to that in the airplane laboratory on the institute's campus. A fund of approximately $300,000 recently was provided for construction and operation of the dirigible laboratory by the Guggenheim Fund for Promotion of Aeronautics.

The laboratory will be situated near the $2,000,000 Goodyear-Zeppelin dirigible dock which was designed with the assistance of Mark Serrurier, 1926 Institute graduate. This dock is 1250 feet long, 325 feet wide and 190 feet high, according to Thomas.

The civil engineering authority also inspected the first of two $4,000,000 United States Navy dirigibles, which will be constructed in the Akron dock. Each of these lighter-than-air ships will measure 785 feet in length and will be equipped to carry five airplanes in her hull. The circumference of each gas bag will be 133 feet.

Plans for the dirigible laboratory are being completed by Dr. A. L. Klein and Prof. R. R. Martel of the Institute staff.

The California Institute was selected to supervise research at the laboratory after a score of other institutions had requested the honor.

LAND SALES PROMOTER GUILTY IN MAIL FRAUDS

Samuel Mooes, land promoter, who testified in United States District Judge James's court that he can neither read nor write, although he speaks seven languages, yesterday was convicted by a jury on five counts of using the mails to defraud.

The unusual case came to a close yesterday after the jury had deliberated for two hours, having been hearing testimony for more than two weeks. Mooes was accused of seven counts of using the mails to defraud, but two counts were dismissed on motion of Asst. U. S. Attys. Davis and Redwine. He was found guilty on the other five. He is to appear for sentence Monday, being now at liberty on bail.

According to testimony introduced by the government, Mooes and his associates obtained 24,000 acres of land at 50 cents an acre in Imperial county sixteen miles from the Colorado River and near the Palos Verdes Valley. It was asserted Mooes had represented that the land will benefit from the Boulder Dam, although the land is too high to receive such benefit. The land, it was testified, sold at from $5 to $7 an acre, some twenty persons testifying to that effect. About 2000 persons were sold land in that section by Mooes, it was stated. It was said he had taken up odd sections and that every other odd section is government land, which could have been located by the investors.

AMATEUR PRESS MAKES EDITORS' EARS TING

Editors' ears must have burned yesterday, for members of the United Amateur Press Association of America met in their thirty-fourth annual convention in the Rosslyn. And, naturally, they soon fell to exchanging anecdotes of their dealings with magazine heads.

Many were the pathetic stories of rejected masterpieces. But, the narrators asserted, they are far from downhearted and plan to bombard the editorial sanctums with additional lucubrations in the future.

T. G. Mauritzen, president of the local chapter of the organization, presided. Walter Mellinger delivered an address of welcome to the visiting delegates. A banquet was held last night. The convention will close Sunday with a sightseeing trip. Officers will be elected today.

'FIRE' FIGHT SHOWS NEW TECHNIQUE

Theoretical Blaze on Mulholland High Way "Put Out" by Department

Three powerful engine pumpers, forcing water through 3000 feet of fire hose, were used by a squad of fifty Los Angeles firemen in a forest fire fighting demonstration yesterday afternoon on Mulholland High Way when the fire-fighting corps attacked an imaginary fire supposed to be blazing along one of the firebreaks.

First taking the water from a roadside hydrant, the stream was forced through the hose by the pumpers working at intervals along the line of the hose and in relays. Branching from the hose line fourteen smaller lines were laid through the underbrush.

Officials at the demonstration explained afterward that the method of using the engine pumpers in relays provides sufficient pressure to carry water for any distance and that the most stubborn grass or forest fire can be conquered.

During the demonstration, fifteen members of the City Engineer's office were taken into the air from the Grand Central Air Terminal, where Jack Albers, City Engineer, explained the methods of spotting outbreaks of forest fires from the air.

Chief Scott was the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Air Terminal Cafe last night at which he lectured on the manner in which the Los Angeles department combats fires in the Griffith Park, Santa Monica and Hollywood Hills areas.

SUIT AIMS AT RABBITS IN MARKET

Second Action to Void Store Lease in Alhambra Filed by Woman

Tobacco and roses may be vegetables, and as such may be sold by a grocery store without violating a lease contract, as Superior Judge Hanby recently decided, but live rabbits are quite different, according to the second suit of Mrs. Drusilla Fowler to oust the McDaniel Food Markets, Inc., from a building at Valley Boulevard and Fremont avenue, in Alhambra.

The complaint states that the rabbits are sold in the bakery department of the grocery in violation of the lease. Besides the rabbits, it is asserted that there is offered for sale in the "grocery" soda water, meals, soft drinks, cigarettes and cigars, cordials, wines, near beer, candy, radios and cut flowers.

A previous suit by Mrs. Fowler was dismissed by Superior Judge Hanby, without prejudice, and the second suit, in more explicit detail, followed.

Animal Acts to be Presented at Catholic Picnic

Six animal acts are among the features of the entertainment provided by the Southern California chapter, Knights of Columbus, sponsoring the annual Catholic picnic to be given Sunday at Luna Park, 3800 Mission Road. The picnic is an all-day affair and the gates will be open at 9:30 a.m.

Louis Roth, animal trainer for the park zoo, will present a tiger act. This will be followed by the leopard performance presened by Mlle. Olga Celeste. Next the wrestling lions, presented by Melvin Koontz, and after this a trained horse exhibited in the open arena presented by Mrs. Roth, and finally Mary the chimpanzee, presented by Clarence Koontz.

In addition to the animal show will be musical and dance numbers. On the program will be Manuel Perez, Spanish baritone and character dancer.

Castanien Rites Will be Today

Funeral rites will be conducted at 3 p.m. today at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for William Ira Castanien, 74 years of age, real estate man and civic worker who died Wednesday night at his home, 3335 Verdugo Road.

Mr. Castanien was president of the Santa Monica Boulevard Improvement Association and was one of the men who worked for years in behalf of the Hyperion bridge project. Born in Ohio, Mr. Castanien came to Los Angeles in 1910. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Irene Beesley Castanien, and one daughter, Miss Verna Castanien.

business use of the facilities, proved that the station, which, he said, would be made available to other commercial interests, had proved its worth. One of the company's thirty-two tugs, he said, is equipped for fire fighting and has assisted in quenching blazes in Oakland.

The Wilmington Transportation Company, operating harbor tug boats, besides three vessels in harbor-channel service, also set forth that a shore-to-ship telephone service would be a safeguard to lives and shipping.

Commissioner Sykes will leave Monday for San Francisco to hold radio conferences.

FILM TROUPE RETURNS TO CITY

Scenes Taken in Six Western States

Just Back From Montana

ONE of the longest motion-picture trips since the filming of "Ben Hur" was brought to an end yesterday with the return from Montana of Raoul Walsh, director of "The Big Trail," and a company of ninety-one, engaged for more than three months in making this pioneer story through six western States.

Hundreds of others appearing in the picture had preceded the final group from Montana, site of the last week's work. Centers of operation during the three months were in Arizona, California, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and Montana. Walsh plans to set forth again Monday for Yuma, Ariz., for further scenes. Nearly 20,000 persons, including 1900 Indians, are included in the picture.

The principals returning yesterday included John Wayne, Marguerite Churchill, David Rollins, Tully Marshall and Tyrone Power. Hal G. Evarts, coauthor of the story with Walsh, also returned.

GROVES TO PLEAD FOR PROBATION

Convicted Juror Granted Right to File Application; Hearing on August 4

Permission to file an application for probation was granted John B. Groves, original Julian case juror convicted of accepting a bribe, by Superior Judge Wilson yesterday.

The plea for probation was made by S. S. Hahn, Grove's attorney, after a motion for a new trial had been denied. Groves had been called to court for sentence at the time the motions were made, but the sentence now is automatically deferred until the probation matter is disposed of.

Judge Wilson fixed August 4 as the date for hearing the report of investigating probation officers.

The indictment against Groves charges that he accepted a $5000 bribe from Jacob Berman to vote "not guilty" in the original Julian Petroleum collapse trial.

Sontag, the famous bandits—were hiding in the mountains of Visalia they got on each other's nerves to such an extent that they took a desperate chance and came back to civilization; with the result that they were caught. Had they been able to endure each other through the long snowed-in Sierra winter, it is probable that they would never have been captured.

A German officer in a Russian prison told me that he and his comrades used to have bitter fights because they didn't like each other's table manners or manner of pronouncing words. We can love one another better at a distance.

LAVINE RELEASED ON APPEAL BONDS

pathetic, instead of antagonistically critical."

The supplementary report follows:

Los Angeles, Cal, July 10, 1930
To the Foreman and Members of the 1930 Los Angeles County Grand Jury.

Gentlemen: While the chairman of the hospital committee has submitted a report, one quite lengthy and in most cases very satisfactory, yet there are some details that in our estimation deserve a place in said report. We, therefore, submit the following supplement:

In the first place, we cannot join in the drastic recommendation as regards the management. The figures quoted, tending to show excessive operating costs, do not present a true picture. When the reputation of a man of the ability of Dr. Wood is at stake, we are inclined to give him the benefit of all reasonable doubt; so invite your attention to the following:

(A.) There is nothing radically wrong with the management of the Los Angeles county General Hospital. If it is clothed with sufficient authority to maintain discipline that can reasonably be expected at such an institution, then such authority should be exercised over each and every employee without regard to their importance or standing in the community.

We say, Dr. Wood must establish and maintain a more stringent control over the entire hospital and its personnel. This, gentlemen, is a big job and we are inclined to be constructively sympathetic instead of antagonistically critical.

(B.) In our estimation, there is no real and fair basis of comparison of our General Hospital and those of other counties. As proof of this statement, we invite your attention to the following facts:

(1.) Some counties are allowed a much higher relief appropriation per capita than does Los Angeles county, and the larger the relief the smaller the hospital costs.

(2.) Los Angeles county furnishes to its patients all medicines without cost, whereas most hospitals make a charge for this service and, in some cases, at retail prices.

(3.) Los Angeles County Hospital supplies legs, arms, teeth, to the unfortunates who happen to lose same through an accident or by amputation at the hospital. Most county hospitals do not.

(4.) Another unusual and very worthy service, which deserves commendation is the nerve or "voluntary" clinic for those who are bordering on insanity. This is nothing more or less than a rest or treatment home for citizens who are not serious enough to be sent to an institution for the insane.

Our only suggestion in this regard is, that it be divorced from the hospital itself, to avoid the family embarrassment which usually attends such cases.

Again, and in conclusion, we say that there is nothing radically wrong with the hospital or its management. The mistakes which have been made are no more serious in their nature, and no more frequent, than those occurring in any business of 1800 employees.

SURVEY BEGUN ON BEACH USES

Oil Drilling and Industrial Exploitation Studied

Government Represented in Investigating Party

San Diego-to-San Francisco Shore Line Traversed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, July 18. (Exclusive)—California's problem of beach industrialization, particularly by oil drilling, became today the subject of a survey begun by the American Shore and Beach Preservation Association, which has just concluded a four-day convention at Long Beach.

R. S. Patton, director of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Col. W. Barden of the United States Army Engineering Corps, are members of the association, which will report its findings to Congress as well as make recommendations to the State Legislature.

SURVEY STARTS HERE

Its survey, begun this morning at San Diego, brought the twenty investigators to Venice for luncheon, whence the tour continues by bus along the coast line to Santa Barbara, San Francisco and other points.

The presence of Director Patton and Col. Barden on the inspection is explained by the fact the United States is interested in any problem that may have a bearing on navigation and is interested as well in all problems growing out of the development of lands lying along the coasts, in California or elsewhere.

In the brief pause made by the twenty members of the inspection party this noon at the Volga Boat Cafe it was explained that investigation into oil drilling along the California coast is part of a nation-wide survey being made by the American Beach Preservation Association, which is also studying problems affecting the Atlantic coast.

OFFICIALS PRESENT

J. Spencer Smith of New Jersey, president of the association, was among those who visited Venice today, as were F. E. Wadsworth, president of the California Shore and Beach Preservation Association, and J. R. Hunt, acting in the double capacity of secretary and treasurer of the national association and secretary of the Venice branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

W. W. Newton, chairman of the Venice Beach Preservation Committee, greeted the visitors.

En route to San Francisco the party is to inspect the Elwood oil field and tidelands, it is said. At Santa Barbara the visitors are to stop for dinner and to hear an address by Father Augustine at the Santa Barbara Mission. There will be a meeting at the Santa Barbara Courthouse before the party continues its journey north.

FITTS LAUDED BY CITY W.C.T.U.

of the W.C.T.U. has about one-quarter of the total membership in the State, and the Los Angeles city and county membership combined has more than half the State membership. Many local unions in Los Angeles county and in the State are for Mr. Fitts and are working hard for his election.

"The W.C.T.U. in Southern California, as a whole, in our opinion, will not desert the Southern California candidate for Governor."

YOLO COUNTY WOMEN SCORN YOUNG PLEDGE

WOODLAND, July 18. (Exclusive) Repudiating action taken recently by the State executive board of the northern division, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in indorsing Gov. Young for re-election, Yolo county unit of the W.C.T.U. is on record today as favoring the election of Buron Fitts.

Temperance women of this county in refusing to accept the dictates of the executive board held that the indorsement of the board did not represent the true sentiment of the membership of the various units.

The indorsement of Fitts was unanimous and was given in recognition of his splendid work in enforcing all laws.

JOSEPH SCOTT TO OPEN FITTS'S RADIO DRIVE

The radio phase of Buron Fitts's campaign for Governor will begin next Wednesday evening with Joseph Scott, attorney and Republican leader, going on the air over the Columbia broadcasting chain.

Scott will speak in the first of the ten State-wide broadcasts arranged for the Fitts campaign between now and election day. He will be on the air from 9 to 9:30 p.m, speaking from station KHJ. His address will be rebroadcast over KFRC in San Francisco, KMJ in Fresno, KGB in San Diego, and several local stations.

Scott has stumped the nation on the Republican platform for every President from the time of Taft to the present executive. He has never been a candidate for political office. He is past president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and has served on its board of directors for eleven years. He has practiced law in Southern California since 1894. In his address he will delve deeply in to the problem of State government.

Holding that the recent indorsement by John J. Hayes, State Commander of the Disabled Veterans of the World War, of a candidate other than Fitts, does not represent the sentiment of that organization, Volney P. Mooney, Jr., urged members of the organization to support Fitts. Mooney is the present national judge advocate of the Disabled War Veterans and is past State commander.

"Fitts has consistently served the veterans and I strongly urge every veteran to work for his election," Mooney declared. In discussing the indorsement given by Hayes, Mooney stated that the action is without precedent as no former State commander has ever indorsed a candidate for office while holding the position.

INDIA WANTS PEACE, SAYS VISITOR HERE

Bombay Insurance Official Declares Gandhi Does Not Represent Majority

Mahatma Gandhi does not represent the sentiments of the majority in India, according to Minocher R. E. Bharucha, head of the Empire of India Insurance Company of Bombay.

Bharucha, who is at the Alexandria on a world tour, said that the disturbances in India are the work of extremists, who, he said, have no constructive program for the good of the vast reaches of India.

Most Indian people, he asserted, hope for peace.

The visitor is here with his wife, Aimai M., and his sister, Khorshed P. Bharucha, and Homi Panthakey, a friend of the family. They expressed themselves as delighted with Los Angeles and vicinity. Yesterday they visited Pasadena and the beaches and they look forward expectantly to trips to motion-picture studios today.

From Los Angeles the party will go to Chicago and New York. They expect to be back in Bombay about the first of the year.

NEW DAY HAILED IN MEXICO

Latin America Described as California's Richest Field for Commercial Expansion

Mexico yesterday was described as a land of opportunity for Californians by Dr. C. N. Thomas, former colonizing and industrial agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of Mexico, chief speaker at a meeting of the Rotary Club in the ballroom of the Biltmore.

"Possibly the richest field for commercial expansion is the western part of Mexico and the western part of Latin America," said Dr. Thomas, after directing attention of his listeners to a statement by a foreign-trade expert that Europe will largely take care of commercial trade with Africa and that Japan will largely dominate the manufactured trade of Asia.

Declaring that the distinct sphere for the United States is Mexico and Latin America, Dr. Thomas said it is "right at our door," with California maintaining a distinct advantage over any other rival because of the railroad and steamship connections, ultimately to be augmented by highways and airplanes.

Another factor in the relationship between California and Mexico, he said further, is the undercurrent of cultural kinship that roots in our historic relationship.

Dr. Thomas's subject was "New Forces at Work in Mexico." There are many forces at work, he said, that are wholesome and beginning to usher in a better day.

"I would mention among these distinctly five," he related.

"First, Mexico is developing some very able young men who are showing in their particular realm considerable capacity. This group is rapidly breaking away from Spanish traditions and moorings and is being greatly affected by contact with the United States.

"A second vital and far-reaching force is the extension of their educational program.

"A third factor is the introduction of modern machinery.

"A fourth and very significant force is the contact between the Mexican people and those of our own country, especially through the educational groups.

"In the fifth place is the manner in which the Mexican women are becoming identified with a healthy program of education."

Federal Jurors Name Nineteen in Indictments

Nineteen persons were indicted on various charges yesterday by the Federal grand jury in twelve indictments. Among the true bills were two against Robert Stuart Wilson and Marvin C. Blanchard, each charged in separate indictments with misapplication of bank funds, not amounting to more than $1000.

Everett M. Summers was accused of stealing a letter not belonging to him. His bail was fixed at $2500.

Other charges against other defendants included charges of violating the national prohibition act, the Tariff Act and the Immigration Act. Two secret indictments were returned.

PORT LOAN NEED REDUCED

City by Advancing $500,000 Can Speed Beginning of Breakwater Work Twelve Months

If Los Angeles wishes to expedite work on the projected $7,000,000 breakwater in Los Angeles Harbor by advancing a loan to the War Department it need only to lend the sum of $500,000, in the opinion of Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States district engineer. Moreover, the proposal is legally sound; and, in event the loan is authorized, the War Department will be in the position to repay the sum in 1933.

These views are expressed by Maj. Lanagan in a letter received yesterday by Bert Edwards, general manager of the harbor, and are augmented by reiteration of the engineer's prediction that the loan would speed up the starting date of operations by an entire year.

FUND NOT AVAILABLE

Unless the loan is authorized, it will be impossible for the War Department to put its machinery in motion before the early part of 1932, the initial portion of the $7,000,000 appropriated by Congress not being available until the middle of next year, and the department not being permitted to advertise for bids while without funds to proceed. With this in mind Councilman Henning recently proposed that $700,000 of municipal funds be transferred to the department as a loan. But, in Maj. Lanagan's opinion, the project can be started with the help of $200,000 less than that amount.

ENABLE JANUARY START

With $500,000, Maj. Lanagan points out in his letter to Edwards, the War Department could commence probably next January the job of removing some 1,600,000 cubic yards of hard clay from the triangular shoal south of Reservation Point. It is planned to use this as a base on which to construct the rock breakwater itself. The money also would enable him, he says, to dredge the east basin without awaiting the $300,000 which will become available next July as a harbor operations appropriation for the fiscal year 1931-32.

GERALD FITZGERALD CONFIRMED IN POST

The City Council has confirmed Mayor Porter's appointment of Gerald C. Fitzgerald as a member of the Board of Harbor Commissioners to succeed Emerson Spear, term expired. The new commissioner is a member of an engineering and construction concern and has had wide experience in harbors.

Today's Bible Text

Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.—Phil. ii, 4.

ONE AT A TIME

Anyway, Hollywood waits until the publicity from one fistic battle peters out until it starts another.

PROPAGANDA ABROAD

France had an "American Nations Week" recently. And we thought all along that the good old U. S. A. had a corner on them.

LIMITED VOCABULARIES

Statistician says that ten short words make up 15 per cent of everything that is written. And, we should judge, about 75 per cent of everything that is spoken.

JUST WON'T GROW

New York Communists are kicking because Stalin urges a more vigorous campaign in America. The soil here just won't take the kind of fertilizer that the soviet manufactures.

SAFETY IN NUMBERS

An old saw says there is safety in numbers. This also applies to the license plates on the rear of the cars. Those going up into the highest figures are hardest to be caught by the motor cops.

SEX EQUALITY

Winifred Brown's victory in the English air race over a 750-mile course and from some of the kingdom's most noted men pilots, proves that the air is one method of competition that is not decided by the physical limitations of the entrants.

HEALTHY BODIES

English writer declares that the supremacy of American athletes in competition is due to the fact that our children are not suppressed and, therefore, not bashful before crowds. And, we might add, not bound by so many conventions.

BOOSTING AS AN ART

The supreme Chamber of Commerce optimist could not have done better than the radio announcer at Arlington Park who sweltered in one of the worst torrid waves in Midwest history and painted a word-picture California setting to the Arlington classic won by Gallant Fox.

WHY INTERFERE?

Stalin says that the desire of "capitalists" to subdue the soviet regime by economic blockade or military intervention is balanced by the commercial greed of those who do not want to see the flow of trade dollars retarded. If Mr. Stalin continues his policy of sacrificing production to the effort to sovietize the farmers, neither course will be necessary.

AN INTERNATIONAL PEST

No country ever has made such an international nuisance of itself in a social and commercial way as soviet Russia is doing at present. Many attempts of that group of Red republics to impose its rotten social system upon the people of other countries have been frustrated by South American and European nations as well as by China and Japan. Of late Dictator Stalin seems to have concentrated his Communistic designs upon the United States, which, because of its cosmopolitan character, he deems a fruitful field.

Stalin has ordered the propagandizing of school children in New York City and elsewhere in this country. As the result of a Congressional investigation it has developed that an organization known as the Young Pioneers of America is operating in twenty-one States and sixty-three cities to spread the doctrine of Red Russia. A wealthy, but unthinking, California woman is reported to have been enlisted in "the cause."

A strenuous movement should be commenced by our government to bar this soviet pest, with its Communistic and commercial schemes, out of the country. What the Moscow Reds have been able to do so far against our social and commercial systems has done no great harm, but it is conceivable that if permitted to gain headway it might do great damage. If present laws are not adequate to meet the situation, new and strong legislation should be adopted.

TWO PICTURES OF A DEAD MAN

Two pictures of the late Motley H. Flint, the banker shot and killed from ambush by Frank D. Keaton, realty broker and stock gambler, are today before the public.

One is that supplied by the financier's will leaving the bulk of his large fortune to provide summer outings and Christmas cheer for poor children, to care for aged and poverty-stricken men and women without other means of subsistence and to give fair starts in life for worthy but needy young men and women.

The other is that painted by Rev. R. P. Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, South, in his pamphlet, "Julian Thieves," the pamphlet which, bearing the marks of careful reading, the authorities declare was taken from Keaton's pocket after his arrest and which is now held as evidence by the District Attorney.

In that pamphlet Flint is depicted by Shuler as the intimate associate and co-conspirator of the arch-looters of the public in the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse. After describing S. C. Lewis and Jack Bennett as the principal authors of the gigantic swindle, Shuler wrote: "And Motley Flint was as close to S. C. Lewis and Jack Bennett as triplets in their mother's womb." The Los Angeles banking fraternity of which Flint was a member Shuler described as furnishing an ally for every crooked real estate deal and for every big bootlegger in Southern California and as sharing with crooks the responsibility for the financial debacle following the Julian crash.

The plea of Keaton that he slew Flint because he, Keaton, had lost money on stock of a bank with which Flint was associated and for whose decline in value he blamed the banker, is completely contradicted by the record of his purchases and sales. Instead of losing money on this stock, according to this record, Keaton actually made several thousand dollars. He did lose heavily on other stocks, mostly in the market collapse of last fall.

With that revelation vanishes the last visible reason for the supposition that Keaton was prompted to his murderous act by any real or fancied wrong done him personally by Flint, directly or otherwise. He admits that he did not even know the banker by sight and that, when he armed himself and ambushed Flint in a public place where he had read Flint was to be, he had to have his victim pointed out to him. Whether his mental picture of Flint as something to be destroyed was made from "Julian Thieves" pigments or from some other source as yet undisclosed, it was not his own.

In his radio speech on the subject, Shuler devoted a large part of his discussion to championing the cause of the "poor and oppressed" as against the "rich and powerful"—Keaton, to his mind, typifying the one and Flint the other. He deplored the fact that Keaton "took the law into his own hands" and declared that this "cannot be justified by any good American," at the same time laying great stress upon the contrasting circumstances of slayer and slain. Keaton, he said, had just left his "humble home which he knew will be sold within sixty days from over the heads of his two little children" and went downtown to look for a job. Keaton's own story shows that he has lost a small fortune in stock gambling in the last few years and that, on the morning in question, he armed himself and went downtown to kill Motley Flint, stopping on the way in a stock brokerage house to cover his last unlucky "short sale" with a check for more money than he had in the bank. Flint, Shuler said, was driven downtown from a palace in Flintridge with a fortune in his pocket, as against "one thin dime" in the pocket of his slayer. Keaton's dime was what he had left from his career as a once well-to-do margin speculator; Flint's fortune, of which his ready cash was a part, is disposed of by his will so that its bulk goes to the poor. Shuler dwelt on the fact that Flint had been indicted in the Julian case and declared that the cases were dismissed because he was rich and influential, neglecting to mention that the identical cases of others who were not rich and influential were also dismissed for the same lack of sufficiency. Shuler dramatically declaimed against the "injustices of our times" in what he described as the robbing and victimizing of the downtrodden poor by the rich and predicted, in true Socialistic vein, a revolution within twenty-five years if such conditions go unremedied.

Utterances better calculated to incite the unthinking or based upon a more fictitious hypothesis than Shuler's interpretation of the Flint-Keaton tragedy could scarcely be imgained.

Injustices there are and always will be in any complicated social system such as ours. Failures of the courts and of their officers to mete out exact and even-handed justice there have been and always will will be so long as man-made institutions remain. But, as these injustices and failures exist, so also exists for their orderly correction the social, legal and economic machinery which is an integral part of our democratic form of government. To maintain, as Shuler maintains, that we are living in modern dark ages where injustice and oppression are the rule and equality and freedom of opportunity the accidental exceptions, where we "hang the poor and let the rich go free" is the veriest and cheapest Socialistic claptrap, more worthy of a Plaza soap-box than of the radio pulpit of a modern and enlightened church.

DISORDER IN EGYPT

"What is all this row about in Egypt? Why is England sending battleships there?" These are questions asked by readers of the exciting cables telling of riots and killings in Alexandria and indicating more serious clashes between police and populace.

One need not go as far back as the Pharaohs to learn the reasons for the present disorder and the interest Brittain takes in it, but only to 1798, when Napoleon seized Egypt and was soon afterward ejected by the British. Since that time Britain has exercised a loose sort of protectorate over the country and it has been recognized by France and other nations.

This protectorate was strengthened during the World War by an agreement between Egypt and Britain which terminated in 1922, when Egypt became a sovereign state, with Fuad I as king, the British retaining control of large undetermined interests in the Egyptian Sudan, of which there was to be a future settlement, though this never has been made.

The elevation of Fuad was a great thing for the Egyptians. They found themselves under a representative government, free to exercise suffrage and able to elect a Chamber of Deputies and other officials, though under the constitution two-fifths of the Senators were chosen by the king. The educational system was expanded and other benefits were realized. This was largely the result of an agitation by the Nationalist party, which had rebelled against the control of affairs by England and had rejected a treaty proposed by Lord Allenby which might have continued that control indefinitely.

But the Nationalists still are dissatisfied. They want a greater voice in affairs. They complain that Fuad is too much influenced by London. The extremists of the party urge the abdication of Fuad and the putting of Nahas, their leader, in his place. But Fuad likes his job and is determined to retain it. Agitators in the Nahas interest have caused the rioting and may cause more of it.

It would seem, as Premier MacDonald says, that the present crisis is a purely domestic affair. The Premier has warned the rioters that he will hold them responsible if foreign lives and property are endangered. To back this attitude he is placing Alexandria under the big guns of British battleships.

The affair may prove a teapot tempest or it may result in the ousting of Fuad. In either case England has little to worry about, as she has virtually relinquished all her claims upon Egypt save those relating to her interests in the Sudan and the Suez Canal, and these doubtless could be settled whether Fuad wins or loses.

BRAINS

Comes now a specialist and says that if we feed brains to folks they will be brainier. He does not say that if you feed heart to folks, they will be heartier and if you feed tongue to folks they will be gabbier. But that is the destination of the logic.

Dr. Steinach is trying to track an unknown hormone to its lair and capture it for service. It is one of those elusive yet complex compounds secreted by the thyroid, pituitary and other glands of the human body. After entering the blood they influence every bodily function.

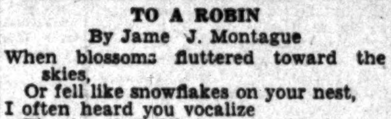
He has been conducting research work with brain extract and finds the results astonishing. Tree frogs were chosen as subjects because of their fly-catching propensities. To function at the full the little institution must be alert, agile, skillful and hungry.

The scientist injected brain hormone into the tree frog and increased its fly-catching ability 300 per cent!

That a frog brain and human brain function the same may require some modification. But if there be even a remote parallel, the possibilities multiply for man. Feeding a Congressman calves' brains is big with potentiality. If the learned doctor succeeds in finding heart hormones, they might be injected into a special session and inspire the Senate to pass the London pact. It may be transmuted into intelligent human beings. Likewise, if Watson be quick enough with the needle, he may save the lives of morons as well as make democracy safe with them on the highway. But it would not be wise to feed a Congressman tongue; he needs no stimulus along that line.

ROSES

The New York Times uses up considerable editorial space in giving minute directions on successful rose culture. Here in California we dismiss the matter with a single sentence: "Stick 'em in."



TO A ROBIN

By Jame J. Montague

When blossoms fluttered toward the skies,
  Or fell like snowflakes on your nest,
I often heard you vocalize
  The joy that filled your ruddy breast.
No troubles or no cares you knew;
  You fancied life was one long spring,
And you had nothing else to do
  But sing.

You sang to cheer your brooding mate;
  You sang in answer to the wren;
Your little heart was in a state
  Of undiluted rapture then.
Your music flowed, a golden stream,
  From break of dawn till day was done;
To you life seemed an endless dream
  Of fun.

But in these early summer weeks
  A family must be supplied,
And half a dozen little beaks
  Seem never to be satisfied.
So while you flutter far and near
  In search of wriggling worms for victuals
You learn that life is not all beer
  And skittles.

And so you sit in silence now
  And gaze across the velvet lawn,
A frown is on your feathered brow
  And from your eyes the light has gone.
A droop is in your weary wing,
  And in your breast there dawns a doubt
That you have anything to sing
  About.

The
LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

CALIFORNIA is known around the world for its oranges. So it may surprise many of you, as it did us, to learn that California's dairy products annually produce just about twice as much revenue as do its orange groves. The annual value of its dairy products is about $150,000,000. The Times Farm and Garden Magazine tomorrow will be a special number devoted to dairying and will contain many statements as surprising as that.

"Queen of the Cow Counties"

Before oranges were much thought of here, Los Angeles was known as the Queen of the Cow Counties. But the scrawny range cattle of those days were not akin to the magnificent herds of sleek cattle which now supply milk to probably the most finicky on earth, a public assaying about ten health faddists to the ton. Some of the finest herds in the world have been built up here. The Adohr stock farms are said to have the largest herd of Guernseys in the world, and one of the finest. The Brant Rancho at Owensmouth has another herd of Guernseys which cannot be excelled for quality. F. R. Bain, president of the Southern Counties Gas Company, has a Jersey herd at Rancho La Lomita, near Palms, which would gladden the eyes of any connoisseur in fine cattle, and Harry Cook of Ontario and D. Eyman Huff of Orange county also have famous Jersey herds. The Los Angeles County Farm at Hondo has as fine a herd of Holsteins as most experts ever saw, as have the Pottenger Sanatorium at Monrovia, Frampton Brothers at Artesia and F. F. Pellissier at Whittier.

And those are only the biggest herds. Many very fine herds of smaller size are owned in this area. The cow census shows 26,400 dairy cows in Los Angeles county and great quantities of milk are brought here daily from adjoining counties, including Merced and Kern. Thirty thousand fine cows could only begin to supply the milk needs of Los Angeles county, but it is doubtful whether half that many are within the borders of any other county in which there is a city of more than 1,000,000 inhabitants. New York City has to get some of its daily milk supply from points in Ohio and even in Canada. Los Angeles is fortunate in being able to get all its milk from comparatively short distances.

Growing Dairy Center

Southern California rapidly has come to the front as dairy country, and it is logical that it should. Not only is the market here, but the climate makes dairying less expensive than in most places. In the great dairying State of Wisconsin, for example, the cold winters make the investments in warm barns necessarily very heavy. Here a good-sized stock farm can be stocked for what you would have to spend for barns alone there.

Until recently California dairymen spent about $3,000,000 a year for replacements for dairy herds. Now the great stock farms are raising their own replacements.

"Father" Platt

There are some outstanding personalities among the men who have built the dairying business in Los Angeles county from a back-yard side line to a great industry. George E. Platt is generally credited with being the "father" of real dairying here. As a youth, Platt peddled the milk of a few cows from door to door. As Los Angeles grew, he grew with it, until his herds grazed over what now are three of the most populous districts of the city. The milk-fed city grew and took in his pastures, but he found others and put bigger herds on them. He organized the old Los Angeles Creamery Company, which two years ago merged with the Golden State Milk Products Company, a State-wide organization of which he is vice-president.

Platt is in his seventieth year and his greatest development has come during the last twenty years. Try that on your out-at-50 friends. But Platt does not look or act like a man of 70. He gets up before 5 and is in his office so early that few of his employees beat him.

A Cow Heroine

Harry H. Cook was the first Southern California breeder to produce a "1000-pound Jersey"—that is, a Jersey which yielded 1000 pounds of butter fat in a year. In honor of that cow, Imperial Isabelle, he has erected a life-size monument at Ontario, which was unveiled last Saturday.

They say it doesn't look like an advertising statue, either. Although, when you come to think of it, when was there ever a statue which wasn't an advertisement?

THE GREAT AMERICAN DOLLAR

BY CHAPIN HALL

The Great American Dollar holds all records for a sustained run. The spotlight is always turned upon it and it is always under critical analysis. It is blamed for almost everything that happens, as well as for much which should happen, but does not. It is the economist's safety valve, through which his technique finds expression; it is the official "goat" for the man on the street and the soap-box orator.

Just now the dollar is in a crisis. Its horoscope is being cast wherever the big medicine men of finance gather and its antecedents are under closest scrutiny.

The current period of depression affords a timely peg upon which to hang another dollar inquest. Where is it going—and why? When will it return from the excursion? What is its comparative standing?

As a matter of fact the dollar, being intrinsic history, is repeating itself. It is doing just what it has done before, and just what it will do again, given a similar set of circumstances. It is in a period of what the experts call "readjustment." When it is over the dollar will be worth a dollar's worth of commodity and the country will be settled snugly in harness for another long, strong pull up Prosperity Hill.

A great war may be compared in physical qualities to an earthquake. It unerringly discloses an economic "fault" and it shakes the financial terrain until the natural adjustment comes about when affairs may proceed on a basis once described as a "return to normalcy."

Our financial structure is so deep and so well laid that it takes years, often, for the disturbance to reach the surface and consummation. That is why only now are we paying the price for the serious disarrangement resulting from a war ended nearly twelve years ago.

This time, however, there will be no panic such as followed a decade or so in the wake of the Civil and the Spanish wars. There is a better "set up." The Federal Reserve banking system is functioning; our tariff wall is more solid, our export trade firmer; the public has a saner outlook.

It is interesting to note the backward trail of the Great American Dollar. From a purchasing minimum of 40 cents which it reached soon after the close of the war it is back to a 60-cent valuation as compared with 1913, and is still climbing, with some indications that it may attain the 100 per cent point within a few years. It is the growing pains we are feeling now, induced by falling commodity prices and the straining of the dollar to adjust itself to them. This can seldom be done rapidly enough to insure smooth sailing. The dollar is not so fluid as potatoes, flour, rice or beans. This condition sets up conflict and economic travail, but it is only symptomatic—not organic.

If history is now repeating itself wholesale prices in the United States will continue irregularly downward at a rate approximating 4 per cent a year, reaching the 1913 level of 100 between 1935 and 1940. Reasoning based upon historical analogy seems to establish a fairly clear case for the proponents of the idea that the present receding trend of commodity prices will not be arrested short of prewar levels.

History does not always repeat itself, but during the last 125 years there have been in the United States three pronounced periods during which wholesale prices have moved sharply upward. In all three cases the rise has preceded and accompanied war conditions. During the period from 1802 to 1814, embracing the War of 1812 and the Napoleonic wars, prices rose 68 per cent. Before and during the Civil War, from 1849 to 1865, prices rose 118 per cent, while prices in 1920 reflected a rise of 239 per cent from the low point established in 1896.

From the price peaks thus established, there have been three corresponding downward swings. After the Napoleonic wars, from 1814 to 1849, prices fell 61 per cent; after the Civil War, from 1865 to 1896, prices fell 65 per cent and to May, 1930, prices had fallen since 1920 by 42 per cent.

The high commodity prices of 1814 and 1865 and thereafter were attended by inflation and while inflation also took place in the United States as a result of the World War, it was gold inflation as distinguished from paper inflation, making the problem of readjustment less difficult. Moreover, the United States is now a creditor nation, whereas it emerged from the previous wars heavily in debt.

It is true that productive capacity appears, for the time being, to have been overdeveloped in some lines, but our credit is well established and payments from foreign countries on interest and principal will have a stabilizing effect. Even in the event that prices continue downward at a moderate rate the situation is not one which need be viewed with alarm. After all wholesale prices have been receding since 1925.

It appears entirely unnecessary that the present decline should bring about financial and industrial stringency. These do not necessarily follow savings in one direction or the other. The panic of 1873 came eight years after the price peak of 1865. That of 1907 occurred when prices were moving upward from the low point of 1896. The important factor is that prices shall be sufficiently stable to permit of normal business intercourse, even though this be a relatively stable rate of decline, provided that other factors change proportionately.

Since the turn of the nineteenth century, the United States has experienced an amazing economic metamorphosis. From an isolated, undeveloped and relatively poor community the country has in a comparatively brief time risen to a foremost position in the family of nations.

The processes of production and distribution have been improved, the media of exchange better adapted to modern uses and, in turn, the standard of living of the average citizen elevated.

Eight-Mile Tunnels

POMONA, July 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In our Times I read of the four tunnels fifty feet wide that are to be dug, two on each side of the river at the Boulder Dam. Am just a common prospector, but wherever I have dug a hole I always calculated first, where I would put the dirt.

As these tunnels are to be eight miles in length there will be quite a bit of "dirt" to take out and it seems to me quite a problem where to put this. I and my wife camped on the ground just above where the dam is to be built and we know the canyon well. Below the proposed site the walls are perpendicular, mostly, to a height of 1500 feet, and to hoist this muck to the rim would be quite an undertaking, but where will they put it on the rim? It would make quite a mountain.

Do you suppose any of the committee that were sent out, ever thought of that small (?) obstacle?

It is so easy to sit in a swivel chair and draw a map of a dam and eliminate the water, but it is easier to draw the dam site than it is to build it. Eight miles of four fifty-foot tunnels, with the rock if thrown in the river, would make a dam that would last 100 years without any cement.

B. D. WHITE.

The Conclusion?

SANTA MONICA, July 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial statements on July 15, re John MacDonald in the Mooney case, lead to an inevitable conclusion. You say of him: "Any value attached to the latest utterances of this confessed perjurer must spring from the assumption that one lie neutralizes another lie, or that two blacks can make a white." Further: "Such a one can be given no credence, going or coming."

The inevitable conclusion is that MacDonald's evidence in the first instance, which led to the conviction of Mooney, should be eliminated, since it came from a man who is shown to be capable of perjury without qualm.

So far are the police of this country behind those of any other country that can be named, in the matter of catching the real culprits in crimes, that their own self-defensive impulse is to get a victim whether they get a culprit or not. And if they happen to have any little matter on a prospective witness, third-degree measures can do much toward making him say what they please. However, when a continent divides them and freedom of action is assured, the presumption should be, that even a born liar would seize such an opportunity to tell the truth, that the rule might be proved by its exception.

Letting 'Em Down Easy

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Talking about what's the matter with the courts, here are some from your paper in one issue: Man convicted on two charges cruelty to animals by tying them up in his garage and pouring ammonia on them. Very difficult to catch cases like that, but in this case fortunately some children saw him. All this cruel man got from Municipal Judge Wood was a suspended sentence! And the judge says: "Conviction of this man may serve as an example to other persons in the community." Yes, inhuman people are scared to death of a suspended sentence, judge!

One hundred and nineteen news-stand owners plead guilty to selling obscene magazines and Municipal Judge Willis suspends sentence. And yet people in this city have been sent to jail merely for making a little home brew—not hard liquor—to drink at home. Publicly corrupting the morals by selling obscene magazines nets a suspended sentence.

A former newspaper reporter convicted of attempting a $75,000 extortion deal. Judge in sentencing him dwells upon his high profession, the trust he held. He was not a weakling, hard pressed and suddenly tempted and fell. He was an intellectual schemer. And so, out of a possible five-year penitentiary term, he gets one year in the county jail. Under what circumstance would Judge Schauer send to the penitentiary anyone convicted of attempting a $75,000 extortion and caught with the money in his jeans?

JUSTICE.

FUNERAL SERVICE TO BE IN CHURCH

Mrs. Magdalena Wolfskill Sabichi

Funeral services for Mrs. Magdelena Wolfskill Sabichi, 84 years of age, life-long resident of Los Angeles, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at St. Vincent's Church, 621 West Adams street, following a brief ceremony at the family residence, 2437 South Figueroa street. A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated by Rev. John M. Lavelle, assisted by Father McCabe and Father Depta. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

A large group of men long identified with the growth of Los Angeles will attend the services as honorary pallbearers. The group will include Joseph Scott, whose name was inadvertently omitted from the list yesterday.

HUSBANDS FILE HEART BALM SUITS

Two Charge Affections of Wives Stolen and Ask $100,000 Each

Two $100,000 heart-balm suits by husbands were filed in Superior Court yesterday.

John E. Blankenbeker of Alhambra sued E. G. Cole, real-estate man of Pasadena, asserting that Cole began a campaign to alienate Mrs. Blankenbeker's affections after they had been married nine years.

Monroe Hummel, insurance man, sued Arthur L. Ferry, who formerly employed Mrs. Marjorie Hummel as his private secretary, charging Ferry later induced her to abandon her husband. Hummel recently sued his wife for divorce, naming Ferry as co-respondent.

WIDENING PLAN ABANDONED

The City Council yesterday voted approval to a resolution introduced by Councilman Webster abandoning the plan to widen Arden Boulevard, between Melrose avenue and Wilshire Boulevard and substituting therefor a diagonal street between Rossmore Boulevard and Arden Boulevard, which has already been ordered.

WIFE SAYS MATE CAN'T MEET BILLS

Woman Obtains Divorce from Policeman, Citing Twelve Repossessed Cars

Twelve cars repossessed in five years was her husband's record, it was asserted yesterday by Mrs. Ethel B. Jones in obtaining a divorce from Lyman B. Jones, a Culver City policeman. She said her husband lost that many automobiles through failure to keep up payments.

The wife further asserted that he failed to pay the rent on one house for nine months and then moved across the street, and that he charged goods for which she had to pay.

Mrs. Jones complained that she trailed her husband to a hotel room where he joined two girls and another man. The wife admits she became so angered that she struck the policeman and that she was ejected from the place.

The Joneses were married October 9, 1919, and separated June 19, last. Superior Judge Falk awarded her $30 each two weeks for the support of her self and children, Ethel, 11 years of age, and Shirley, 7. Attorney Frank B. Lavan appeared for Mrs. Jones.

TRAVELING SALESMAN KILLS SELF

Emanuel G. Abrahams Ends Life With Gun Obtained to Shoot Cats

While his wife sat reading a paper, Emanuel G. Abrahams, 56 years of age, traveling salesman, walked into the bathroom of their home at 701 South New Hampshire avenue and shot himself through the right temple with an automatic pistol yesterday afternoon. He was dead before police got him to the Receiving Hospital.

The widow, stricken with grief, told police her husband had been in ill health for two years.

"He got up suddenly from where we were sitting," she said, "and as he walked into the bathroom called out to me that I would find a letter in his coat pocket. The next instant the door closed and I heard a shot."

Hysterical when she found her husband's body lying on the bathroom floor, Mrs. Abrahams called in neighbors who in turn sent for the police. Detectives learned that Abrahams had borrowed the pistol from a friend to shoot cats in his back yard.

POSTMAN SAYS WIFE "POSED" AS PARENT

Frank Laswell, Culver City postman, was deceived by his wife into believing she gave birth to a child she had merely adopted, he charged at an alimony hearing in Superior Judge Archbald's court yesterday. Mrs. Laswell reaffirmed the child's birth, but extensive cross-examination regarding the child's parentage was ruled out by the court. Laswell testified he had supported the child, and was willing to be a father to it, but that his wife had deserted her home, telling him she could make more money as a hairdresser than her husband could earn. Judge Archbald ordered Laswell to pay his wife $20 a month pending the divorce trial.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

EGRET CHANGES HIS MIND

The bigoted to truth is blind
And so can never change his mind.
—Egret the Heron.

Egret the Great White Heron hardly knew what to make of things. He had been shot by one of those two-legged killers with terrible guns, but had blamed Farmer Brown's boy for it. You see, he thought all of those two-legged creatures were alike. As a matter of fact, Farmer Brown's boy had frightened the hunter away and so had saved Egret's life. Then he had caught Egret and brought him home, where he had made a comfortable pen for him in the barn. But first of all he very carefully examined that wounded wing and put medicine on it to help it heal. He was very gentle about it—very gentle, indeed.

Egret, believing that Farmer Brown's boy was responsible for his pain and fright, struck at him whenever he got the chance and once he narrowly missed one of Farmer Brown's boy's eyes. Farmer Brown's boy was more cautious after that. He went down to the Smiling Pool and got some frogs and minnows to feed Egret. At first Egret would not touch them, but when he thought no one was watching he swallowed one of those minnows. Right then and there he discovered that he was hungry. Two more minnows and a couple of small frogs went down that long white throat. He felt better then. It is curious, but true, that no matter what our troubles are we always feel a little better after a good meal.

Egret began to watch Farmer Brown's boy. He discovered that Farmer Brown's boy was always gentle. He always spoke in a soothing way. Egret began to change his mind.

"This fellow doesn't seem to mean me any harm," thought he. "Perhaps he wasn't the one who caused me all this pain and trouble anyway. I guess I won't try to bite him any more. I won't strike at him unless he gives me some real reason for doing so."

So it happened that almost at once Egret and Farmer Brown's boy became the best of friends. Egret would allow no one else to touch him; but Farmer Brown's boy could do what he pleased with Egret. You see, having changed his mind, Egret went to the other extreme. He actually looked for the coming of Farmer Brown's boy. Perhaps that was because Farmer Brown's boy seldom failed to bring him a fish or a frog or some other tidbit. He would let Farmer Brown's boy examine and dress that injured wing and never once offer to strike.

"That fellow doesn't seem to mean me any harm," thought he

It was a queer life Egret was living. He who had always lived in swamps or marshes, in far places where he seldom saw man, was now living in one of man's own buildings. There was nothing familiar to him. The only water he ever saw was in the pail from which he picked out his fish. Yet Egret wasn't altogether unhappy. He never had to go hungry and he was always safe. There were no enemies for him to fear. When he slept he could sleep in peace.

Sometimes he did long to stand in water and watch for a fish to come within reach. Or to walk with stately steps where the ground was marshy and a frog might leap in front of him any moment. But on the whole he was not unhappy. You see, all the time he knew that wounded wing was useless for flying. He knew that being unable to fly he would have small chance of escaping some hungry enemy were he out in the open. How he understood it, he couldn't have told you; but he did understand that Farmer Brown's boy was trying to help heal that wing. And right down inside he was sure that when that wing was healed Farmer Brown's boy would set him free once more.

So Farmer Brown's Boy and Egret the Great White Heron became the best of friends, and day by day that wounded wing healed.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CREAMED SCALLOPED SALMON WITH NUTS, PEPPERS AND OLIVES

Make a white sauce with butter, flour and milk, take one large can of salmon, drain it of the oil, remove all the skin and bones, and flake it. Add to it one finely chopped green pepper and let it cook in the white sauce, there should be one and a half cupfuls, for ten minutes. Cut up and stone one-half a cupful of ripe olives and add to the sauce with a seasoning of salt and paprika. Remove from the fire and add a half a cupful of chopped walnut meats. Place in individual baking dishes, cover with buttered bread crumbs, set in a pan of hot water, place in the oven until the crumbs are brown.

ALMOND CUP CAKES

Beat to a cream, a half a cupful of butter and beat into it gradually two-thirds of a cupful of sugar. Beat the yolks of two eggs and gradually add them into the mixture. Sift two cupfuls of flour with one-half a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and mix in one cupful of chopped and blanched almonds. Add the dry ingredients to the butter mixture, alternately with one cupful of milk, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the two eggs, and one-half teaspoonful of lemon extract. Two-thirds fill oiled and floured muffin tins and bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven.

SQUASH SOUFFLE, SPANISH

Two pounds of summer squash, one medium sized onion, chopped fine, two chopped pimientos, three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one-fourth of a cupful of fine bread crumbs, salt, and paprika. Cook the squash and onions together until tender, drain and mash, add the butter, bread crumbs and seasonings, beat up the eggs and fold in to the squash mixture. Place in a well-oiled ring mold in the oven, in a pan of water, and bake until done. Turn out on to a hot platter and fill the center with a tomato sauce.

TOMATO SANDWICH

Two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of mild vinegar, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a few grains of cayenne pepper, one cupful of water, two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of dry mustard, one tablespoonful of sugar. Mix the sugar, flour, salt, pepper and mustard together, add the eggs and mix to a paste, then add the butter, water and vinegar. Place in a double boiler and cook until thick. Skin and slice tomatoes very thin, put the slices in the dressing and place on slices of bread that have been spread with creamed butter and mustard. Cover with another slice of bread, press together and wrap in a damp cloth and let stand in a cold place for one hour before serving.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

GREEN CORN

Those who are constantly troubled with constipation will find that green corn is a great help in overcoming this common disorder of civilization. When much corn is eaten the bowels move quite freely because of the large quantity of bulk which remains after digestion, but, nevertheless, passes through so quickly that it does not ferment.

Green corn contains a large amount of soft, pliable cellulose which is digested only partly in the intestines and is even more valuable because of this fact, as it supplies bulk which is stimulating but not irritating.

Green or sweet corn is taken while "in the milk" and in using it we follow the Indians who first taught the white settlers how to eat the corn before it was ripe. The most common Indian method of preparing green corn was to roast it in the ear with the husk on, and they even employed this tender roasted corn as food for their infants.

Green corn contains a larger proportion of mineral salts than either cornmeal or dried field corn, being especially rich in phosphorous and potassum. When still milky it contains about 6 per cent sugar, 5 per cent protein, and 14 per cent starch.

It is quite safe to use green corn at least once a day during the summer, always combining the corn with some of the nonstarchy vegetables, such as asparagus, spinach, string beans, celery or young carrots. Because of the starch contained in the corn it is better to avoid acid fruits at the same meal. The average person may use as many as three or four ears of corn at a meal.

It is not necessary or advisable to cook corn for a long time. Overcooking spoils the delicate tenderness of the young kernels. Drop the husked corn into boiling water and cook for not longer than five minutes.

In boiling the ears it is better to select the ones with husks still on them and do not remove until ready to cook. Choose the green crisp husks, but see that the kernels are plump and well filled, yet tender and milky. The chucks should be left on till the last minute and the corn removed from the water as soon as done. If you prefer the corn roasted, pull back the husk and remove the silks, then replace the husks and twist the ends. Place in the oven until the outer husks are browned.

Another way of cooking green corn is to cut the kernels from the cob and bake in a covered dish. A small amount of milk may be added to make a delicious corn custard. Try mixing finely chopped turnips with the corn and bake in the same manner. Season any of these corn dishes with butter and salt after removing from the fire.

An Ounce of Prevention

When the children arrive at the investigating age, it is time to put matches, scissors, medicines and similar articles out of their reach and to keep them out of their reach until they fully understand the danger of each article and how to handle it.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CHAFING IN SKIN FOLDS DEMANDS CAREFUL ATTENTION

Baby's tender skin is so easily injured that mothers are inclined to look too far afield for the causes of diaper rash and irritation in any skin fold. There may be no more complicated reason for them than just failure to take as good care of baby's skin as its delicacy demands.

Diapers doubtless get whiter and cleaner when strong washing powders are used, but a trace of them in the diaper may be sufficient to literally eat baby's skin away. After the bath, all the skin folds need careful drying and a delicate film of either powder or oil rubbed on, else moisture may result in irritation and the development of sores. The parts of which to be especially careful are the groin folds and back of the tiny ears.

CURATIVE MEASURES

When the buttocks become red and blistered it is an excellent idea to try this procedure: Take off baby's diaper for as many hours of the day as possible, fitting a thick pad well up under his buttocks and hips. Let him lie with legs and buttocks bare and exposed for short periods, through an open window, to air and sun. If a salve is used, one impervious to moisture is the best choice, and zinc oxide ointment is also good. Powders are of little avail when the skin is broken.

Cleanliness, these frequent airings, and the use of diapers once only will help prevent further trouble. Diapers should always be well washed with mild soaps, rinsed thoroughly and dried, if possbile, in the sun. No ironing is necessary.

When ointments are used on the skin they should be cleaned off at least twice daily with warm mineral or olive oil and renewed. Pieces of soft cloth can be used next the skin and prevent soaking the diapers with this salve which is difficult to wash off.

DIET CHANGES

This persistent "diaper rash" may be due to an excessive acidity of either urine or feces and there are ways of rendering these less acid to end the disturbance. Boiling the milk may help. Reducing the quantity of milk temporarily and skimming off some or all of the cream is a beneficial measure. Giving the child more water, more fruit juices, and more vegetables is always to be done, no matter what other changes are made, for both fruit juices and vegetables are alkaline in their reaction (after digestion) and are certain to be helpful.

If these simple dietic and local measures do not result in a rapid cure then the urine should be examined and the doctor's treatment followed carefully.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

On Breezy Nights

When a cool, airy night comes along this summer leave the door of your clothes closet open and let the sweet air get into it. It will take away that stuffy, close smell the closet is so apt to get during the hot weather.

Weighted Down

If your kitchen curtains blow against the screens and are constantly getting soiled, cover a couple of dress weights and slip them into each end of the hem. This will keep them in place and save continual laundering.

Old Stains

To remove tea and coffee stains of long standing, wet the spots with cold water, cover with glycerin and let stand for two or three hours. Wash with cold water and hard soap.

Homemade Shampoo

Melt the small pieces of castile soap with a little water, add a few drops of olive oil and put away in a bottle. You will have an excellent shampoo with practically no expense.

TRICK CHARGED IN PARK BATTLE

Counsel Says Victory No. 2 Really Road Project

Taxpayers Ask Injunction to Stop All Moves

Court Orders Both Sides to Submit Briefs

Assertions that the Victory Park No. 2 project was camouflage to put through a motor highway were made in Superior Judge Tappaan's court by Attorney Ray A. Linn for the taxpayers of the assessment district, who seek a permanent injunction declaring the whole proceedings void. Objections by Deputy City Attorney Babb were sustained by Judge Tappaan, who ordered both sides to submit briefs.

The courtroom was crowded by residents of the assessment district, all eager to testify that April 1, last, when the City Council held a hearing for protests, hundreds of would-be protestants were unable to get into the Council chamber. Objections by Babb that the views of those barred were matters of witnesses' conjecture led to ruling out this line of testimony.

ALL ROOM TAKEN

Frank J. Rogers testified that all standing room was taken and that many who wished to protest could not get into the chamber. Mrs. Mary F. Worth testified similarly. S. A. Jubb, once a member of the Planning Commission, was placed on the witness stand to testify that the Victory Park project is a part of the major traffic plan, but was not allowed to do so on grounds that such view was simply his belief.

"Your Honor, we wish to show that the use of this proposed park is simply camouflage to put through a motor highway," protested Attorney Linn. "The proceedings are for highway purposes." Objections by Babb were sustained.

Other witnesses called before Judge Tappaan ordered the case briefed were Mrs. Nettie Hewitt, City Clerk of South Pasadena, and H. G. McCoy.

NOTICES ATTACHED

Attorney Linn estimates that the park project will cost the taxpayers $860,000, eighty-six parcels along the Arroyo Seco being involved. The protesting residents contend that notice of public work as posted does not describe the work and was insufficient, that because of the new charter going into effect the ordinance of intention never was properly passed, that condemnation action should have been brought in the name of the Department of Parks and that this department never consented to the purchase of Victory Park.

In its legal form, the petitioners, Jessie Ivers and others, are attacking the judgment in the case of the City of Los Angeles against Wilmot and others, the latter being the title of the condemnation proceedings. The protestants seek to have the court enjoin the entire proceedings and declare them void. Until the case is settled city officials are restrained from proceeding with the park work.

BEATING OF TWINS DENIED

Accused of beating his 12-year-old twin sons, David and Preston, with his fists, D. P. McCalin of 5007 Laroda street yesterday appeared before Municipal Judge Northrup. He entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of inflicting cruel and unnecessary punishment on a child and was held under $100 bail to await trial Monday.

Sentence of Mrs. Jennie Papelo, convicted of cruelty to her 8-year-old daughter, was delayed yesterday by Municipal Judge Sheldon until Wednesday at the request of probation officers, who told the court they need more time to investigate the case. Neighbors testified at the trial that the woman beat her daughter because she was born cross-eyed.

BRITISH PLAYWRIGHT BACK IN LOS ANGELES

Frederick Lonsdale, British playwright, returned to Los Angeles last night. He was here once before, staying but a short time. He came at the request of Samuel Goldwyn, motion-picture producer. Lonsdale has completed an original story to serve as Ronald Colman's next picture and came to direct the dialogue. On the same train was Lady Maureen Stanley, daughter-in-law of Lord Derby of English racing fame. Lady Stanley accompanied Lonsdale to act in an advisory capacity for the picture, which deals with society life in England.

PETITION MOVE FAVORED

Permission to circulate an annexation petition covering territory bounded by Ninety-first and Ninety-second streets, May avenue and Compton avenue was granted by the City Council yesterday to a delegation of citizens headed by James J. Tobias.

M.-G.-M. BUYS ZANE GREY NOVEL

Warners Sign Paul Gregory for "Children of Dreams;" Paul Hurst Wins Long Contract With Tiffany; Dorothy Peterson Lead in "Mother's Cry"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

JOHN MACK BROWN

A novel by a popular writer hardly has time to poke its nose into the bookstalls, these days, before it is popped off to the highest bidder for picture purposes.

So, although the prolific Zane Grey's latest book, "The Shepherd of Guadaloupe," has been on the bookstands less than a month, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announces that it owns the property and will put the story into production as soon as a screen adaptation can be made.

The sheep area of the West, rather than the cattle country, provides the background for this tale of a veteran of the World War who goes west to rehabilitate both his body and his fortunes.

It is reported that Johnny Mack Brown probably will play the hero role, but so far no director has been assigned.

PAUL GREGORY WILL PLAY WARNER HERO

It being decided by Warner Brothers and Darryl Zanuck that the choice of an actor to play the hero role in the Romberg-Hammerstein vehicle, "Children of Dreams," was a very ticklish matter, especially as said hero not only must be a good actor but also a singer, the organization naturally has taken its time in selecting said player.

Yesterday, however, it was decided that no one could play the role so well as Paul Gregory, and therefore he was engaged from among a number of well known actors under consideration.

Gregory is under personal contract to Florenze Ziegfeld, the producer having bought the contract from Arthur Hammerstein for a reported price of $25,000.

The actor was formerly on the New York stage, appearing in "The Golden Dawn," "Rose Marie" and "Song of the Flame," in all of which he was featured. He is considered one of the best bets in sound pictures. His first screen work was in United Artists' "Whoopee," with Eddie Cantor.

PAUL HURST SIGNS TIFFANY CONTRACT

PAUL HURST

Such an exceedingly good record has Paul Hurst, character actor and comedian, made for himself of late, his name being mentioned first in many reviews of films in which he appeared, that Tiffany decided not to let him go, according to announcement by Phil Goldstone, chief studio executive. Hurst has therefore been signed on a long-term contract by that organization.

But this is not all. Tiffany is searching around for stories in which to feature the comedian.

Starting life on a California ranch, Hurst has been a cowboy, guide, rodeo rider, stage actor, singer, film stunt man, director of some of the best of the old-time serial thrillers and action features, and lately an actor again.

With Will Rogers, Hurst shares the distinction of being a registered Cherokee Indian, one-half of his blood being of that strain and half of the Seneca strain.

It was his knowledge of the entire West, over which he has driven a car or ridden a horse, that made him invaluable at one time as a director. But now his talents as a comedian have come to the fore again after many years and he is expected by Tiffany to be one of the big leaguers of the screen in the near future.

In "The Barbarian," an all-technicolor special, he will have his first role under the new contract.

First National Signs Leads

JEAN BARY

A splendid cast is being assembled to portray the interesting characters in Helen Grace Carlisle's "Mother's Cry," which First National will produce.

Dorothy Peterson, well-known New York character actress, has been engaged to play the featured mother role in the picture.

Jean Bary, formerly Jean Laverty, who appeared successfully in "The Cock-Eyed World" and other Fox pictures, will have the featured girl role in the production.

Other important and featured members of the cast are Helen Chandler, Pat O'Malley, David Manners, Edward Woods and Evalyn Knapp. Hobart Henley will direct.

Dixie Governors Invited to See Radio Picture

Invitations have been sent to governors of all Dixie States to attend the world premiere Tuesday night at the Orpheum Theater of "Dixiana," new film musical operetta, which stars Everett Marshall and Bebe Daniels.

It is expected that several of the invitations will be accepted, inasmuch as this is the vacation season and it is known that several of those invited are planning to visit the Pacific Coast. Gov. Young will be present, it is reported, and will act for those State officials who are unable to attend.

Seats for the premiere are going rapidly, the management reports, and it is expected that the opening night will be entirely sold out by Monday noon.

"Big House" to Close Run Soon at Criterion

"The Big House" will finish its engagement at the Criterion Theater Wednesday night. It will be followed by the continued run of "Romance," now playing at Loew's State, it is reported.

Both Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer and Fox West Coast officials are gratified at the outstanding patronage marks registered by "The Big House," according to the Criterion management.

In all of the Fox West Coast Theaters in Southern California "The Big House" will be given a launching campaign of unusual proportions, it is said.

Bill Pleases at Million Dollar

The new bill offered this week at the Million Dollar Theater displays a well-directed effort on the part of the management to create an atmosphere of cooling cheer. "True to the Navy," starring Clara Bow, is the featured screen fare, and five diversified attractions are presented on the stage.

Nolly Tate is seen in a series of acrobatic stunts and as an added feature presents three dogs in a number of difficult tricks. Webb, Diaz and Dexter, a trio of collegiates, play a number of melodies on guitars and a young lady dances. A comedy sketch by Frazier and Hammond keeps the bill moving rapidly.

The headline attraction is "The Royal Revue," a company of six musicians and four adagio dancers.

ETHEL ABERILL TO GIVE MUSIC TALK

Wood winds will be demonstrated by Miss Ethel Aberill, member of the Philharmonic Orchestra, as a special feature of the Hollywood Bowl program review, given by Sarah Ellen Barnes, Monday afternoon in Barker Brothers' Auditorium. Miss Aberill will use the oboe and English horn, showing the special musical possibilities of wood wind instruments.

Sarah Ellen Barnes will discuss the program for the entire week of Bowl concerts, illustrating her points with actual excerpts from the scores.

SMITH SURRENDERS

One of America's foremost wanderers, Wallace Smith, has finally capitulated to the charms of California's climate. The noted author and soldier of fortune who has been in a remote part of Alaska with George Archainbaud company, where the exterior scenes for "The Silver Horde" are being filmed, has written to several friends that he is "home sick" for Hollywood and confesses a dislike for further traveling.

GOOD ACTING IN WAR SPY STORY

"Three Faces East" Emerges as Attractive Revival

Von Stroheim and Constance Bennett Efficient

Ceballos Stage Revue Gains Approval of Audience

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

An excellent stage play in its day, and subsequently a very fine silent picture, "Three Faces East" manages in yet another manifestation to be capital entertainment. With Constance Bennett and Erich Von Stroheim in the leading roles, this story of espionage during the war holds engrossing interest in the talking version that is showing at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater.

Roy Del Ruth directed this audible adaptation of a secret-service crisscrossing plot. The screen play was devised by Oliver H. P. Garrett, and Arthur Caesar, using the Anthony Paul Kelly play as a basis. Important in the supporting cast are William Courtenay, Anthony Bushell, Charlotte Walker and others.

You may remember the dealings and double-dealings of the spies in the home of Sir Winston Chamberlain, high official of the British Admiralty—how the wit of a woman was pitted against the craft of a man—how romantic elements were mingled in their daring duel of brains—how each was suspected and carefully avoided detection—and how in a poignant and dramatic climax the inimical identities of the two were revealed, with half melodramatic, half tragic outcome.

Even now, it is perhaps well not to tell too much of the story of "Three Faces East," since a great part of its charm is the item of mystery. But even if the story is known, the new version will be found rich in suspense, because it is both well played and well directed.

I would say that the actual finish is a little harsh—less filled with sentiment than was the silent adaptation—but on the other hand it has logic. One could have asked for more humanness from the woman in the ultimate situation, where her adversary is killed by her. In that one particular respect the silent feature was more human. Incidentally it was more spectacular in its Zeppelin raid on London.

The new "Three Faces East" is particularly masterful in the portrayal of Von Stroheim. Two sequences in the picture—in which he says not a word—are among the cleverest that have been displayed on the talking screen. Both of these episodes, which are worth watching for, occur during his invasion of the heroine's boudoir, first for the purpose of surreptitiously unpacking and investigating her baggage, and second when he assumes to play the servant to her, with a view, of course, of observing her to find out whether she is friend or enemy.

Von Stroheim is ideally cast in this picture, and he convincingly avails himself of a splendid opportunity. His voice, with the very slightest trace of accent, is used capably.

Miss Bennett matches his performance with a high degree of competency. She maintains a certain evasive attitude which is exceedingly well suited to the role. She is not, perhaps, as interesting pictorially as was Jetta Goudal in the silent version, but she shows distinct capability in the portrayal, and brings to the screen a marked individuality. Her frigidity distinguishes her interpretation as very realistic. Courtenay may be nominated as the next in order; remarkably good he is, too, in the role of the spy who occasionally blunders. William Holden, Crauford Kent, William Von Brincken and others augment the appeal of this well-conceived production.

The Larry Ceballos Review incorporates the high lights of the colorful stage show recently presented at Warner Brothers' Hollywood, which remains a highly diverting affair in its special song and dancing numbers. The revue, the first at the theater, was welcomed by the audience.

A short picture, "The Servant Problem," with John T. Murray, Vivian Oakland and Mary Stauber, also is showing.

Amos 'n' Andy Plan to Attend Film Premiere

Amos 'n' Andy, noted blackface comedians who are here to appear in a talking picture for Radio Pictures, will make their first Los Angeles personal appearance at the Orpheum Theater Tuesday night at the world premiere of "Dixiana."

This announcement was made by the Orpheum Theater management following a conference of studio officials who agreed to allow this appearance, despite the fact that the two stars had previously been assured that they would not have to appear in public while on the Pacific Coast.

The premiere of the film operetta, which stars Bebe Daniels with Everett Marshall, will be one of the most brilliant affairs in the history of downtown Los Angeles, according to plans.

Gala Welcome Planned for Noted Player

When the sparkling American comedienne, Ina Claire, makes her bow Monday night at the Belasco Theater as the star of "Rebound," with Robert Williams, she will be greeted by one of the largest audiences ever in attendance at the Belasco, according to the management.

Miss Claire has been away from the Los Angeles stage for some time, and her hundreds of stage and screen friends, as well as her thousands of admirers among the public, plan to give her a joyful welcome. Miss Claire's engagement at the Belasco in the Donald Ogden Stewart comedy hit is to be limited.

The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be presented, with no performance Sundays.

OLSEN AND JOHNSON AGAIN

Indefatigable Pair Given Rousing Welcome on Stage of Hollywood; "Way of All Men" Screened

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Bedlam raged for a full hour on the stage at Warner's Hollywood Theater yesterday afternoon, gradually extending to include the entire audience as well. The occasion was the presence of Olsen and Johnson, two mad mountebanks without the saving grace of cap-and-bells, who literally ripped through a melange of the oldest, wettest and most vulgar burlesque mummery that the local footlights have shone upon in a summer. Presenting—in conjunction with Larry Ceballos—a staccato succession of sixteen sketches, blackouts, dances and musical numbers, Olsen and Johnson's reward was the most tumultuous laughter that I have heard in this playhouse since it was built.

In a column of type I could not hope to convey to you the contents of this "melange of monkey business" which Olsen and Johnson have put forward as swift succor to the hungry cry for flesh-and-blood entertainment in the theater; nor should I try. I know vaguely that whole rounds of ammunition spurted in yellow defiance against the once-silent walls, that gorillas chased fleeing women the length and breadth of the auditorium, that even the actors themselves blushed and their voices wavered at certain of the references they made and that the man in the strait-jacket was still struggling to release himself when, amidst wild cheers, the curtain descended for the last time.

In the interests of true reporting it is, therefore, incumbent upon me to advise you to make all haste to the Warner showplace in Hollywood, unless, like myself, you hold to the quaint theory that the harder a zany works to be funny the less funny he actually is.

But, in either case, the current revue is rich in varied lighting effects, one of which is achieved by a white blaze against a stunning green curtain, with Jack Lester and the company making great shadows upon it; in smart dancing, by a pair known as Lu Anne Meredith and Gordon Smith, a little black boy without any visible name and another called Joey Williams; and in the music played by an augmented orchestra under the direction of Carlton Kelsey and by Cornetist "Red" Pepper in especial.

LLOYD'S FLOOD DRAMA

The feature picture is "The Way of All Men," adapted from "The Sin Flood" of Henning Berger. Remade now by the same director who filmed it in silence several years ago, this Frank Lloyd production for First National has for its central situation the predicament of a group of assorted types caught like rats in a downstairs cafe while the waters of an unleashed Mississippi surge overhead.

A fascinating idea, this. And while it does not seem to me that Lloyd has realized all its inherent possibilities for gripping drama, he has undeniably extracted more than a modicum of effectiveness from it. Particularly is this true of his spectacular scenes, the manner in which he suggests the approaching storm, while pedestrians and vehicles scurry for cover, being the acme of vividness. The overcast skies, the darkening streets, and finally the rush of currents are all before you.

Trapped below stairs are the proprietor, the bartender—this is a pre-prohibition day—two rival financiers, a demented preacher, a wife-stealer, a panhandler, a seedy scientist, a one-time tragedian, a boy, and the girl he forgot. So that here, as you see, is drama ready made.

ALL AWAIT DEATH

With the flood doors tight shut, death by suffocation threatens. "Man that is born of woman lives but a day," intones the preacher; and in their various ways, they prepare to meet their Maker. Almost needless to relate, when the flood subsides and the doors swing open to the welcome sun, they revert to their separate created natures. All, that is, but the boy, sincerely repentant.

In these sequences Lloyd seems to lose a mass psychological detail; he is concerned rather with close-ups of individual reactions, and as a consequence often misses sight of the larger threat to all. It is not a thing you can put your finger on; I only know that when I expected to be fairly lifted from my seat, I was conscious of climaxes that didn't quite come off. And yet they held my attention.

The cast is generally good, with no outstanding portrayal. William Courtenay, Wade Boteler, Ivan Simpson, Henry Kolker, Robert Edeson, Anders Randolf (a good actor, one who will be missed,) Noah Beery, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Dorothy Revier are the principals.

A news reel, a "Loony Tune" and a Sigmund Romberg overture are still other attractions on a generous bill.

SKILLFUL FILM PLAY PRESENTED

Sidney Howard's Dramatic Story Adapted to Screen; Current at California

BY ELENA BOLAND

When the best plays of the generation are remembered "They Knew What They Wanted" will not be forgotten. With a quality of O'Neill constantly present, this Sidney Howard hit has been most ably transferred to the California screen under the title, "A Lady to Love."

There will be always certain limitations attached to play adaptations; limitations of action, continuity and dialogue. Far more than most does this production overcome them, much of the credit for which should go to Victor Seastrom's careful direction. But Sidney Howard himself handled the screen play and in no unskillful fashion.

Enough interest and suspense is built into Howard's play to carry itself, and for that reason a tedium of dialogue, an inescapable evil, becomes not the burden it generally is. For one thing, Howard's dialogue is no time filler, but is progressive and meaningful.

Still hampered by native difficulties of speech and accent, Vilma Banky acquits herself with a thoroughly intelligent and often forceful performance. Her role is a far departure from her former glamorous and romantic appearances. She is seen as a waitress who accepts a husband by mail, thinking from his photograph he is another. Of course she discovers her mistake as soon as she arrives at the vineyard which is to be her home.

The photo is that of Buck, not Tony, her bridegroom-to-be. Robert Ames by his excellent portrayal lends to his wandering soul a sympathetic and very likeable quality. His interpretation is consistently right.

The important part in the play is that of Tony which in the picture is in the hands of Edward G. Robinson. In many ways Robinson's performance is ingenious and moving. But there is a certain monotony about his work which was not expected. Except for the last scene where he pleads with Lena to stay with him and take care of him, Robinson's quieter moments are most appreciated.

There is an emotional power about many of Miss Banky's scenes which comes as a surprise. The faults in her voice, which carries a heavy charm, do not seem to be irremediable. In fact, her voice is admirably suited to those passages which bespeak a strong emotional repression. Her best work was done with Buck in a scene on her wedding night.

Completing the California program are a "Silly Symphony" cartoon comedy and a Vitaphone short entitled "The No-Account" which ends in a novel twist. The players are Russell Hardie, seen here recently in "The Criminal Code," and Josephine Hutchinson.

Bowl Winner to Appear Tonight

One of the two winners of this year's Hollywood Bowl auditions, Marie Mikova, will be presented on tonight's program at the Bowl at the final concert of Conductor Karl Krueger.

TWO SHARE HONORS AT BOWL EVENT

Conductor of Symphony and Richard Crooks Win Plaudits

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Karl Krueger, conductor of the Bowl symphony, and Richard Crooks, tenor, shared honors in the concert last night. They attracted one of the largest crowds of the season so far and the audience was notably warm and enthusiastic.

Clean, clear delineation of the orchestra numbers; overture to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," a Bach Passacaglia and three excerpts from "Die Gotterdammerung" by Wagner, and unusual tonal beauty distinguished the performance.

Mr. Crooks's two groups of songs with encores composed a small tenor recital of importance. It was his first appearance before a Los Angeles audience save for a brief solo part in the production of "The Dream of Gerontius" several years ago. There was no doubt as to his immediate success with his new public for after his last encore had been sung, he was recalled again and again before the audience reluctantly resigned itself.

His is one of the rarely beautiful tenor voices of the age. He uses it with evident delight. During the aria from Rimsky-Korsakoff's "May Night" and the "Flower Song" from Carmen to which he added the Rigoletto Ballade for an encore, there were moments of unforgettable tone. The maturity of his musicianship is yet to be reached. This was unmistakably evident in Handel's "Where e'er You Walk." It was not evenly and precisely balanced as this old classic should be. It lacked finish to the critical ear. Phrases were slurred badly in Liza Lehman's "Ah, Moon of My Delight" and the new La Forge song, beautiful in itself, was not suitable for orchestral accompaniment.

The encore from The Elixir of Love, "Una Lagrima Furtiva" redeemed previous lapses by its sheer beauty of tone and its dramatic intensity. I think Crooks is destined to be one of the great opera singers. Surely he excels in the fine arias.

PHOTOGRAPHY CHIEF FEATURE OF FILM

"Peter the Pirate," Filmed in Germany, Starts Run at Filmarte

There is at the Filmarte this week another specimen of German film craftsmanship. In photographing "Peter the Pirate" the U.F.A. technicians distinguished themselves, but aside from this there is nothing singular about the Arthur Robison feature.

"Peter the Pirate" is a tale of Italy and the sea bandits of the middle centuries. It has been adapted from William Hegeler's novel of the same name. A costume spectacle, it runs completely over to the theatric and to the meaningless display of massed people, which is so often the case with such vehicles.

The site chosen for production, those portions taken outside the studio, lends a vague and compelling beauty to the opening scenes. The pirate castle looms somewhere in a wild sea, and the countryside around is lonely and formidable behind stone cliffs. These vistas are the film's chief worth and promise, which, unfortunately, they do not fulfill. For soon the story settles into studio sets embellished by the entire supply from the wardrobe department.

As the title character, appears Paul Richter, who received more than a little acclaim for his Siegfried. In this he neither matches that performance in appearance nor in opportunity. A fine feeling of freedom and courage he always emanates, but no more.

Rudolf Klein-Rugge, the King Atilla of the Siegfried legend, works hard at the coward leader's role. That he fails to particularly impress is more the fault of direction and the general dissipation of the whole.

Romance enters, as it should, even into this virile plot. Its entire burden is supported by the willing shoulders of Aud Egede Nissen, a young miss whose prowess in the vampire's art is as indefatigable as it is astonishing.

"Peter the Pirate" is often reminiscent of the earliest De Mille splashes, and others. Its importance is not on mood, or rhythm or feeling, but only on the number of incidents which occur, reasonable or no.

"The Lady Killer's Doom" from war times in the Triangle-Keystone studios, presents Dale Fuller and William Franney in one of those chase-me-if-you-can affairs, ending in the inevitable explosion.

Grauman Plans Dance Contest at Late Show

Tonight's midnight matinee of "Hell's Angels" at the Chinese Theater will be featured by another dancing contest on the stage. Introduced by Sid Grauman last week, the novelty of the contest scored so with those attending that he has decided to repeat the feature, according to an announcement.

Grauman is keeping as a surprise the identity of the stars of Hollywood who will be present at the late matinee. The contest will be strictly informal, it is said.

Other special features will be presented together with the showing of the Howard Hughes aerial spectacle and Grauman's prologue.

Glenn Hunter Meets Friends at El Capitan

Friends of Glenn Hunter who have not had the opportunity of seeing him here since he played "Merton of the Movies" five years ago, are visiting El Capitan Theater, where Henry Duffy is presenting him as the star of the Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman drama, "To the Ladies."

Hunter is supported in "To the Ladies" by Lurene Tuttle, William Morris, Alan Bunce and others.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

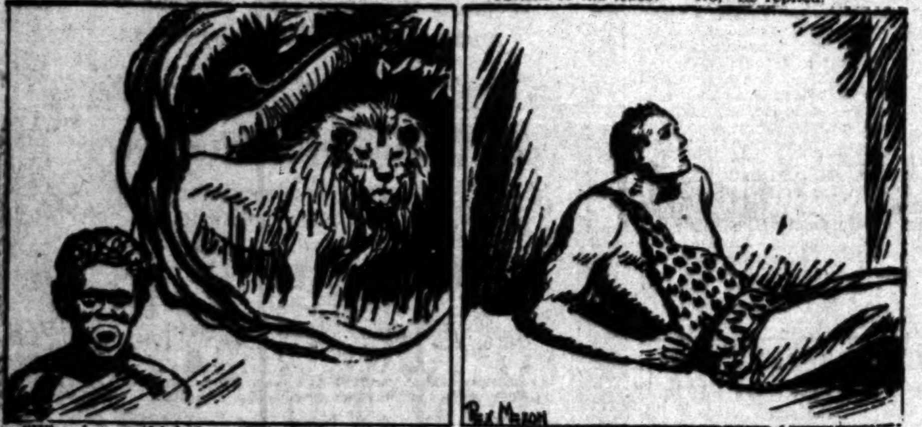
"I am Tarzan of the Apes," said the prisoner. "I have no quarrel with the Bagegos." One of the guardsmen laughed derisively. "That may be your name," he said. "You men of the Lost Tribe have strange names. Perhaps you have no quarrel with the Bagegos, but the Bagegos have a quarrel with you," and still laughing he left the hut, followed by his companion.

The youth Lukedi remained, apparently fascinated by the prisoner at whom he stood staring as he might have stared at a deity. Tarzan reached for the gourd and drank the milk it contained, and never once did Lukedi take his eyes from him. "What is your name?" asked Tarzan. "Lukedi," replied the youth. "And you have never heard of Tarzan of the Apes?" "No," he replied.



"Who do you think I am?" demanded the ape-man. "We know that you belong to the Lost Tribe," said Lukedi, "but you do not wear clothes like the members of the Lost Tribe." "What will they do with me?" Tarzan asked. "There is no doubt that you will be burned alive so your spirit cannot haunt us," said the boy. "We do not want you to come back to us in the form of a snake or a lion."

As darkness settled upon the village, Tarzan stretched himself upon the dirt floor of the hut, going immediately to sleep rather than fretting at impending danger. From childhood he had shared with the beasts, among whom he had been raised, the ability to awaken quickly and in full command of his faculties. He awoke now, immediately conscious that the noise that had aroused him came from the roof.

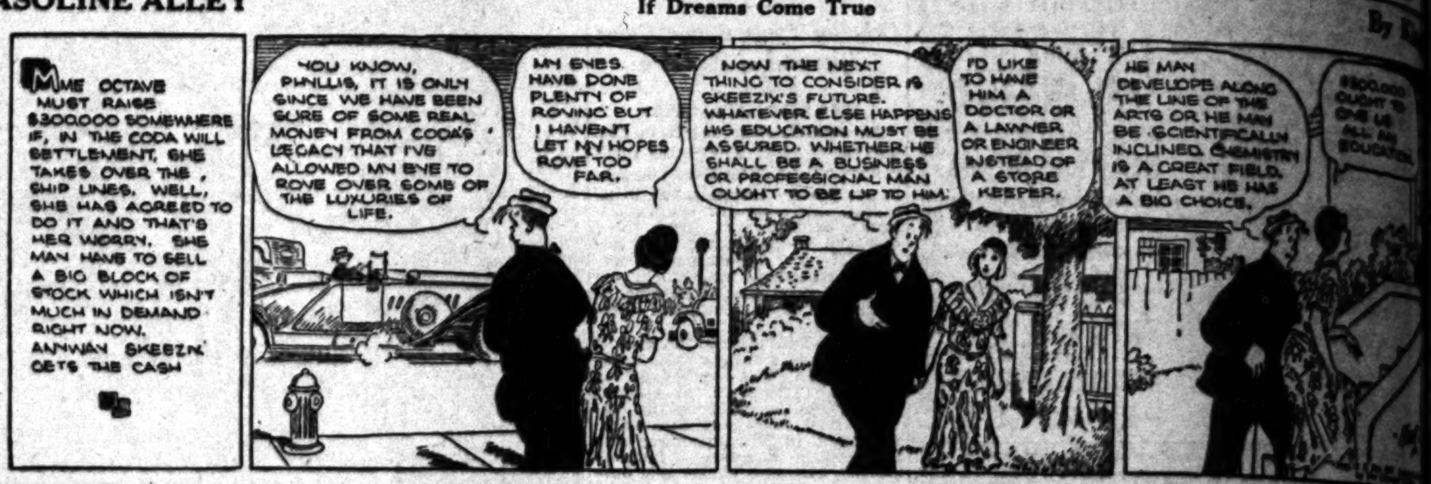
If Dreams Come True



MME OCTAVE MUST RAISE $300,000 SOMEWHERE IF, IN THE CODA WILL SETTLEMENT, SHE TAKES OVER THE SHIP LINES. WELL, SHE HAS AGREED TO DO IT AND THAT'S HER WORRY. SHE MAY HAVE TO SELL A BIG BLOCK OF STOCK WHICH ISN'T MUCH IN DEMAND RIGHT NOW. ANYWAY SKEEZIX GETS THE CASH
YOU KNOW, PHYLLIS, IT IS ONLY SINCE WE HAVE BEEN SURE OF SOME REAL MONEY FROM CODA'S LEGACY THAT I'VE ALLOWED MY EYE TO ROVE OVER SOME OF THE LUXURIES OF LIFE.
MY EYES HAVE DONE PLENTY OF ROVING BUT I HAVEN'T LET MY HOPES ROVE TOO FAR.
NOW THE NEXT THING TO CONSIDER IS SKEEZIX'S FUTURE. WHATEVER ELSE HAPPENS HIS EDUCATION MUST BE ASSURED. WHETHER HE SHALL BE A BUSINESS OR PROFESSIONAL MAN OUGHT TO BE UP TO HIM.
I'D LIKE TO HAVE HIM A DOCTOR OR A LAWYER OR ENGINEER INSTEAD OF A STORE KEEPER.
HE MAY DEVELOPE ALONG THE LINE OF THE ARTS OR HE MAY BE SCIENTIFICALLY INCLINED. CHEMISTRY IS A GREAT FIELD. AT LEAST HE HAS A BIG CHOICE.

SHE TREMBLES WHEN SHE THINKS OF HER PREDICAMENT IF HE REFUSES—
I'M SO SORRY. MR SCOOGE FOR ALL THE BAD LUCK THAT HAS HAPPENED TO YOU— I WANTED TO HELP YOU SO— BUT I WAS POWERLESS— WHAT COULD I DO?
WELL— YOU SEE WHAT YOUR SCHEMES HAVE DONE FOR ME— 40% BAH!
A FINE FIX YOU GOT ME INTO— LOOK AT THAT EYE— KIDNAPED— PUT ON BREAD AND WATER— I LOST EIGHTEEN POUNDS ON THAT DIET— AND THEN CARLOS COMES ALONG— WHERE DID THAT FELLOW STEP IN? IT'S A FINE GAME YOU TWO ARE WORKING— YOU INDUCE ME TO FINANCE THIS CRAZY MATRIMONIAL SCHEME OF YOURS— YOU SIGN A PAPER AGREEING TO PAY BACK WHAT MONEY I LOANED YOU AT 40% INTEREST— THEN YOU GET HIM AND HIS BAND OF CUT-THROATS TO KIDNAP ME AND FORCE THE PAPER FROM ME— MY ONLY SECURITY— IT'S A GREAT RACKET—
OH- MR. SCOOGE- IT IS NOT SO— THIS CARLOS IS A TERRIBLE CREATURE— HE HAS THREATENED ME— AND WILL HOLD THAT PAPER OVER MY HEAD WHEN I AM MARRIED— IF I DO NOT GIVE HIM MONEY WHEN HE ASKS IT— HE WILL SHOW IT TO BIM GUMP— OH- WHAT SHALL I DO?
WHAT SHALL YOU DO? I'LL TELL YOU THE ONLY WAY OUT OF IT—
MARRY ME—

GRAHAM'S ASHES SPREAD ALONG AIR-MAIL ROUTE

Maurice Graham rode through the skies for the last time last night with the regular run of the Los Angeles-Salt Lake City air mail, and the pilot of the mail ship, Fred W. Kelly, was given the sad task of scattering the ashes of the dead pilot along the route that Graham flew as a mail pilot until he met his death last January.

Funeral services for the ill-fated aviator were conducted yesterday at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, in Glendale, while airplanes droned overhead. The squadron of planes was from the Western Air Express and the pilots were friends of Maurice Graham, who had flown with him over mountains and through storms.

Other pilot friends of Graham were his pallbearers and a large section of the little church was reserved for aviators. Scores of floral tributes were banked over the casket of the dead aviator.

The funeral services and consignment to the winds of the ashes of Graham brought an end to the dramatic chapter of his plane crash and death in the Utah wilds, ending a career of 197,000 miles of uninterrupted flight.

The scattering of the ashes over the air-mail trail from this city to Salt Lake City was done in accordance with the wish of the widow.

Fiesta Planned For Birthday of Los Angeles

Plans for a fiesta, celebrating the 149th anniversary of the founding of Los Angeles next September 4, were proposed to the City Council yesterday by Mrs. Christine Sterling, who has brought to fulfillment the Paseo de Los Angeles.

The celebration, she says, will continue for two days and the cooperation of downtown business men has been obtained. She asks for a parade permit for Broadway and Spring street the afternoon of September 5. The parade will include singers and ox carts, along the line of similar fiestas of former days. Her application was referred to the Police and Fire Committee.

Course Owners Join Forces

When the matter of regulatory measures for miniature golf courses comes before the City Council next Wednesday, proprietors of the latest fad in night life will present an organized front.

The California Miniature Golfing Association has been formed and E. A. Adams has been elected president and H. L. Cooper, secretary, according to announcement made yesterday. Adams, who is an attorney, will also represent the organization as counsel.

ARCHITECTS HONOR MEMORY OF SMITH

A combined meeting of the Southern California and Santa Barbara chapters of the American Institute of Architects was held last night in the architects' building material exhibit at Fifth and Figueroa streets. The meeting was in memory of the late George Washington Smith, Santa Barbara architect, and was attended by sixty-five architects of Southern California. Henry Eichheim, composer and friend of Mr. Smith, spoke in appreciation of his achievements. Harold C. Chambers, president of the Southern California chapter, presided.

POLICE AND FIREMEN TO FROLIC TOMORROW

Unsung heroes who have "done their bit" in Los Angeles' service will be in evidence at the Veteran Police and Firemen's picnic tomorrow in Sycamore Grove Park. The committee in charge yesterday issued a special invitation to all retired policemen and firemen, as well as visitors who formerly were in either police or fire service to attend and to bring their families. The Firemen's Band of Los Angeles will play and coffee will be supplied. There will be an interesting program.

BERMAN'S HEARING DRAGS ON

Only One Witness Heard for State With Six More to be Called Next Week

With six witnesses remaining to be called next week the prosecution of Jacob Berman, business associate of S. C. Lewis, president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, dragged through a dull and uneventful day in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday.

Fred Packard, a stock transfer clerk of the Julian Corporation, was the only witness to testify and the rest of the day went to the reading of a deposition given by Berman months ago in a civil action. The deposition, according to the prosecution, discloses how Berman operated the stock department of the company.

According to prosecution counsel their side of the case should be in the records by the middle of next week and the defense probably will require at least another week. Judge Schauer is hearing the case without a jury.

Berman, who was returned to this city from the Federal prison at McNeil Island, where he is serving a sentence for having used the mails to defraud, has been a witness in a number of felony cases all growing out of the Julian crash in 1927. Now he is on trial charged with forgery and embezzlement also growing out of the operations of the Julian corporation.

Janitor Beats Drinking Fine by Killing Self

Luke Cavanaugh, 47 years of age, was to have appeared in Night Court last night.

"I'll be back with the $10 to pay my fine, and I promise to quit drinking," he had told Municipal Judge Miller on Thursday night following conviction on the charge of intoxication.

Judge Miller knew the man well. He'd been in court on the same charge before—a futile little man who worked as a janitor at [illegible] South Normandie avenue.

But Cavanaugh didn't appear in court. In a laborious hand he'd written the explanation and the note was found beside his body in the small apartment at the Normandie address where he lived:

"I give up. I turned on the gas but it wasn't fast enough. So I took some poison."

Helen H. Rengstorff

For one scar on her cheek $102,800 is asked by Helen H. Rengstorff in a suit against the Yellow Cab Company and Paul Pruitt, taxicab chauffeur. Miss Rengstorff is a cousin of County Counsel Mattoon and is an office worker. She asserts her chances of marriage will be impaired greatly by the fact that one cheek was scarred in an automobile accident at Wilshire Boulevard and New Hampshire avenue last year.

She asserts that the car in which she was riding collided with a taxicab driven by Pruitt. Attorney Theodore C. McKenna represents her. The taxicab company and Pruitt contend that Miss Rengstorff and the driver of her car were to blame for the accident.
